Sat's From Foreign Land Bound For New York—International Balloon Race Called in France Today.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 11.—Over seven hundred advertising men from Rochester, Buffalo and Detroit were in Cleveland today to attend the "adffest" reunion of the four cities named. An elaborate program has been arranged for the visitors.

HAVRE, France, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, now under a three-year sentence in England, but out on the "Cat-in-Mouse" act, today sailed on the French liner Provence for America. She was accompanied to the pier by a score of friends and militant supporters. The leader of England's militants declared today that she has no fear of being stopped by the United States immigration officials at New York. "The United States stands for freedom, and the country was built on the foundation of a revolution of bloodshed caused by political oppression and inequality of classes," said Mrs. Pankhurst today. "For these reasons, and because the United States stands for what it does, I feel certain there will be no unfairness shown me. The United States adopted as its slogan during its revolution against the oppression of King George III, of England, 'Taxation without representation is tyranny.' It will seek to keep out no person who is fighting King George V of England for the same reason." Mrs. Pankhurst reaches New York October 18.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—The United States, with three entries, was today declared to have an even chance to win the great annual international balloon race, which starts tomorrow from the Tuilleries. Besides the United States entries there are 18 others distributed as follows: Austria 3, France 3, Germany 3, Great Britain 2, Italy 2, and Belgium 2. The American entrants, who were selected in the elimination trial race July 4 and 5 last, are Ralph A. D. Preston and his assistants, Ralph H. Upson, Harry E. Hunsawell and J. H. Wade and John Watts. In addition to the championship cup the winner will receive 10,000 francs. Second, third, fourth and fifth places carry respectively 5,000, 2,500, 1,500 and 1,000 francs.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, Oct. 11.—Students of the Kansas Agricultural college today are again investigating the possibilities of an inter-collegiate wireless exchange of football results. The students, particularly want results of today's Nebraska-Ag-Eds game by wireless. Nearly every college or university in Missouri valley is equipped with a wireless outfit belonging to the physics department or School of Electrical Engineering. If the college papers succeed in securing the use of the wire, less at stated periods and the exchange of football results proves a success, many believe it will lead to a co-operative collegiate news association.
