THERE ARE GOOD REASONS WHY JIMMY DUNN AND KILBANE TAKE NO CHANCES

Jimmy Dunn, Kilbane's manager, recently explained that Johnny earned over $40,000 last year and that for this reason they are unwilling to take chances with the title in fighting such tough boys as George... Many opine that in breaking a contract to fight Chaney, Kilbane forfeited his title.

R. O. Thiel, of Yoncalla, was the lowest bidder on the Union high school building to be built by three school districts near Walker. The building will be erected at Walker station. The twelve bids were opened last Saturday afternoon. Curtis Gardner is the architect of the four-room modern building.—Eugene Guard.

It has been fully demonstrated that the recent robbery of the Rice Bros. & Adams' general store at Myrtle Creek, was the work of some local party whose identity is practically known. Aside from a sack of flour and a few dollars in change, it is not thought that anything else was disturbed. It seems to be accepted that it was a case of wanting something to eat, and if the party had made his needs known, he would have been amply and generously supplied by the people of that place. It is said by citizens of Myrtle Creek here today, that the outlook for a most excellent crop of prunes never was better.

Chas. Holland and son, Sidney, H. P. Rice, and Ed. Fairbanks, of Myrtle Creek, came to Roseburg today to prove up a homestead for Mr. Fairbanks, located in section 18, township 283 west. Mr. Holland reports that the men who were appointed to settle the dispute over land between Hodgson and Steuer, returned a finding in which Hodgson was allowed the crop and must vacate the land by November 1, the land then going to Steuer. This is the case tried there several days ago, and in which District Attorney Nower made the recommendation that the settlement be made by arbitration rather than criminal or civil process, and the result fully bears out the wisdom of this advice.
