Shadrick Hudson Passes Away at Soldiers Home.

WAS A DOUGLAS COUNTY PIONEER

Spent Many Years of His Life in Coos County Where He Mined—
Veteran of Early Oregon Indian Wars.

Shadrick Hudson, aged 82 years, and for the last 65 years a resident of Oregon, died at the Soldiers Home early yesterday after an illness of three weeks. The funeral was held at the home this morning, interment of the remains following in the home cemetery.

"Shad" Hudson, as he was best known by his many comrades, was born in the state of Michigan in the year 1830. Fourteen years later he crossed the plains and came to Oregon, and finally located in Douglas county. Here he remained for many years when he went to Coos county and engaged in mining. He continued to reside there until the year 1894, when he was overtaken by adversities and compelled to seek admittance to the Soldiers Home. He served during the early Indian wars of '55 and '56 in Company I, Southern Oregon Mounted Volunteers.

Mr. Hudson was probably one of the best known men at the Soldiers Home. He possessed a liberal disposition and won friends wherever he visited. He was a man of exemplary habits and his death is deplored by all of those who chanced to make his acquaintance.

SOCIAL SERVICE CONFERENCE MEETING WILL BE HELD TOMORROW EVENING

Committee Is Appointed to Perfect a Permanent Organization.

The conference on social service held in St. George's Parish last week bore fruits in the desire to do something along the lines indicated, and also a feeling that the interest in social welfare there awakened should not be allowed to die. All this crystallized into action at the last meeting on Monday evening, and, after a good discussion, it was unanimously agreed that a committee should be appointed to plan for a permanent organization; the committee appointed consisted of Hon. O. P. Coshow, Mrs. W. A. Smick, and the Rev. C. W. Baker.

This committee met and decided to ask each church and each civic organization in Roseburg and the community to send two representatives to a meeting called for Tuesday evening, January 27th, in St. George's parish house, to definitely consider the organization of a social service league. Notices have been sent to all churches and organizations and it is hoped there will be a full representation at this meeting, and that some definite steps can be taken to form a permanent organization, which all feel can be of great help to Roseburg and the community.

By presenting a united front a great deal of good can be accomplished in the community, and a sentiment created which cannot be ignored.

Local Business Men Accused of Law Violations.

SOME SERVE ADULTERATED CREAM

Swift & Company's Butter Fails to Stand the Weight Test of the Pure Food Commissioner—
Warrants Issued.

A number of warrants were issued by Justice of the Peace Reuben Marsters this afternoon, charging local business men with various violations of the pure food act. The warrants were issued at the instigation of State Food Commissioner Shrock, who spent the past few days in Roseburg inspecting the various business establishments.

Those charged are:

E. C. Stark, McClallen hotel, serving adulterated cream.

Wan Gea and Wan Wung, New York Restaurant, serving adulterated milk.

C. J. Eastman, of the Harvey-Eastman Company, selling short weight butter.

Robert Kidd, grocer, selling short weight butter.

Oliver Newhard, butcher, selling shot weight butter.

Richard Stubbs, grocer, selling short weight butter.

John Doe Crouch, agent for Swift & Company, selling short weight butter.

The warrants were served by Constable Edward Singleton this afternoon, and the several defendants later appeared in the justice court. The grocers charged with selling short weight butter offer the defense that they purchased the butter of Swift Company, with the understanding that each case should contain 60 pounds. When weighed by the food inspector some of the rolls weighed a trifle over 32 ounces, while others were short in weight. Inasmuch as the grocers purchased the butter in good faith, and paid for it at the rate of 60 pounds to the case they cannot be held to blame, other than technically, for the violation charged.

The several grocers charged with violating the pure food act are honest and reliable men, and suffice to say that it was not their fault that their butter lacked in weight. As they claim, the fault lies with Swift & Company, who sold them the butter which furnished the basis for the action.

Mr. Crouch, representing Swift & Company, arrived here this afternoon and it is probable that the firm will liquidate whatever fines that are assessed by the magistrate.

Martha Washington's Will Found; Morgan Refuses to Give It Up

THE entire south in general and Virginia in particular is stirred up over the Martha Washington will matter. The will of the Mother of Our Country was taken from the Fairfax (Va.) courthouse, where it was on file during the civil war. Until recently its whereabouts remained a mystery. A wide search had been made for the document, but all trace of it had been lost. Then it became known that the will was in the possession of the library of J. P. Morgan. The late Mr. Morgan had obtained it in some way yet unexplained, and it is now the property of his son. Mr. Morgan has refused to surrender it to the Virginia authorities. The patriotic societies of the country, particularly the Daughters of the American Revolution, are impatient in seeing the document returned to the Fairfax courthouse. In the illustration are shown the courthouse, from an old print, copyright by the Review of Reviews; Mr. Morgan's library in New York city and Mr. Morgan.

GRAIN IS STOLEN

PADLOCK IS REMOVED FROM DOOR

Several Sacks of Grain are Carried Away—Wagon and Horses Must Have Been Used, Says Informant.

(Special to The Evening News.)
YONCALLA, Jan. 26.—Some time during last night some party or parties forced an entrance to the old Heinzen Hardware building, situated at the intersection of Applegate ave. and A streets, by pulling or prying a padlock off the door and carried away about ten or twelve sacks of grain belonging to Chas. Hummel. As the night was very dark and stormy no one saw or heard anyone and the heavy rains completely erased all trace of the prowlers.

It is quite evident that the thieves used a wagon and horses, as so much foot could not have been moved otherwise.

PROGRESS MARVELOUS.

Local Talent Displays Keen Intuition in Rehearsal of Parts for "Elks Tooth."

The progress made at the rehearsals of "The Elks Tooth" is nothing short of marvelous. The many bright snappy dances are full of action and far prettier than ever seen here in the best road shows. Everyone connected with the production is talking about the catchy songs. In reviewing the traveling musical comedies that have played Roseburg in the past no one can be recalled that contained as many real song hits as are in "The Elks Tooth". The songs are all tuneful and of the whistling variety. "Stick Around a While," "The Lonely Moon," "Out O'er the Sea," "Jane," "My Merry Maid," "Uncle Sam," "By Discovery," "Lingering," "The Canoe Song" and "A Touch of Nature" will live for months after the show.

There is more genuine enthusiasm manifest in the coming production than for any previous local show. The reason for it is that the play is up-to-date in every particular and superior in quality to the great majority of musical comedies.
