

STEAMER BURNED AT SEA, HER CAPTAIN AND CAPTAIN RESCUING STEAMER

(Supplied by New Process Electro Corporation, N. Y.)

The burning of the Volturmo, a trans-Atlantic liner of the Uranium line, at sea, marked a marine disaster second only to the sinking of the Titanic. Reports received by wireless from the rescuing ships place the number of rescued at 533 out of a list of 667 aboard the ill-fated steamer. Altogether 11 steamers assisted in the rescuing of passengers from the burning ship. Of these, the Carmania, of the Gouard line, commanded by Capt. Barr, was the first to reach the scene, having been but 60 miles from the Volturmo. On account of the heavy seas and the gale, the Carmania could not proceed with the rescue work. In the meantime ten other ships came up, including a tank steamer, which sprayed oil on the waters, thus making it comparatively safe for the life boats to get to the burning ship, which by this time was about to sink.

Capt. Inch, of the Volturmo, together with the chief engineer, two other engineers, two officers and the two wireless operators were taken on board the Kroonland, bound for New York.

GIANTS AND WHITE SOX TO CROSS BATS AT MEDFORD

Contract is Signed—Ball Grounds Placed in Pink of Condition For Big Game.

MEDFORD, Ore., Oct. 21.—That baseball enthusiasts of Southern Oregon and Northern California will have a chance to see baseball at its best was assured last week when Robert Brovard, an orchardist of this vicinity deposited in the First National Bank of Medford the sum of $1,000 to guarantee the appearance of the two great clubs. The contract which Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox and manager of the world-wide tour of the two teams, signed with Mr. Brovard calls for the appearance of the teams on the field, rain or shine. The clause in the contract assures out of town visitors that they will actually see the two teams play ball.

The hotel accommodations of Medford for the day of the game will be ample to take care of a great crowd and the Southern Pacific railroad will furnish round fare tickets at a greatly reduced rate—probably a one way fare being charged. A large section of the covered grandstand has been reserved for out of town fans and additional seats are being constructed in the already well-equipped grounds. The highest priced seats will cost $2 and the management has taken all precautions to see that "graft" of all sorts will be eliminated, both at the grounds and in the restaurants, hotel, etc.

FARMERS' WEEK BOILED DOWN INTO LITTLE WORK

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Oct. 21.—Farmers' week as conducted this year will be a concentrated and developed farmers' institute with all the machinery of the Oregon Agricultural College available for the farmers' use. The work will be intensive, practical and objective. The students of farmers' week will have the use of all the advantages supplied by the state—instructors, buildings, laboratories, experiment plots, orchards, fields, gardens, livestock and machinery.

One of the most important phases of the work will be rural organization, co-operation and credits. Farmers who see the necessity of something more than large crops to make their work as successful as it should be will be informed of successful methods of organization and direct marketing, as practiced in most European and in a few American countries. European farmers are making better progress than American farmers. The chief causes of this are the better co-operative, credit and marketing methods of the European farmers. These systems will be explained by Dr. Hector Macpherson who went to Europe to investigate them, and recommendations for rural organization in Oregon will be made by himself and other experts. An opportunity will also be given farmers to examine the approved machinery and tools of the college collection, and as far as possible to test their merits.

The dairy demonstrations will include selection, feed and management of the dairy herd; sanitary methods of milking and handling milk; and separating, ripening and manufacturing cream.

Further information about the work of farmers' week may be had by addressing a request for College Bulletin No. 88 to Professor R. D. Hetzel, extension director, Corvallis, Ore. Reduced fares for this course will be granted by all Oregon roads.

PUTTING TO DEATH OF DEFECTIVES ADVOCATED

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20.—The hopelessly insane and the mentally defective people of the state who are now being supported by the people in the various state institutions, should be done away with by painless death, declared Dr. Calvin S. White, state health officer, in an address last night at the First Unitarian church, Broadway and Yamhill streets. His subject was "Commercial Waste, Its Cause and Cure."

Dr. White mentioned that one third of the state's taxes go to keep the mentally deficient, incorrigibles or criminals and this expense he said was too great. These people were characterized by Dr. White as constituting an economic dead weight.

Soldiers' pensions were also decried by Dr. White as a useless expense.

We are disposing of some of our office furniture at the corner of Jackson and Cass streets, as we are moving to new quarters where it will not be needed, but where we shall be better than ever prepared to take care of our rapidly increasing nursery trade. Kitchen & Black.

NORTHCLIFF-CRONCHER.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Seyler at Olalla was the scene of a pretty wedding Sunday, Oct. 5, when the latter's second daughter, Bessie May, was married to William Harvey Northcraft. At 2:30 the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Hester Croncher and took their place before the fireplace, which had been banked with moss and potted plants.

The beautiful ring service was read by the Rev. William Hampton.

The bride wore a traveling suit of white serge and carried an arm bouquet of white asters. She was attended by Miss Isabel Croncher as maid of honor, in a tani silk and carrying lavender asters. Mr. Wm. Seyler, grandfather of the bride, was best man.

After the ceremony the bride led the way to the honeymoon, which was decorated in green and white, where the bride's gifts were set and served. After a brief luncheon they will be at home to their many friends at Olalla.

We have all kinds of berry plants and small fruits for sale. We sell nothing but the best. Get our prices. Kitchen & Black.

The Most Satisfying Investment

I have listed $17 per cent First Mortgages which are offered at 100 interest. These bonds are my first mortgage on property or twice the total of the issue and the amount lent to the property is more than meets the needs of the estate. I have $100,000.00 in bonds when due. They are also 100% responsibility. Issued in amounts of $100 and $500, maturely in March and September, 1918. Interest is paid quarterly. If you have funds, call and investigate.

Real Improvements Roseburg

It will only take 10 minutes for any one to walk around in Roseburg and see improvements done that were not dreamed of four years ago, when it was stated if the principal business streets should be paved, but $100,000 is spent in townsite improvements just the same.

SOME YEARS AGO THERE
Could have been secured by the City of Roseburg for a little cash and Alexander Park was offered at a reasonable price. Today the Alexander Park lots, 60x250, are sold to the people who like bathing, boating, fishing and large trees.

"THE LURE" PROMISES TO ATTRACT LARGE AUDIENCE

Theatrical Critics Claim It is Worthy of Its Name—Purpose is Helpful.

The sincerity of purpose which inspired George Scarborough to write his now famous White Slave drama, "The Lure," has impressed the newspaper critics of San Francisco, where the play is proving as big a success as it did in New York city. Several of the papers have published interviews with this dramatist of the season's most tremendous hit and the Bulletin published a letter from him in which he gave forth his own solution of the present conditions of this national problem. According to him the state and municipal laws are good enough, if only enforced, but he believes the police are hampered by political interference. He thinks the Slave Commissioner, Stanley W. Finch, is now making will aid the Federal secret service agent in running down all cases whatsoever of helpless girl victims. Mr. Finch has himself endorsed "The Lure" as a truthful revelation of the White Slave and their brutal trade. The play will be seen here at the Antlers Theatre Wednesday.

DOES ANYBODY KNOW?

Will you please tell me, if you can, the address of Mrs. Alice Johnson, who resided in Roseburg some years ago and went from here to California.

A letter written her soon after the fire failed to reach her and was returned. In removing Professor's (Bakers) goods, I noticed the tags were from Harness and Johnson and so had hope of finding her again. Hoping you will favor me with an early reply.

Yours truly,
MRS. GEO. L. DICK,
