

In Judging a Bank

Always remember that it is capital and surplus that give security to the depositor. Capital and Surplus stand between the depositor and any possible loss of shrinkage in the securities held by the bank. The Capital and Surplus of this bank amount to $130,000.00, a margin of safety that assures absolute security for every dollar entrusted to us.

Judge Marsters yesterday rendered his decision in the case of the claim of S. B. Crouch against the estate of Serrena Adams. The judge decided that no order had been obtained and that the claim should be disallowed. The facts of the case are that shortly before her death Mrs. Adams purchased a surrey and harness from Mr. Crouch, the value being $117.50. Prior to this time she had been adjudged incompetent and a guardian had been placed over her. No order was obtained for the purchase and so it was not valid.

Vincent Prechern returned yesterday with a salmon weighing 46 lbs. which he caught about three miles below Winchester. The monster salmon was caught on a small trout pole with a 14-pound line and a number five brass spinner and was taken from the water only after a fight of three quarters of an hour. The fish was taken to the S. B. Crouch hardware store where it was placed on display yesterday afternoon. It will be put in cold storage and served at the fishermen's banquet which Mr. Crouch is giving for

Dave Comstock is an enthusiastic fisherman, but his memory ever dwells on the times he used to have back in Ohio where he pulled out the gamey black bass, fishing for them with live bait or spinner. Yesterday he was fishing for chubs to use as food for his cat, and had hooked one which he was trying to land, when he felt a mighty tug at the line and sparks almost flew off his reel from the rapid revolutions. With visions of a big-mouth black bass as his prize, Dave reeled in and found he had a chub weighing over two pounds which had swallowed the eight inch chub first hooked, and was itself caught by the projecting prongs of the hook. This is absolutely unheard of, and is all the more remarkable, as the chubs are not known to be voracious, or to attack other fish for food.
