SURPASSES "DAMAGED GOODS"

The grim, tense silence with which every exhibition of the five-part Mutual Masterpicture "Ghosts" is met attests the power of this motion drama, which is declared to mark an epoch in motion photography. Leaving the spectacular aside, nothing approaching it in psychological, dramatic effect has ever even approached in motion pictures. It is destined to cause a far greater stir than was ever effected by "Damaged Goods," according to those who have seen the picture. "I urge my congregation and all I come in contact with to see it," said a prominent clergyman the other day. "Damaged Goods" is sickled over by the pale cast of thought in comparison with it. It is the greatest moral preaching in any artistic form I have ever seen.

"Ghosts" will be shown at the Palace theatre today only.

HIGH PRIVATES IN WAX.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(By mail).—Soldiers and civilians alike who failed to see O'Leary, Belcher and Dwyer, during the brief sojourn of the three privates who have won the Victoria Cross on the battlefield and became famous, are flocking to Madame Tausaud's, the famous London wax works.

These men who have returned to the trenches are there—in wax.

General Botha, who conquered German Southwest Africa, is also there. The Kaiser is also present, his uniform replaced. He is seen glaring at his friend, the Sultan of Turkey.

King George is also there. He is looking placidly in the direction of the Kaiser while the Kaiser looks at the Turk.

The Secret of a Good Figure often lies in the brassiere. Hundreds of thousands of women wear the Bien-Jolie Brassiere for the reason that they regard it as necessary as a corset. It supports the bust and back and gives the figure the youthful outline fashion desires. They are the dearest, most serviceable garments imaginable. Only the best of materials are used—for instance, "Wajohn," a flexible boning—permitting laundering absolutely fast—without removal. They come in all styles, and your local Dry Goods dealer will show them to you on request. If he does not carry them, he can easily get them for you by writing to us. Send for an illustrated booklet showing styles that are in high favor. BENJAMIN & JOHNES 50-Warren Street Newark, N. J.
