Problem of Home Cooking is Worked Out by Writer

POORLY BALANCED MEALS ARE COSTLY

Creamed Potatoes Should Not Be Served With Gravy—Man With Bullet in Heart Survives—Fat Men Organize Society

By Lillian Lowrance (Written for the United Press)

ST LOUIS, April 27.—The real problem of home cooking is the preparing of appetizing and wholesome meals, with due regard to expenditure of time and money. Meals should be planned several days ahead, each meal and the program for each day hinging on the preceding one. In this way desirable combinations can be had with little or no waste. If the meal is prepared without planning the housekeeper must use what she has on hand and a badly balanced meal and poor combination often result. If a market is near and a telephone is used in ordering she is apt to get an expensive piece of meat which can be cooked nicely while the meat and vegetables left over from the preceding day are often wasted as no thought had been given on how to combine them.

It is not necessary to spend much time figuring perfect balance of food principle in family meals but it is necessary to have a general idea of composition of food and to be careful that not too much protein, fat, sugar or starch be served in a meal. The following examples, often served in poorly "balanced" meals, will illustrate this point:

Beef, macaroni and cheese, peas—too high in protein.

Beef, cheese, custard—too high in protein.

Pork, fried potatoes, rich pudding—too high in fat.

Light meat, potatoes, sweet potatoes, corn, rice pudding—too high in starch.

Meat, candied sweet potatoes, jelly, cake, preserves—Too high in sugar.

The tendency in well-to-do American families is to serve meals containing too high a proportion of fat and protein, also to serve too much. The total food value should depend chiefly on the amount of physical activity taken by members of the family. The menu for a farmer's family should contain more heavy, rich foods than that of a family where occupations are sedentary.

That good digestion depends to a considerable extent on pleasurable taste in eating, has been proven scientifically, as well as by experience of the ages. "Appetite is the best sauce," and outdoor exercise gives good appetite. But not everyone can have a keen appetite at all times, so pleasing combinations are important from a health standpoint.

Food has the following characteristics or contrasts: Heavy or light; moist or dry; strong or mild flavored; crisp or soft; acid or sweet; hot or cold. A meal should have contrast or variety. It should not be composed of all of one kind of food as all heavy or all strong flavored dishes. Mild flavored foods like bread and potatoes can be eaten in considerable quantities in a meal, but the appetite rebels at large quantities of turnips, cauliflower, cabbage, game or cheese.

In simple combination the strongly flavored food should be much less in quantity than mild edibles such as bread and cheese, macaroni and tomatoes, baked beans and ketchup.

Creamed potatoes should not be served when there is gravy; they should be served with dry meat. Meat stews, etc., should be served with dry vegetables. Plain butter cakes, not rich or layer cakes with fruit or nut fillings, should be served with ice cream or whipped cream desserts. Acid sauces should be served with rich puddings. In a three-course dinner, make two courses moderately heavy and the third light.

As in other arts it is not possible to give definite rules for planning successful meals, but with careful observation the home keeper should succeed in planning appetizing and wholesome meals.

With Bullet in Heart Man Recovers

VIENNA, April 27.—Alive and well with a bullet in his heart, is the report made of an unusual if not unprecedented case in medical annals, by Dr. Finsterer, to the Viennese Society of Physicians and Surgeons. Dr. Finsterer called to attend a young man brought to an emergency hospital. He had attempted suicide by shooting himself. He was unconscious but still alive. By means of the X-ray it was seen that the bullet was actually in the heart. It was loose in one of the heart chambers and with each movement of that organ the bullet moved about. After consultation with Professor Hoeheneb, the famous surgeon, it was decided to sew up the hole in the heart where the bullet entered and that without attempting to remove the bullet. This was done. After two weeks it was certain that the young man would get well. Four weeks later another X-ray examination showed the bullet had been "healed in" near the lower edge of the heart and gave the patient little or no trouble.

Fat Men in Tokio Organize

TOKIO, April 27.—The weighty members of parliament have organized the "Society of Fat Men," only those tipping the scales over 215 pounds being eligible for membership. Monzo, under secretary of war, was admitted on probation, after his promise to acquire six additional pounds before the next meeting.

Among these are 21 agricultural societies; 20 business; 22 educational; 35 fraternal; 7 genealogical; 23 Greek letter fraternities; 15 government and civic societies; 5 historical and literary; 15 industrial; 9 labor; 13 professional; 8 religious; 19 scientific and 7 social service.

With the exception of the time that the allied armies occupied Peking, this will be the only instance when the troops of more than three nations have been encamped together.

An international fleet of more than two hundred vessels, including representative types of battleships from the navies of all the great nations, will gather at Hampton roads in January, 1915, and proceed upon a cruise through the Panama Canal to San Francisco harbor reaching their destination early in March, 1915, and shortly after the formal opening of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

named to assist in the supervision of the city government are: Commander O. H. Stickney, of the Prairie, captain of the port; Fleet Surgeon W. L. Pratling, sanitary inspector; Commander D. F. Sellers, of the Arkansas, provost-marshal; Commander John Lubby, of the South Carolina, director of the postoffice.

Roberto Diaz, mayor of Vera Cruz, is among those who have agreed to reopen their offices and it has been arranged that the public schools shall be reopened tomorrow.

General Maas has established headquarters at Soledad, about 16 miles from Vera Cruz, and his men are tearing up the railroad tracks. The gap between Tejera, the water supply station, which is guarded by Americans, and Soledad has grown greatly and it is now no simple task for the refugees, whether foreigners fleeing from Huerta or Mexicans proceeding from Vera Cruz toward the capital, to get across the open space.

No intimation has been received that Huerta intends to release Americans, some of them women and children, held at Cordoba, Orizaba, Pachuca, Aguas Calientes and other places.
