CITY NEWS

William Moore, the Deer Creek farmer, spent the day in Roseburg attending the public market.

Southern Pacific Fireman McMillan left for Portland last evening where he has business matters needing his attention.

T. A. Raffety has returned from Grants Pass where he had charge of the poultry department at the Josephine county fair recently held there. Mr. Raffety says the fair was much better than had been anticipated.

The public market building on Main street was occupied for the first time today. As on past occasions, farmers were well represented and their stocks included all the fresh and crisp products of the farm. A large number of consumers were on hand at an early hour, and at noon practically everything had been sold. While not as large as desired, the buildings, occupied by the farmers will answer the purpose until next spring, when a larger and more convenient structure will be erected. A feature of today's market was watermelons, which sold at the low price of five cents each.

Mrs. Otto Weaver, of Riddle, was a visitor in Roseburg for a few hours today.

Rev. C. W. Baker returned here last evening after a day spent at Drain.

Rev. D. T. Somerfield, of Portland, arrived here last evening to spend a few days visiting with his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Fisher.

County Judge Dexter Rice, Commissioner Jefferson Wiley and Harry Plakston and County Engineer Gernond spent yesterday at Pass Creek Canyon, where they inspected the road now in course of construction there. According to Mr. Wiley the work on the road is progressing rapidly and will probably be completed within two weeks. The grading is done, and all that remains is the surfacing. The road has an excellent foundation, while the drainage is all that could be expected. The road is being surfaced with crushed rock, and when completed it will be one of the finest highways in this section of the state. Mr. Wiley says Mr. Fitzgerald, in charge of the work is an exceptional road builder, and is getting value received for every dollar expended.

S. D. Willis has filed a suit for divorce in the circuit court for Douglas county against Gloria Willis. The couple were married in Lane county in the year 1901 and later moved to the state of Washington. While residing in the latter state the plaintiff alleges that the defendant deserted him without provocation, and has since refused to return. A decree is all that is asked in the complaint. Attorney J. C. Fullerton represents the plaintiff.

W. C. Swank, of the Roseburg Feed & Fuel Company, returned here last night after spending the past few weeks visiting with his brother in Montana. Mr. Swank says that northwestern Montana is a great stock country and that this year this industry had a splendid growth. The climate, however, Mr. Swank says, is not to be compared with that of the Umpqua Valley. There they have severe wind storms which sweep in from the north and bring cold and distress with them.

Miss Grace Boyle, of Canyonville, left this week for Coles Valley, where she will teach a term of school, beginning Monday.—Riddle Tribune.

R. E. Smith, of the Douglas County Abstract Company leaves for Salem Monday, where he will attend the state fair.

Stearns & Chenoweth have filed a motion in the circuit court asking that the case recently filed by them against J. M. Eagle be dismissed.
