

H. RUTHVEN MACDONALD, the Canadian Baritone

EVERY Chautauqua is fortunate which has Toronto's favorite baritone, H. Ruthven Macdonald, on its program. There is probably no singer so much sought after for concerts and entertainments, for he is a general favorite. He has an extensive repertory, consisting of sacred, descriptive, humorous, oratorio, operatic, Scotch and Irish songs, and he knows how to give them in a way to bring out their full enjoyment.

Mr. Macdonald's presentation of oratorios will be a revelation to his hearers, and the best critics of the United States, Canada and England have given him unstinted praise on his rendition of the "Messiah," "Creation," "Elijah," "Redemption" and "Samson."

OPTIMIST & CO.

CITY LIGHTED FROM MUNICIPAL PLANT

LONGMONT, Colo., July 14.—One 40-watt Tungsten lamp, burning free current from the municipal lighting plant, brightens nearly every porch in this city of 7,000 souls.

The residents of Longmont refused the private company's light and burned candles and oil lamps for two months back in 1911 while the municipal plant was building because the private concern attempted to block the city owning its own plant.

Longmont's experience with municipal ownership has been so markedly successful inquiries are received from all parts of the world. The city's inhabitants are conservative, hard working and thrifty and went into the municipal electric power and lighting business only when goaded into it by unfair treatment and opposition. But once entered upon the task, Longmont pushed the municipal public utility with the same energy that has made the city the greatest sugar beet center in the United States.

ACTOR GETS CHERRY PIT

Francis Wilson to Plant Oregon Fruit in Own New York Orchard.

EXPOSITION GROUNDS, San Francisco, July 14.—Francis Wilson, actor of "The Bachelor's Baby" fame, was caught by H. C. Frobach yesterday in the act of abstracting a luscious Medford cherry from the southern Oregon cherry exhibit.

Apologies ensued, in which Mr. Wilson said that he wanted the pit to plant in his own cherry orchard in New Rochelle N. Y. He said he grows cherries himself but he never had seen such cherries as those from Oregon.

As a penalty he was compelled to finish the box. He will be a luncheon guest today.
