RAG-TIME PAST

Classical Music is the Rage of The Century.

BIG MUSICIANS PLAY CLASSICAL MUSIC

That Ragtime Music is Doomed For All Time is The Declaration of Famous Orchestra Leaders.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 21.—That the taste for "ragtime" is dying out was the belief of the managers of the municipal popular concerts following the record breaking attendance at the initial concert of the season some days ago and at ensuing concerts. The "Pop" concerts are as distinctly a Cleveland institution as they are an institution in Boston. The city has contracts with a large number of musicians. They played in the parks this summer and entertained thousands—but not with "ragtime." They played mostly classic selections with a few popular pieces mixed in. But that was a few years ago.

When the season for indoor concerts opened this month in the Hippodrome with seats at 25 cents each and the announcement was made that no "ragtime" and only a little popular music would be on the program, the success of the "pops" was regarded as doubtful by many. But the attendance at the concert so far has dispelled all doubts as to the concert's future popularity and caused Harry Timmer, the director, to declare his belief that the craze for "ragtime" was dying out and that real music was again coming into its own. The "pop" concerts are Sunday institutions and are furnished to the people of Cleveland at cost.

BOX SOCIAL

There will be a box social and entertainment given by the Edenhower socialist local, Friday evening, November 21, at the Macabee hall in Roseburg. A hand embroidered sofa pillow will be given to the one receiving the most votes. An hour's program has been arranged, music furnished by the South Deer Creek orchestra. All are cordially invited to come and bring a friend. A good time assured for all. Proceeds to be used toward the erection of the Edenhower socialist hall. n21

SOUTH DEER CREEK ITEMS.

Last Saturday evening the local grange held a joint meeting with the North Deer Creek grange. A very pleasant evening was spent in recitations, readings, musical selections by the South Deer Creek grange orchestra and impromptu speaking. At the close of the meeting a supper was served by the ladies of Moxitza grange, and every one voted that an enjoyable evening had been spent.

At the next meeting of the local grange a class of 25 will be initiated and a special program will be prepared for the occasion. The ladies are making preparations for a banquet at the same time.

A joint meeting of the Dixonville, Brushy Butte and South Deer Creek telephone lines will be held at the South Deer Creek grange hall next Monday evening, at which time will be taken up the matter of replacing many of the poles running south

"The Common Law."

Tonight at the Antlers' theatre should mark a red letter event in the history of local theatricals for the reason that "The Common Law," the play to be offered by Manager A. H. Woods, has been a long anticipated pleasure on the part of our lovers of real dramatic offerings.

"The Common Law," as may well be surmised, is a dramatization or, more properly said, an adaptation from Robert W. Chambers' phenomenally successful book of fiction, a story which is unsurpassed in point of sensational interest, while furnishing many new thoughts upon the marriage problem. It is withal a story so humane and so refreshing from the conventional kind that it is small wonder that so many readers have given it serious consideration above the usual class of fiction to which this work belongs.

Manager Woods has taken no little pains in presenting "The Common Law" as a production well in touch with the progressive ideas entertained by the average theatregoer.

Fronting on Umpqua River, covered with grand giant oaks hundreds of years old, are places of contentment away from the busy city life with its struggle for making money. Resting in a hammock between a couple of these monarchs of the forest, looking upon the slow flowing Umpqua River, where in summer hundreds of children are taking a healthful bath, is a picture of childhood's days, and it gives peace of mind and rest to the body.
