THE MESSAGE IN ENGLAND.

The press of London is effusive in its editorial comments on President Wilson's message to congress, and it is styled "lofty and correct" by one while another alludes to it as one of the most perfectly phrased documents of modern times. It is admitted by still another, that while the United States would have an abstract right not to impose tolls on our coastwise shipping, it would be a mistake, just as it was a mistake for England to refuse to participate in the Panama Exposition, although she had a perfect right to do so. Evidently matters are getting in shape for a meeting of the mutual admiration society, and the result will be that this country will repeal the tolls exemption clause, and England will reconsider her refusal to make an appropriation for the San Francisco show, thus paving the way for a peaceful and harmonious celebration next year of our century of peace, without even a summer cloud on the horizon.

Back in Ohio there have been some meetings in the past week or two that will be of great interest and value to the republican party. They were merger and getting together meetings of the parts that drifted apart during the last presidential campaign. The attendance from all over the state was large and it was not so much the enthusiasm as the earnestness of the speeches and sentiment that made such favorable impression on all who attended them. This is as it should be, not only in Ohio, but in other states as well.

The army of unemployed that started from San Francisco overland for Washington, is not meeting with any more welcome than did the one that started from Portland this winter and passed through this city, and it will be scattered long before it has covered any large part of the trail. Get right down to the originator of such performances, and some newspaper man or woman will be found, whose animus is to get a magazine article.

Will some one kindly inform us whether there has been any mistake in the printing of the calendars that are hanging on our office walls, for they all indicate that this is the 7th day of March, while the sunshine and general mildness of the air, the singing of the birds, and the budding of flowers, in fact everything would rather indicate that it should be the same date in May.

How many of the readers of this paper or of any of the other papers published throughout the county have registered this week, so as to be eligible to vote at the coming primaries? Remember, if you don't register you can't vote.

FORD—BIG SELLER

DETROIT, Mich., March 7.—January is not supposed to show the high water mark of production in the automobile world, but nevertheless the first month of 1914 shows the largest output of any month in the entire history of the Ford Motor Company. During the month of January this year, the Ford Motor Company built and shipped 23,926 cars. The largest month's output previous to this was June, 1913, when the number of cars made and shipped reached the total of 22,949.

Anna Helms, of Boise, Idaho, arrived here this morning to spend a couple of weeks.

A RIOT OF LAUGHTER IN "THE MISSOURI GIRL."

At the Antlers theatre next Thursday, March 12. Comedy applied to "The Missouri Girl" is more or less a misnomer. A tragic comedy is more descriptive of the play than the former. There are heaps of clean comedy in it, but it is not altogether free from tragedy and when the two are blended happily, the product is bound to be a success.

That is why "The Missouri Girl" has been so popular all over the United States for several years.

There is just sufficient of serious matter in it to afford a pleasing contrast to the farcical side.

Really funny incidents are numerous and perhaps it is as well that the audience is afforded a breathing spell at times for the crisis and counter-sentiment of the play.

To the play's success the great characters of "Zeke" and "Daisy" contribute much of the comedy. They carry most of the burden of the production, but while these two are outstanding, other characters of the play are equally excellent and on the whole, the cast is well balanced and sustained.

The company will present this play here next Thursday night only, March 12. Prices 25 and 50 cents. Seats on sale Wednesday at 10 a. m.

RIDDLE NEWS

Interesting Items Clipped From the Riddle Tribune

The trial of the Messrs. Redfield before Justice J. M. Gross, which was set for Tuesday on the charge of violation of the game laws, failed to materialize. We learn that it has been postponed until such time as the witnesses are available.

A large and jolly crowd of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stock last Monday evening at their new home which has just been completed at the north end of Main street. Everyone attending brought something to eat and the time was most pleasantly spent with games, music and in disposing of the refreshments.

Deputy Sheriff Hopkins was called to Myrtle Creek last Friday with the bloodhounds to assist in tracking the men who broke into Rice Bros. & Adams store at that place the previous night, and stole $4.69 and some cigars and other articles. The rains of the night made the scent weak for the dogs to take it.

An excellent entertainment comprised of music and literary numbers and a play entitled "Sacco's Stag Party" was given at Selig hall Tuesday evening, and was pronounced by all to have been one of the very best ever given in the town. A very large audience was in attendance. On account of lack of time we are compelled to omit the program.

M. S. Ryan was at Grants Pass last Sunday visiting friends. He found Miss Nellie Quine to be improving very rapidly and her physicians predict that as soon as she recovers from the operation her health will be much better than heretofore.

F. W. Beyers, cashier of the Riddle State bank, returned home the first of the week from a month's visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Beyers at Edgewood, Iowa, and reports having had a delightful visit. D. S. Beals, who had charge of the bank's business during his absence, has returned to his work at Springfield.

The Riddle band has been reorganized, with Arthur Redifer as director, and will hold regular rehearsals twice each week, Tuesdays and Saturdays, according to present arrangements. B. F. Nichols has donated the use of his building for a band hall, Logsdon Bros. a stove, H. A. Rasor the use of seats from his hall, so the boys are quite comfortably located. Fines of $1 for missing any meeting of the band when unexcused have been adopted as one of the regulations, and money to pay the fines must always be kept on deposit with the treasurer. Practice and organization was held Tuesday evening. It is evident that with effort Riddle will have a very creditable musical organization. Ed Riddle has been elected president and A. R. Marsh secretary-treasurer.
