STEARNS & CHENOWETH HEAVY LOSERS IN FIRE

According to Mr. Chenoweth, of Stearns and Chenoweth, they are losers to the extent of $4,000 or $5,000 in the fire which occurred at Yoncalla yesterday and destroyed several warehouses. In the Stearns and Chenoweth warehouse was stored several thousand pounds of prunes and a small amount of hardware. Fortunately for them they had moved all of their machinery to their store further up town on account of the high rate of insurance which prevailed on the other building. Mr. Chenoweth stated that it was doubtful if they would rebuild their warehouse as the new store building is of sufficient size to take care of all of their surplus stock. The insurance carried will not begin to cover the loss.

NO JAP TROOPS FOR ALLIES USE

TOKIO, Sept. 25.—The allies are reported to be planning to ask Japan to send troops to the Dardanelles to aid in a quick dash to Constantinople, or to Russia to make it impossible for Germany to divert her troops from the Slav operations toward the Balkans. No official confirmation is available, but the report attracted comment in the view of the probable entrance of Bulgaria into the European conflict. It is known, however, that the allies will be refused, if they make this request.

PORTLAND HUNTERS BAG A LOT OF DOUGLAS COUNTY DEER

Twenty-three deer and a 400-lb. bear were killed by a party of eight local and two Roseburg sportsmen on their 12 day hunting trip, 19 miles southeast of West Fork, Or. This is the biggest kill in the history of hunting in this section of the state and the black bear was the biggest ever bagged there, according to old timers.

The party left Portland Saturday, September 11, and returned this morning. One dozen pack mules were required to carry the kill out of the mountains.

J. A. Sturt, E. H. Schiller, Dr. T. A. Munson, Dr. B. L. Loomis, Frank Huett, William O'Malley and Howard Scott, of Portland, and Harry Bodely and Al Spallinger, of Roseburg made up the party. Oscar Rosenmayer, of Portland, was the hunters' chef.

The bear was killed by Frank Huett and it took two horses and two men to drag it out of a 300-foot canyon. Three, four and five point bucks were among the deer killed.

Practically all the jerked venison was spoiled by a heavy hail storm yesterday morning. The hail stones were large as a quarter.—Oregon Journal.

LOOKING FOR G. H. SUVER.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25.—James H. Newell, public administrator in St. Louis is looking for G. H. Suver, or Suver's relatives to give them $5,000 and interest on the money which has been accumulating for 25 years if no one with a legitimate claim on the money is found

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

The French and British war offices report the repulse of a furious German attack all along the line, but agree with the German office's report that German forces have crossed the Meuse near St. Mihiel. Petrograd reports a big battle imminent in East Prussia where 800,000 Germans are concentrated. Holland has proclaimed martial law along the eastern border to prevent supplies being smuggled into Germany.

It will be turned over to the state school fund.

Suver lived in the Heitkamp hotel, 25 years ago. On Aug. 22, 1887, he deposited $4,419.18 in the Boatmen's Bank and on Aug. 26, 1888, $4,683.32 in the German Savings Institution. He has never been heard from since by either bank, and repeated efforts to learn more of his identity or where he went have failed.

VETERANS OF '61 HOLD REUNION

Encampment Will be Most Elaborate Ever Held.

WILSON WILL REVIEW GRAND PARADE

Old Soldiers to Be Known The New Methods of Conducting a Modern War.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Draped in bunting and with flags flying, Washington is today putting on the last touches for the reception of the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic whose annual encampment starts here tomorrow and lasts throughout the week. This probably will be the last encampment held in the nation's capital, and nothing is being neglected to make it the most memorable coming together of the old soldiers since the Civil war.

With the cry of "On to Washington" once more ringing throughout the land, but this time from the throats of Union soldiers instead of Confederate, a host of thirty thousand old warriors is expected to storm the city. Along with these are expected to come nearly fifty thousand relatives and a half dozen auxiliary societies which hold their annual encampments with the G. A. R. There will be a hundred thousand visitors in the capital tomorrow night.

The chief feature of the forthcoming encampment and the one which will be of great spectacular interest will be the grand review which will take place next Wednesday. This parade of the veterans will mark the 50th anniversary of the grand review of the victorious troops of the Union army, held in Washington at the close of the Civil war. It is a sad commentary on the grayed ranks to know that the line of march which was practically continuous for two days a half century ago when reviewed by President Johnson and his cabinet, will this year be reviewed by President Wilson and his official family in less than four hours.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles, retired, has been selected as the grand marshal of the parade, and escorted by his naval and military aides will head the parade from the Peace Monument, at the foot of the capitol grounds, up historic Pennsylvania avenue to the state war and navy building. The court of honor will be in Executive square, which is along the last two blocks of the line of march.

Here the president, with the members of his cabinet and the various diplomats and army and navy officers will review the veterans.

During the encampment week there will be special military and naval demonstrations for the instruction and interest of the old soldiers. Submarines, torpedo boats, gun boats and other small craft which can come up the Potomac, will be anchored off the harbor front for their inspection and review. Hydroplane and aeroplane flights and various other features illustrate the progress made in warfare and its implements since the great civil strife will be shown. Troops from Fort Myer and other posts will go through a series of maneuvers either on the monuments or the polo grounds along the river front.

An elaborate system of registration has been arranged in such a way that the old soldiers will be able to meet comrades of their war time companions and regiment, no matter how widely they have been separated during the last half century. Moreover, there will be "get-together camp fires" in the evenings, which will be addressed by various old commanders and high government officials. The veteran sailors will also have their "dog watch" during which Secretary of the Navy Daniels will address them.

Many Confederate leaders have been invited to attend the encampment, and it is probable several of them will be on hand. As this is the last encampment that will be held in Washington, the old Union soldiers are straining every effort to be present. Incidentally this is the 49th annual meeting of the army and the ranks are thinning so fast that there probably will be very few more encampments.

In all there are forty-six different departments of the army. David J. Palmer, of Des Moines, Iowa, is the commander-in-chief. Among the great Union war leaders present will be the only two living corps commanders, General Ames, of Mississippi and Gregg, of Pennsylvania.

Generals Lewis Grant, J. Warren Kelfer, who is also a Spanish war veteran, and John T. Wilder, of Knoxville, will be present.
