

Director of Ciricillo's Concert Band

THERE is not in America another band leader who has made such a reputation as Professor Salvatore Ciricillo, the genius at the head of this world renowned Italian Band. Ciricillo toured the Pacific coast last season under the auspices of the Ellison-White Chautauqua System, and in response to a universal demand for his return this organization will be one of the biggest attractions of the coming Chautauqua in this city.

DOUGLAS COUNTY NEWS

LOOKING GLASS

If you have a task to do, let me whisper, friend, to you: Do it.

Harvest is in full blast. Busy, busy, busy.

Those beautiful showers of last week were greatly appreciated by our people.

Grain crops are ripening very fast and every one is rushing through with their hay crops in order to be ready to harvest the ripening wheat and oats.

Donivan Denning, son of Mrs. Jeff Williams met with a very painful accident one day last week in falling out of a tree, spraining his arm very severely. Mrs. Williams took the lad to Roseburg at once and Dr. Hoover relieved him of some of his pain, so Donivan is getting along very nicely now, but climbing trees will be a lesson for him.

Mrs. W. R. Root, of Riddle, has returned home again after a ten day's visit at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schrenk.

Miss Myrtle Brisbin has been on the sick list for the last week, but is better at this writing.

Rev. C. G. Morris, our pastor, who resides at Ten Mile, preached a very interesting sermon last Sunday morning to a very attentive audience. There will be preaching services two weeks from today at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Everybody is invited to come.

J. T. Spaugh and family spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr.

and Mrs. Henry Schrenk.

Jas. Marsters and family passed through the valley last Thursday enroute to Roseburg in their new Overland auto.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marsh and son, Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Stokes and Mr. and Mrs. A. Larson, spent Sunday afternoon in Roseburg attending the afternoon Chautauqua service.

Prof. Brown, of Corvallis, state orchard inspector, and Prof. Strang, of Roseburg, county fruit inspector, were in our valley last Friday inspecting some of our orchards, finding new diseases in trees and prescribing remedies for same and also giving general instruction as to care of orchard pruning. There was a goodly number of our orchard men present in going over the orchards.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Preble, of West Roseburg, were visiting in our valley a few days last week. We are glad to say that Mrs. Preble has greatly improved in health after almost two years of sickness and under the constant care of the doctor.
