

HERE'S A SPORTING PROPOSITION FOR SOMEONE

MRS. A. F. WALL BURIED TODAY

Followed by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives the body of Mrs. A. F. Wall, who died at the home of her daughter, was today taken to the Masonic cemetery where it was laid to rest beside that of her husband and her son. The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the undertaking parlors, R. E. Jope, pastor of the Christian church officiating.

Mrs. Wall was a native of Michigan having been born in Jackson county of that state in the year 1844. When but 17 years of age she moved with her parents to Oregon and settled in Douglas county near Canyonville. In the latter part of her 18th year she was married to Ashur F. Wall, a former acquaintance in Michigan, and who had settled in Oregon. Mr. Wall held the position of stage driver between Roseburg and Jacksonville and followed this employment until the year 1874, when he was killed in an accident on Myrtle Creek hill.

Since her husband's death Mrs. Wall has spent the greater part of her time with her daughter Mrs. P. M. Mathews at whose home she died. She was never affiliated with any order, but was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wall, two of whom survive, they being Mrs. D. L. Houston and Mrs. P. M. Mathews.

The pallbearers at the funeral, Hon. J. C. Fullerton, Hon. O. P. Coshaw, B. W. Strong, G. W. Kimball, Simon Caro and A. J. Bellows, were men with whom Mrs. Wall had become acquainted during her early life in Oregon and men in whom she had the greatest confidence and no more fitting persons could have been chosen to serve at this last most solemn rite.

DATE I. O. O. F. CONVENTION

that when the company hears that the Odd Fellows' convention has been postponed for a week they will bend every effort on their part to arrange their dates to so allow them to show at Roseburg during the convention and carnival week.

Members of the carnival committee stated that they had not heard anything further from the company, except that their advance man had not been heard from and they were waiting word from him before positively stating what will be done. The feeling is, however, that the company which is to furnish the attractions would see that but little business could be had during the three days of the carnival alone, whereas if they were to wait until the following week they could have the hundreds of delegates as well as the carnival crowds to draw from.

As the plans are at the present time the Grand Encampment will meet on Monday, the Patriarchs and Rebekahs upon Tuesday and the I. O. O. F. upon Wednesday and Thursday.

Following these attractions will be the Strawberry carnival which will continue the balance of the week which will assure all of the visitors as well as the residents of the city a week of diversion such as has not been witnessed for a long time.

SHIPMENTS INCREASING.

grand jury at its next regular session.

It is thought by those who are closely connected with handling the liquor shipments that the increase will be much greater during the summer months than at the present time. Especially during the months of July and August heavy orders are expected and the carriers are preparing for a rush in business. "Despite the great increase in shipments during the past two months," stated one man today who is closely connected with the companies carrying liquor from California to Oregon, "there is absolutely no comparison between the amount being consumed now and that which was brought in before the prohibition amendment went into effect. At that time there was more liquor being shipped into Roseburg in one week than the entire county has consumed during the three months that the amendment has been in operation."

Police officials, too, are pleased with the effects which prohibition has had as there have been very few arrests compared with former times. Since the first of the year there have been only two arrests for drunkenness, while formerly there was an average of three or four each month. Reports coming from outside this county also report that arrests are fewer than before, although the increase noticeable in Douglas county has been felt throughout the entire state.

Lovers of intensely dramatic photo plays, depicted in a series of strikingly beautiful scenes, will do well to watch for the next release on the Equitable program at the Majestic theatre, scheduled for presentation on Friday, April 21. It is entitled "Should a Wife Forgive?" with Lillian Lorraine, who has achieved a wonderful success on the New York stage, as the star. The heart-stirring

CONVENTION OF PARENT-TEACHERS

A big rally and get-together meeting for the live wires of the Parent-Teachers Associations of the county is being planned for May 4th and 5th, the meeting to be held in this city. The gathering will be held under the auspices of the state organization and the state president and several of the other officers will be present. The sessions will be held in the afternoon of each day and an evening session on the 4th.

Mrs. Gurdon A. Fory has charge of the entertainment and will make arrangements for the care of the many delegates from the outside associations of the county who will attend. A number of the prominent educators of the state are scheduled for addresses during the two days and Roseburg parents and teachers will undoubtedly derive a great benefit from the meetings.

Circulars are today being mailed out by County Superintendent O. C. Brown announcing the meetings and urging all the county associations to send delegates.
