COMMITTEE IS IN SESSION

First Meeting to Arrange For National Convention.

P. C. KNOX FAVORED FOR CHAIRMAN

Beller Gaining That Hughes Would Not Decline—Some of Old Guard Think T. R. Impossible—Root Strong.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, is the latest possibility considered for "keynoter" of the republican national convention next June. Dr. Butler seconded the nomination of Taft in the 1912 convention and, as chairman of the resolutions committee, was chief drafter of the Taft platform. It was said that his name was taken up late this afternoon by the subcommittee of the republican national organization, which is meeting here.

Progressive leaders, who appeared in the offing to watch developments, argued that the intimation that Dr. Butler might be the keynoter is further indication that the central fight in the convention will revolve around Theodore Roosevelt and William Barnes, of New York. The subcommittee took no vote and its discussion of candidates was purely tentative.

Five Others Mentioned.

Herbert S. Hadley, of Missouri, and Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, are also prominently mentioned as likely temporary chairmen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Governor Chase S. Osborn, of Michigan, and Senator Borah are also considered still in the running. Governor Franklin S. Murphy, of New Jersey, said attention was focussed at the morning session on a western man, but he said it was not Senator Borah and that he would represent a district not as far west as Borah's.

Ex-Governor Murphy is in favor of postponing the naming of a temporary chairman until the April meeting. Asked as to his choice for a presidential candidate, he replied: "Senator Root, first, last and all the time. Republican leaders will not consider Roosevelt or any other man who wrecked the republican party. They do not think he can be nominated, or elected in the event he is nominated."

The Hughes sentiment appeared to be growing, although several of the committeemen are strong for Elihu Root. Definite announcement was made by Chairman Hillier that Senator Root would not attend the convention this year. This eliminates him as temporary chairman.

Chief developments of the day may be summarized as follows:

1—A prevailing opinion among the committeemen that Justice Chas. Evan Hughes has the "call" on the white house nomination and that Justice Hughes' repeated declarations that he is not a candidate does not signify that he would decline a nomination if the convention stampeded to him.

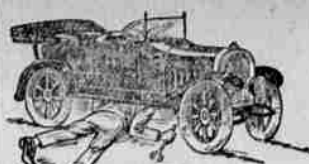

2—Declarations from some of the old guard, among them Franklin Murphy, ex-governor of New Jersey, that Roosevelt is "impossible," and, if nominated, would be defeated.

3—Elimination from the lists of prospects for temporary chairman of leaders who ranked as presidential aspirants.

4—Appearance of a well-defined report that Philander C. Knox appears to be a favorite in the formal discussion of candidates for "keynoter".

Members from the east took a firm stand in their demand that the temporary chairman should be a solid substantial business man, whose conservatism will reassure the business interests of the country. These members from the far west urged that a western man be chosen, preferably a man of progressive tendencies, to forestall any criticism by the bull moosers. Chief among the committeemen taking this attitude was Ralph Williams, of Oregon, who said: "We ought to do the thing that will reunite the republicans and progressives. Out west the progressives are all back in the old party, and I do not want to see this convention do anything that will again divide it. I would not care if the progressives run the convention."

Easterners raised their eyebrows at this radical talk. Ex-Governor Murphy said that any man of proved standing and ability will be satisfactory.

acre. Land which will not produce this amount will not be accepted by the company, and the average should be nearly twice that amount. Thus the poorest land they accept will net the grower $15 per acre and the average should be several times this amount.

It is expected to have several hundred acres signed up for this year, so that the profits to be expected can be determined, and if the ventures pay well, an endeavor will be made to secure the necessary 5000 acres next year and assure a factory for Roseburg. Farmers who have been consulted have expressed their willingness to try a few acres this year, and the sugar company agrees to pay $4.75 per ton f. o. b. cars here, which is but 25c per ton less than the Grants Pass power gets.

Farmers and all who are interested are urged to be present at this meeting, and any questions in regard to the production of this crop will be answered fully by the representatives of this concern. The Oregon-Utah Company are capitalizing at about $10,000,000, and are amply able to carry out their contracts. In any event, whether a factory is established here or not, the growers will have an opportunity to test out the capabilities of their land to produce beets and are assured a market for what they raise.

The Commercial club is taking a great interest in securing new crops for this county, with the idea of making the land more productive and its owners more prosperous. Other crops are also being investigated, and it is the intention of the club to make exhaustive tests of the various crops and of their adaptability to this valley.

The government has stated in one of their recent bulletins that this section of the United States is eminently suited for the production of many drug plants which pay a handsome profit to the grower, and an investigation is now being made in this direction. The Roseburg Commercial club is living up to its promise to do something for the residents of its community, and is receiving many words of encouragement for its work from those who were formerly merely lukewarm or
