Brilliant Party at Armory.

The Leap Year party given at the Armory by the members of the sewing club on Wednesday night was one of the most enjoyed social events of the season, as was evidenced by the spirit of jollity which prevailed during the entire evening. The Leap Year idea was carried out in every particular and added much to the entertainment of the party. Receiving the guests who numbered about one hundred and fifty were the hostesses, James Bolter, Wharton, Bellows, Josephson, Bargar, and the Misses Velle Barker, Pearl Stuart and Margaret McClallen.

The hall was tastefully decorated in greens, palms and fir boughs being used in profusion, while the balcony was adorned with rustic bark receptacles filled with fernery. Card tables were arranged under the balcony for those not caring to dance, and prizes were later awarded to the high scorers who were Mrs. John White and Mr. Howard Stewart. When the guests had assembled, dance programs were distributed and in accordance with the Leap Year custom, the ladies made out the cards for the gentlemen whom they had escorted to the party. Great chagrin was felt by the ladies who had been remiss in the matter of sending flowers, Dr. Stewart proving to be the only one so favored by his lady who was Miss Helen Jane Hamilton.

Before the dancing began, Miss Madge favored the company with a song and responded graciously to the encore. Ott's orchestra then began the strains of the grand march which was led by Mrs. Dora Bolter and Mr. A. Salzman. The Misses Tekla Haynes, Maybelle Wilson, Iris Rice, Florence Wharton and Alice Beecroft presided over the punch bowl during the evening and intermissions were called in the dancing to permit the party to enjoy a song by Mr. Howard Stewart and a very humorous reading by Mrs. F. A. Stewart.

Later in the evening the guests were invited into the reading room of the Armory which had been transformed for the occasion into a dining room. Long tables were laid with places for the entire party and daffodils added their note of beauty to the scene. After partaking of refreshments, the dancers returned to the floor and finished their list of engagements, which completed a very delightful evening.

The guests in attendance from out of town were Mrs. Dora Bolter, Dr. Wells and Mr. Henly, from Portland, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bullwinkle and Miss Thompson, from Riddle, and Mr. Louis Jesso, from Salem.

Farewell Party.

Miss Dorothea Abraham entertained Thursday evening in honor of Joe Fitzgerald who left on Friday for Montana, where he will take up a homestead. The evening was spent at progressive rook, the tally cards being very unique and appropriate for the occasion. They bore hand sketches of a homesteader's cabin, such as will probably be the home of the honor guest for some time in his new venture. The guests were the Misses Maybelle Wilson, Kate Powell, Ethel Patrick, Eva Rice, Alberta Christie, Thelma Alley, Ruth Perkins, Frances Alley, Delpha Edlund, and Joe Fitzgerald, Fred Perry, Earl Powell, Grant Osborne, James Campbell, Robin Abeene, Louis Alhaus, Clifford Jope, Vance Perry, Charles Stanton, The hostess' mother, Mrs. Albert Abraham, was assisted by Miss Mabel VanBuren and Mrs. G. J. Bacher in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Wright Entertains at Luncheon.

One o'clock was the hour appointed for the luncheon given by Mrs. W. T. Wright at her home today. Oregon grape was used for decoration in the living room and a color scheme of pink and white prevailed at the luncheon table which was laid for twelve. Will rose place cards and shiny favor baskets which had been sent by Miss Paulette Campbell from Corvallis, added to the attractiveness of the table. Seated for luncheon, besides the hostess were Mrs. W. H. Fisher, Mrs. A. C. Marsters, Mrs. G. J. Bacher, Mrs. Carl D. Shoemaker, Mrs. James Templin, Ma. H. G. Wilson, Mrs. J. W. Perkins, Mrs. J. C. Fullerton, Mrs. K. L. Miller, Mrs. W. R. Willis, Mrs. Sinclair, and Mrs. M. J. Shoemaker. Luncheon was graciously served by the Misses Mabel Bryan and Veve Buick. Mrs. Wright will entertain at luncheon again next Friday.

Birthday Surprise.

Mrs. L. C. Williams had planned to celebrate her 77th birthday in a very quiet manner yesterday, but she "reckoned without her host" for her devoted relatives did not intend to let the occasion slip by unheralded. The plans for the surprise were so well laid by her daughter, Mrs. M. Sanders and Mrs. E. B. Perrine, that not a suspicion of coming festivities entered Mrs. Williams' mind until the party arrived at her home. The surprise was a very happy one to her, and she joined with the party in the singing of old songs, which were led by Mr. and Mrs. Perrine, who also rendered other musical numbers. Mrs. Sanders had managed to secrete the birthday supper to the house, and at a late hour this was served by her, assisted by Mrs. Perrine. At the conclusion of the repast, Hon. A. C. Marsters, acting as master of ceremonies, presented Mrs. Williams with a beautiful down comforter as a token of affection from the assembled relatives and friends. He then paid a loving tribute to his aunt who is the only surviving member out of eleven children in the elder generation of the Marsters family. Those who were present to enjoy the reunion of relatives and friends, and to wish Mrs. Williams many more happy years, were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Marsters, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Marsters, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marsters, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Marsters, Mr. Herman Marsters, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Perrine and Mrs. M. Sanders.

Surprised on Birthday.

Friends of Mr. M. L. Webb, adjutant Reno Post G. A. R., surprised him on Wednesday evening, March first, by gathering at his home on Oak street and reminding him of his 71st birthday. The surprise was complete and the evening was spent in social converse and in recalling Civil war experiences. Mrs. Webb and her daughter had prepared a bounteous repast and the evening was heartily enjoyed by all. Those who were present were Capt. and Mrs. Markee, of the Soldiers' Home, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fullerton, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Roadman, Mrs. Kidd and Comrades H. N. Cobb, C. G. Durland and R. E. Morse.

North Side Sunshine Club.

The club which was organized last week decided on the "North Side Sunshine Club" for its name and met again on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Suda Woodruff where they enjoyed a social afternoon over their needlework. Through an oversight, the name of Mrs. C. H. Giese was omitted last week from the list of members of the club. Those who were present on Thursday were Mesdames G. F. Marsh, L. W. Ingles, C. R. Cavender, W. J. Moon, W. P. Kianer, R. F. Nichols, H. H. Benton, M. Woodruff, Suda Woodruff, and the Misses Madge Carnoony and Winifred Karn.

J. H. Booth and Dr. F. W. Haynes Hosts for a Stag Dinner.

At eight o'clock last night at the Booth home, Hon. J. H. Booth and Dr. F. W. Haynes received about fifty of their friends and were hosts for a beautifully appointed dinner. Daffodils and almond blossoms enhanced the beauty of the spacious home and the guests were seated for dinner at small tables which were arranged in the various rooms. Mrs. Charles S. Heinline favored the guests with both vocal and instrumental selections.

Birthday Party.

Honoring Miss Nina Campbell on the occasion of her birthday anniversary, a number of friends were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Campbell, in North Roseburg, last Wednesday evening. The party numbered nearly fifty and spent a very enjoyable time at games and music. Miss Nina was presented with many lovely gifts in remembrance of the day.

Mr. Charles F. Howatt, of Eugene, is spending a few days in Roseburg, in the interest of his business, and will be the guest of Mrs. Carl D. Shoemaker at dinner tomorrow. Mrs. Howatt has been spending a month with her daughter in Ohio, and is expected to return to her home in Eugene next week.

Mrs. Dexter Rice Hostess.

Mrs. Dexter Rice outlined her series of luncheons on Thursday and Friday of this week, using the same decorative idea in these as was used in those given earlier in the week, on Monday and Tuesday. St. Patrick's color and emblems in centerpiece, name cards and favors made the table very pretty. The guests on Thursday were Mrs. F. J. Blakely, Mrs. J. H. Booth, Mrs. E. B. Hermann, Mrs. F. W. Haynes, Mrs. A. N. Orcutt, Miss Howell, Mrs. Fitzgus, Miss Jennie Buick, Mrs. H. C. Slocum, Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, Mrs. John White, Mrs. Harry Stapleton, Mrs. G. G. Sewell, Mrs. I. B. Riddle, and Mrs. B. W. Bates. Serving the guests were Mrs. K. L. Miller, Miss Pearl Stuart and Mrs. George Boltner.

At the table on Friday, besides the hostess, were Mrs. J. W. Weaver, Mrs. C. L. Seelman, Mrs. A. F. Sether, Mrs. Roy Bellows, Mrs. Sam Josephson, Mrs. Geo. Bolter, Miss Pearl Stuart, Miss Velle Barker, Mrs. Clark Bargar, Mrs. Dora Bolter, Mrs. Charles Wharton, Miss Agnes Pitchford, and Miss Margaret McClallen. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. K. L. Miller, Mrs. H. C. Slocum and Miss Capitola Willis.

Educational Activities.

At a local institute held in Oakland today, several educators from Roseburg were present and contributed to the program. Among these were Supt. Hamlin, who spoke on Teachers' Tenure of Office; Prin. R. C. Hall, of the Rose School, on the American Pioneer; Miss Elizabeth Parrott, on the Montessori System, and Miss Ethel Yates on the value of domestic science in the public schools. Prof. G. E. Forril, first assistant to O. H. Benson, the club leader in the educational bureau at Washington, D. C., was also present at the Oakland institute, and returned with the Roseburg representatives to Roseburg, where he will speak before a meeting at the Commercial club tonight. Members of the various Parent-Teachers Associations, of the Mental Culture club, and patrons and teachers of the school are cordially invited to attend the lecture which will without doubt be a most interesting one.

Get Busy Club.

The members of the Get Busy Club met at the home of Mrs. Roy Bailey on Pine street Friday afternoon. Mrs. Beryl Ogden was elected president of the organization in place of Mrs. Sebring whose resignation had been tendered. Jonquils and primroses were attractively arranged through the rooms and on the table where refreshments were served. Four new members were added to their number at the meeting these being Mrs. Lelle Thompson, Mrs. Bertha Bellows, Mrs. Mabel Buckley, and Mrs. Esther Shedduck. An interesting meeting has been planned for a week from next Friday, when the four "B's" will have a union meeting at the Maccabee hall.

The usual bi-monthly meeting of the Garden Valley Improvement Society took place on Friday at the home of Mrs. C. A. Brand, but owing to the extremely unseasonable weather there was a smaller attendance than usual, and in the absence of a quorum the business meeting had to be held over. The afternoon was spent in social intercourse and after music and lunch were enjoyed the ladies departed, feeling well repaid for having braved the elements. Two guests were present, Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Rogers, who is visiting for a few days with her sister, Mrs. H. Calhoun.

Art Embroidery Club.

The Roseburg Art Embroidery Club met at the home of Mrs. H. F. Snyder, on Cobb street, Wednesday afternoon. These sessions are always very enjoyable and much is accomplished along the line of artistic needlework. Mesdames Myran Whitney, James Stevenson, C. P. Lewis, Henry Worthington, Elsie Humphrey, Lloyd Adams, Cotteral, Elsie Palm, Myrig Daniels and E. Rhoads were present.

Leap Year Baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Burk are rejoicing over the birth of a baby daughter on Tuesday, February 29, at Mercy hospital, their only regret in the matter being that, as this is Leap Year, their daughter will be able to celebrate her birthday only once in every four years. Vivian is the name given to this Leap Year baby.

The home of Mrs. James Templin will be the scene of a pretty party next Tuesday when she and her daughter, Miss Mabel Van Buren will entertain a number of ladies at a one o'clock luncheon.

Speaker for Parent-Teachers Ass'n.

Dr. B. W. Busk, of the University of Oregon, will address the Parent-Teachers Association of the Rose school on Wednesday, March 15. Dr. DeBusk lectured to the School Masters' club last fall and is an authority in the matter of baby welfare, which will be the topic under discussion. The other schools and anyone interested are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Judge John S. Coke, of Marshfield, was a dinner guest at the home of Judge and Mrs. J. W. Hamilton, on Thursday evening.

The ladies of St. George's Guild held a sale of all sorts of delicious home cooked delicacies from the window of Kidd's grocery today.

Mrs. J. W. Barker and Mrs. Charles Wharton will give the second of their series of luncheons next Wednesday at the Barker home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ernest E. Shank, of S. Stephens street, are mailing announcements of the birth of a daughter, Clara Luella, on March 1.

Mrs. W. R. Willis will be hostess to a number of friends for luncheon at the Umpqua next Monday.
