The editor of this department will be pleased to have attention called to items for publication in these columns for the Wednesday and Saturday issues of The News, and may be reached by telephone at The News office, number 135, or at 147-J.

The dawn of Easter tomorrow will find the churches beautifully decked in the stately lilies which have come to be a symbol of the Resurrection day throughout the Christian world. Special song services have been arranged and in every place of worship in Roseburg, one may find inspiring messages, both in song and spoken word. The Masons will congregate in the morning at the Christian church to hear Mr. Jope's Easter message, following their custom to march in a body to some edifice of worship on Easter day. The sunshine of the past week has brought out many beautiful flowers, without which Easter would not seem complete. Also there are rumors of new spring bonnets which have been saved for this day, and a "perfect day" is being anticipated by the weatherman, and all residents.

Mrs. Houck Given Ovation.
An exceptionally happy meeting of Eastern Stars was the one held on Thursday evening at the Masonic temple, when the annual inspection of the chapter was made by the Grand Worthy Matron of the state. As this chapter has the distinction of claiming for that office one of its in affectionate appreciation of her work in their behalf. Mr. Coshow's words of fraternal sentiment and fellowship were as much a tribute as the gift and were very gratifying to Mrs. Houck, who will have very pleasant memories of this year to recall in the future.

Mrs. Flint also spoke appreciatively of Mrs. Houck's work, and the members then formed a procession and ascended to the banquet room above where the tables had been spread for a feast. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out very effectively, pink streamers fluttering overhead, while delicate blossoms in those shades and pink shaded candles decked the banquet board. Unique nut cups of eggshells upon which were perched tiny Easter rabbits, the whole fastened to a base of pink crepe paper, also added their decorative note to the tables. After the feast, Mrs. George Ritter, Worthy Matron of the chapter, acting as toastmistress, called on Miss Margaret Page to speak on the subject, "The Whys and Wherefores of the Eastern Stars". Miss Page responded, giving a very entertaining sketch of the history of the organization, its aims and accomplishments. Mr. Coshow was then called upon to speak of the "Uses and Abuses of the Ballot," and the feminine portion of the assemblage were especially pleased to be enlightened upon a number of points in that intricate subject. Rev. C. H. Cleaves followed with the topic, "What Our Obligation Means to Us," and Mrs. Houck concluded by telling of the "Relation of the Eastern Stars to the Masonic Lodge".

REIGNING BEAUTY IN LONDON SOCIETY

Lady Anglesey.

Lady Anglesey is one of the most beautiful of women in the British court circle. She was married to Sir Charles H. Paget, sixth marquess of Anglesey. She is the daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Rutland and has a little girl, Alexandra Mary Caroline, three years old, who inherits much of her mother's attractiveness and good looks.

own members, Mrs. George E. Houck. The occasion was an especially pleasant one, and an attendance of over one hundred was on hand to do honor to their high official. Three new members were initiated into the order, Mrs. Anna K. Enger, Mrs. Lenore Page, and Mr. Carlos Page. Mrs. Houck then spoke, complimenting the chapter upon their work and records, and told in a very entertaining manner of some of the experiences she had enjoyed while on her recent trips of inspection of the various lodges over the state. Mrs. Houck has devoted a great deal of time and energy to the work in the past year, and many tokens of appreciation were tendered her on her visits, including beautiful floral offerings and from the Medford chapter an elegant cut glass marmalade jar with sterling fittings.

After Mrs. Houck had concluded her remarks to the chapter, the Hon. O. P. Coshow, in behalf of the membership, presented Mrs. Houck with a beautiful necklace of gold beads, Florence Wharton Hostess.

Miss Florence Wharton will be hostess this evening for a party of the younger set at a dinner for eight young ladies, followed by an evening of progressive ruck and dancing to which an equal number of young gentlemen have been asked. Dinner will be served at five o'clock by Mrs. George Wharton and the hostess mother, Mrs. Charles Wharton. The Easter shades of yellow have been used in making the table festive for the occasion, and covers are laid for the Misses Tekla Hsynce, Mary Ackley, Beulah Jewett, Maybelle Miller, Eva Rice, Annabelle Denn, Dorothy Abraham and the hostess, Florence Wharton.

The boys who has been invited to spend the evening are Stator Miller, Ted Jewett, Willard Ackley, Leland Brown, Hiawatha Wilson, Archie Amadon, Clifford Riebel and Carl Steinmetz.

Neills Hamlin's Frat Entertains.
Alpha Tau Omega fraternity of the University of Oregon entertained during the spring vacation at a house party on the upper McKenzie river at the Log Cabin Hotel. The party left early Sunday morning by automobiles, reaching the hotel, sixty-five miles up in the Cascades late in the evening, after having lingered by the way to fish and picnic. During the week hikes were made to the hot springs at Belknap, Foley Springs, Lookout Mt. and Blue river. The evenings were spent in dancing, producing amateur vaudeville shows and games. Each day a miniature newspaper was published, humorously reciting the happenings of the day. Besides a number of the young men of the fraternity, of which Neills Hamlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hamlin, is a member, the party included ten young ladies and a group of patrons and patronesses. The house party is to be an annual event for the fraternity.

Mrs. Pengra, who formerly lived in Roseburg, but whose home is now in Baker, Ore., is visiting friends here, after having spent several months in Washington, D. C., and other eastern cities. Mrs. Pengra spent several days with Mrs. S. A. Sanford at her country home, and is with Mrs. H. H. Stapleton at present. Miss Buick and Mrs. J. E. Runyan will also have the pleasure of entertaining Mrs. Pengra during her visit here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Stewart, of Laurel Crest ranch have the pleasure of entertaining for a few days, Mrs. Wilk and the Misses Wilk, of Minneapolis. The Wilks, who have been wintering in the South, were neighbors of the Stewarts when they lived in Minneapolis, and have stopped off enroute home. The Misses Wilk attended the Trotters' dance at the Armory last evening in company with Messrs. Earl and Howard Stewart.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Commercial club held their monthly business and social meeting last Monday evening in the parlors of the club. No business of importance was transacted, but the evening was spent very pleasantly at cards, after which refreshments were served by the committee who were Mesdames L. O. Maddux, Geo. Bradburn, T. J. Rafferty, Robert Kidd, Maybelle Wilson and Dr. Lucretia Smith.

Mrs. A. E. Collins, who is spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kitchin, went to Riddle yesterday to be the guest of Mrs. B. B. Bullwinkle for a few days, and will remain until Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Lux have been asked to take dinner at the Kitchin home on Sunday, and in the afternoon will christen the small son of Mrs. Collins, who has been named Howard.

Mrs. Fred Damon leaves today for Portland after a three months visit with her mother, Mrs. M. A. Drellinger and sister, Mrs. Lafa Lewis. She will join Mr. Damon there, and go with him to New York City, stopping enroute at Detroit, Mich., during the convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Mr. Damon is one of the most prominent trainmen in Oregon.

The Baptist Young People's Union held a social meeting at the church last evening and enjoyed the program of games and refreshments which had been prepared by the committee.

Mrs. J. C. Aiken and Miss Florence Aiken are visiting Miss Aiken's sister, Mrs. Spencer, in Salem.

Girls Industrial Club.
The girls industrial club of the Fullerton school were fortunate enough to have Miss Cowgill, the industrial club leader from Corvallis, at their meeting yesterday afternoon. Mr. O. C. Brown, County School Superintendent, who is enthusiastically supporting the industrial movement, was present and made a few introductory remarks in presenting Miss Cowgill, who then gave a demonstration of scientific canning, explaining as she proceeded, the whys and wherefores of the process, which the fifty or more girls who were present took down in the note books they are keeping.

This club, tho' but recently organized, is already "doing things" and today held a window sale of articles made or cooked by the girls, assisted by members of the Parent-Teachers association, and will donate the proceeds to the piano fund for the Fullerton school. The club has for its president, Miss Vernita Kohlhaagen; vice-president, Leslie Butner; secretary, Margaret Zimmerman; treasurer, Helen Campbell; and for advisor, Mrs. Butner. They expect to keep up the club work during the vacation months and give even more attention to it than as they will not have other school duties to absorb their time.

The monthly social meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church was made the occasion of a farewell for Mrs. Lux on Thursday afternoon when it met at the home of Mrs. Alva Bellows in West Roseburg. Early spring roses in lovely shades of cream and gold decked the rooms and drew many admiring comments. After a brief business session in which plans were made for serving dinners during the carnival and convention to be held here in May, the meeting was given over to sociability. Mrs. Jean Pitts, as president of the society presented Mrs. Lux with a dozen Haviland cups and saucers as a token of the affectionate esteem in which she is held by the ladies of the organization. Mrs. Fory then sang Mrs. Lux's favorite song, "The Naughty Little Clock," and for an encore sang "Last Night". Little Marie Fory also sang very sweetly, "Jesus Loves Me, in her childish treble. The refreshment committee for the afternoon, composed of Mesdames Bellows, Aiken, Chandler, Shoemaker, and Misses Clapp and Buick, served a dainty repast to the guests, who numbered more than fifty.

R. A. E. C.
The members of the R. A. E. C. spent a very enjoyable afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ella Palm on Wednesday afternoon, the prescribed needlework forming the basis for entertainment for these industrious ladies. Those present were Mesdames Myrick Daniels, D. C. Humphrey, Gene Richardson, Mary Palm, O. Newhart, Eugene Bowers, Lloyd Adams, James Stephenson, May Patrick, Wm. Bagley, Henry Worthington, C. P. Lewis, Henry Snyder, and Miss Pearl Patrick, who was invited as a guest of the club. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. E. D. Neely next Wednesday.

Mrs. R. C. Geer, of Glendale, entertained very pleasantly last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Winnifred Hopkins, of Roseburg, who was visiting her sister, Bertha Hopkins, Saturday and Sunday. The evening was spent in social games and the hostess served delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cake and fruit punch. Those present were the Misses Esther Sargeant, Blanche Thompson, Frances Frater, Grace Maberly, Lora Pummil, Blanche and Helena Riddle, Hazel Rasor, Alta Wilson, Gladys Jackson, Winnifred and Bertha Hopkins, Messrs. Walter Amspoker, Ernest Riddle, George Rhodes, Alva Aikin, Fern Rockhill, Austin Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ball, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Thornton and the host and hostess.

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles F. Hopkins, special social features were arranged in honor of Mrs. Lux. Mrs. Hemis and Mrs. Skiff favored the audience with several songs, and Mrs. Pitts, in a poem which had been composed by Miss Marie Martens, expressed the feelings of regret which the departure of the pastor and his wife is causing among the members of the congregation and their friends. As a token of their regard for Mrs. Lux, the organization presented her with a souvenir spoon to commemorate the occasion.

At the final meeting last night of the week's pre-Easter sessions at the First Methodist church, an especial feature of interest was a discussion between Harold Zimmerman, Ted Jewett and Merwin Jeffrey, in the form of a debate. They were assigned to uphold the different viewpoints of three Chinese concerning the disposition of a supposed $50,000,000 fund for the best interests of their country. One stood for the expenditure of the money in national defense, the construction of submarines, battleships and equipment of armies, while the other two were staunch in their advocacy of education and Christianization. The treatment of the subject was very interesting, and had been studied and prepared with thoroughness. The Rev. Mr. Jeffrey also showed a very fine collection of stereopticon views on the life of Christ.

following guests were present: Mrs. Lux, Mrs. Marie Ritter, Mrs. A. L. Kitchin, Mrs. W. T. Wright, Mrs. Gleason, Miss Bristol, and Miss Violet Graham.

The tulips and roses for which Mrs. J. C. Fullerton is noted were used to brighten the rooms and dining table on Friday evening when Dr. and Mrs. Lux were tendered a farewell dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton. About the table were Dr. and Mrs. Lux, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Thackrah, Miss Violet Graham, Miss Jeannie Butck and the host and hostess.

COSTA RICAN BEAUTY FETED BY SOCIETY

Miss Maria Crespi.

Miss Maria Crespi, of San Jose, Costa Rica, house guest of the Costa Rican minister at Washington, has been the honor guest at an unusual number of entertainments in the national capital. She is a typical Latin-American beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rothermel entertained last Saturday evening at their attractive home on Willis avenue, in Glendale, with a dinner party for Mrs. H. L. Wilson, who left Sunday morning for Oklahoma on an extended visit. The table, which was most beautifully decorated with yellow spring flowers and foliage, was laid for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Darby, Miss Drake, of Grants Pass, Misses Ruth Williams, Alva Wilson, Louise Darby, Maria Wilson and Lee Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Darby entertained a few of their friends Monday night at their pretty home on Madrone Heights in Glendale. The evening was spent in playing games, listening to music, and enjoying delicious refreshments. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Knott, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rothermel, Mrs. Albert Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. George Drummond, Mrs. Ethel Wilson, Miss Loretta Snyder and E. R. Harvey.

Easter Cantata.
The young people of Glendale and the choir of the Presbyterian church will give a musical program the evening of Easter Sunday, at the Presbyterian church. In the course of the evening, the Easter cantata, "Death and Life," which was rendered last Easter, will again be given in full, due to the request of various ones of those who heard it before. Other than the cantata, the program will be entirely different from that which was rendered last Easter.

The Camp Fire Girls will assist tomorrow evening in the services at the Presbyterian church, giving some motion songs and recitations. Each participant will thereby merit another bead for her collection which gains a bead for each service or accomplishment of various works or deeds. Ott's orchestra will also add to the service by giving several selections appropriate to the day.

At the thimble party on Friday afternoon for which Mrs. L. L. Bodie was hostess, honoring Mrs. Lux, the Mrs. J. H. Booth left this morning to join her husband at Byron Springs, California, where Mr. Booth has spent the past ten days for the benefit of his health. Mr. and Mrs. Booth will remain at the springs for several days, and from there will make a trip east, going over one of the northern routes, stopping at Buffalo and Pittsburg for brief visits with friends, and making the delightful trip down the Hudson to New York where Mr. Booth has business to attend to. The return trip will be over a southern route, through the mountains of Kentucky, and includes a visit at the Grand Canyon of the Colorado and a visit of several days in southern California. The entire trip will cover more than four weeks.

Seven years ago there were born in the vicinity of Glendale four baby girls, on the 16th, 17th, 18 and 19th of April, respectively. Three of these still live there, namely, Ethel Smith, Sinna Hill and Beulah Van Guilder, and in their honor, Mrs. J. C. Van Guilder gave a party Wednesday afternoon to which a number of their playmates were invited to help celebrate the anniversaries.

The South Deer Creek Grange held a splendid social meeting at the hall last night, at which time an amusing comedy sketch was presented on the stage by some of the members.

Mrs. F. A. Warner and Mrs. Fred Renner will entertain the members of the Entre Nous Club of Green tomorrow afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. George A. Bradburn.

Mrs. C. L. Selecman will entertain a number of little folks at an Easter party next Monday afternoon, for the pleasure of her small daughter, Helen Anne.

Mrs. K. L. Miller will entertain a number of friends at cards this evening at her home.
