PULVERIZE THE RUM POWER.

Charles Fisher, of Oshkosh, while under the influence of drink, yesterday shot and killed his wife and seriously injured one of his daughters. Change the name of the man and the locality, and one can scarcely pick up a daily paper without finding an article like or very similar to the above, only aggravated in many instances, with more deaths and injuries. Crazed by drink, that is the reason given, and the name of the unhappy wretch appears in headlines in the papers, with his picture on the front page. Why not place alongside the name of the murderer in glaring red type, the name also of the brand of liquor that caused the insane act? Why not put side by side with the picture of the murderer or homicide, that of the ax-wielder where the brain destroying potion was bought, and of the man who made it. So common, indeed, are these occurrences, that they scarcely create a ripple except in their immediate locality, unless accompanied with details of unusual atrocity and horror. Is it any wonder that press and public are joining in the universal demand to "pulverize the rum power"?

THE NEW YORK MUDDLE.

From a careful and unprejudiced analysis of the evidence this far introduced in the impeachment trial of Governor Sulzer, of New York, and a positive knowledge that a mass of the same is still to come forward next week, it would appear that Mr. Sulzer has very slender chances of relieving himself of the charges on which the impeachment is asked. Even though he had not the vindictiveness and animosity of the Tammany ring to overcome the evidence this far produced, would seem to warrant the pressing of the case by all the social and political organizations that are now, and have been striving for better and purer politics. That the acts of the accused executive have been such as brand him as belonging to the class of politicians who cannot resist the temptation of personal gain, made possible by their candidity and election to some high and responsible office, is apparent from the testimony this far developed, and there is apparently but little chance for any other outcome of the trial, but that the charges will be sustained, and he will be deposed from the office to which he was elected less than one year ago, with expressions of congratulations from all parts of the country, and from the best ranks of citizens.

PROPERLY ADDRESSED LETTERS

Our Uncle Sammy evidently thinks that his nephews and nieces need a little instruction in letter writing, and in preparing to give them some lessons, especially as to the best and proper manner of putting the address on the outside of the envelope. The postoffice department is sending out for distribution through the mail carriers and schools, many thousands of cards, with a correct form for letter address on it. They hope by this means to educate the writing public, so there will not be the necessity of having to send so

At the request of many of the Roseburg citizens I herewith announce myself a candidate for city recorder at the coming city election, October 6. I am, L. E. MILLEDGE.

LAST ENGAGEMENT OF SEATSA.

The crowds have been so large this week at the Majestic theatre, to see Mme. Pearl Tanley, the actress, that Manager Lacey has decided to cut the prices for tonight to 15c. Mme. Tanley is the most expensive feature ever booked here for a vaudeville theatre, and in order to meet expenses the prices were placed at 20c. Yesterday hundreds of ladies attended her special ladies matinee and Manager Lacey decided that inasmuch as the attendance has been large enough to meet expenses, he is perfectly satisfied, and therefore has lowered the price of admission. Mr. Lacey stated that just as he sees the people want the bigger features he will be on the look out for them at all times, and is willing to pay salaries for such acts as long as he can make both ends meet. He is at present negotiating with the Pantheatre circuit to put in one act whenever possible while the acts are jumping from Portland to San Francisco in which they lose a week in travel. Mme. Tanley leaves tonight for Portland; from there she goes back east to straighten up her business affairs, after which she will settle on her fruit farm at Dover, during the next year.

FREE DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURES

Ladies of Roseburg to Have Opportunity to Hear Mrs. Nevada Briggs, Lecture-Demonstrator, at A. J. Lillburn & Sons Furniture Store BEGINNING MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 29th, 1913

Beginning Monday, September 29 at 2:30 p. m., Mrs. Nevada Briggs, a well known domestic science expert, will give free of charge to the ladies of Roseburg a full course of domestic science lectures and practical baking tests. Mrs. Briggs has a national reputation as a lecturer-demonstrator and gives her audiences the scientific as well as the practical methods of home cooking and baking. She shows how scientific principles may be applied in every line of cooking, thereby getting more wholesome and more economical foods, saving both time and material. Mrs. Briggs says: "Poets may be born, and probably an occasional cook, but the best cooks are made by actually applying rules that bring perfect results. Any one who will apply scientific principles correctly can become proficient in the art of cooking, for cooking is an art, an art that is worthy the attention of the most intelligent and cultivated women of the land, an art that is fast advancing and getting the attention that it so richly deserves. If we but stop and consider that the warp and woof of our muscular and nervous systems are woven out of the food we eat, it is easy to understand why this way of better, purer and better body-building foods is universal, and that our American women are leading in every step to the end. In all schools today domestic economics is given the same attention as all other branches of learning."

The free lectures will be conducted at the A. J. Lillburn & Sons Furniture Store, where a completely equipped lecture room has been provided. Plenty of comfortable seats have been placed where all may see the work done by Mrs. Briggs. Every recipe, from the selecting of the materials to the serving of the same, is in plain view of every one, each little detail of mixing, baking, etc., is explained thoroughly. Every lecture and demonstration will be complete in itself, yet every one will be entirely different. Ladies can arrange to attend one or all and derive benefit from same. The lectures will begin promptly at 2:30 each afternoon and continue until 4:30. During this time four and five recipes will be made, baked and served and all necessary instructions for making them will be given. Ladies should bring a pencil for taking notes and a fork for sampling foods. Program for the week:

MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY
Chocolate Cake	White Cake	Lady Baltimore Cake
Biscuits	Gold Cake	Beef Roll with brown gravy
Nut Bread	Marble Pudding	Dixie Biscuits
Peach Short Cake	Peanut Cookies
