

In Club and Society Circles

The editor of this department will be pleased to have attention called to items for publication in these columns for the Wednesday and Saturday issues of The News, and may be reached by telephone at The News office, number 135, or at 147-J.

As tomorrow is Mother's Day, the churches will commemorate the day by special services, which will be in the nature of a tribute to Motherhood. When Miss Jarvis instituted the custom of celebrating Mother's Day back in Ohio some years ago, she perhaps little realized that the movement would become nationwide, and a permanent feature on the calendar for all time to come. The white flower for the mother who is gone and the bright for the one still among us will be in evidence tomorrow all over the land, in token of the love for the one who is "dearest, truest and nearest," anywhere.

Fullerton May Festival.

The May festival which was postponed from last Saturday on account of the rain was given this afternoon by the pupils of the Fullerton school in the park. At two-thirty, the pupils, assembled by grades, and accompanied by the juvenile band with stirring march music, marched from the school house to the park grounds. There Miss Elaine Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Brown, was crowned Queen of the May with very pretty ceremony, and afterward presided over the festivities of the day from her exalted position. A chorus then sang "Welcome to Spring," and were followed by the winding of the May pole by the primary girls in their dainty frocks. This made a very bewitching sylvan picture, with the little folks dancing and singing about the pole. Miss Ruth Bradford gave a reading entitled "The May Queen," and twenty four of the smaller boys in costume gave a Robin Hood drill, recalling the feats of that bold, romantic hero of childhood tales. Then came the airy Spring Song of Mendelssohn, without which no spring festivity is complete, and the larger boys performed a military drill in uniform. Addresses were made by local people on appropriate topics and several games played by the school before the closing chorus finished the afternoon program. Ice cream cones and popcorn were on sale and tables and benches were at the disposal of the audience, who expressed their appreciation of the various features by their enthusiastic applause.

Parent-Teachers Meeting.

A splendid meeting of the Parent-Teachers organization of the Fullerton school was held at the building last evening. On the program for the evening were a vocal solo by Mr. Joe Nee, a talk by Mrs. O. C. Brown on "Teaching English in the Home," and another vocal solo by Miss Lucy Millikin. Some time was consumed in discussing means of raising further funds for the purchase of a piano for the school, and among the methods which were decided on were the sale of pop corn and cones at the festival today, a Tag Day during the carnival, a lemonade booth on the west side on circus day, and a window sale on Saturday of carnival week. This enterprising organization expects to have the piano installed and ready for use by the opening of the fall semester.

Officers were elected for the coming year, those chosen being Mrs. Greg for president, Mrs. Butler vice-president, Mrs. C. W. Bradford for secretary, Mrs. H. Campbell treasurer, and Miss Ruth Swinney for librarian. Refreshments were served by the committee upon adjournment.

Benson Parent-Teachers Meet.

The last meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of the Benson school before the close of the school was held at the building last night, and officers for the ensuing year were chosen. Mrs. O. H. Bennett was made president, Mrs. Gilmore vice-president, Miss Ruth Aikin secretary, and Miss Aitken treasurer. A very interesting program had been arranged by the committee, and included a song by Miss Caldwell, pupils, "My Tribute"; a recitation by Miss Alvirde Campbell; a song by a number of the seventh grade pupils; a concert recitation by pupils from Mrs. Halvorson's class; a song, "Gentle May," by Miss Aitken's primary pupils; a paper on the Girls' Industrial club work, by the president of the society, Miss Rosa Webb; and a paper on the corresponding boys' industrial club, by its president, Seaburn John. The girls' club is known as the Loyal Leaders and the boys' as the Stitches' club. Then followed a spirited discussion on industrial work, and it was decided to keep the fires of industrial enthusiasm alive in the children through the summer vacation, and a committee was appointed to look after this matter. A committee was also chosen to arrange for the appearance of the Benson grades in the carnival parade.

A social hour and refreshments closed the evening.

The Trotters' dancing club met last night from eight to eleven in their custom and enjoyed a "shirt waist" dance.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thompson will entertain Mr. and Mrs. John Dowell and Miss Ruth Averill at dinner tomorrow.

Shower for Bride-Elect.

A number of the most intimate friends of Miss Florence Lilburn were invited by Mrs. M. M. Miller for an afternoon of "500" at her home on E. Cass street last Wednesday. During the afternoon a messenger delivered a number of telegrams to Miss Lilburn, the messages coming from celebrities, high state officials and foreign potentates, and expressing hopes for the happiness of the bride-to-be and regret at not being able to attend the kitchen shower.

After several hours at cards, the hostess invited the party into the dining room where the dining table presented a truly bridal appearance with its large basket of pink roses, surmounted with a fluffy tulle bow of the same shade. The hostess and the honor guest presided at the table, Mrs. Miller pouring and Miss Lilburn serving the bridal cake which held the time-honored ring, button and coin, the symbols of destiny. The ring was found by Mrs. McDaniel and the button by Miss Helen Jane Hammon, but the coin failed to come to light, remaining in the uncut portion of the cake. Each guest was given a pink heart-shaped card bearing a verse expressing some good wish for the bride, and as these were read, they were bestowed upon Miss Lilburn to insure their fulfillment.

After tea a pink basket was set before Miss Lilburn, whose task it was to open the packages which held for her an assortment of kitchen utensils, many of which were accompanied with clever verses appropriate to the gift and occasion.

Miss Lilburn's marriage to Dr. Lee Wells, of Portland, will occur early in June, and several affairs are being planned in her honor during the next few weeks.

Mrs. Perkins Hostess.

The third of a series of delightful afternoons for which Mrs. J. W. Perkins has been hostess in the past fortnight was the bridge luncheon given yesterday afternoon at her home on Mosher street. Places were arranged at four small tables for sixteen guests who were Mesdames J. Ellen Perkins, H. H. Stapleton, A. A. Wilder, G. J. Bacher, K. L. Miller, J. F. Barker, Von Planta, Seemann, J. C. Hume, S. A. Sanford, Charles Wharton, Lilburn, F. W. Haynes, W. S. Hamilton and Miss Florence Lilburn.

A lovely touch was given to each table by a center of exquisite pink rose buds held within a slender vase. The same pink shade was noted in the tinted place cards and in the baskets of roses and carnations about the room.

After partaking of luncheon, the party enjoyed several rounds of bridge in which Mrs. Wilder was the winner of high honors, being awarded a beautiful towel with crocheted ends, while Miss Mabel Albright made second score and Mrs. von Planta consolation. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Carl D. Shoemaker and the Misses Mabel Albright, Velle Barker and Hildegarde Shoemaker during the luncheon.

Reception for Bride to Be.

Mrs. Narcisse La Raut was hostess at a delightful party of forty-five guests given at her home for a bride to be. The reception room was beautiful in garlands of yellow and pink roses hung from the ceiling and a pink rose color scheme in the dining room, also bouquets of roses and bright lined pommes were in vases. A musical and literary program was a feature of the afternoon, after which the announcement cards bearing the inscription, "Mrs. Mary E. Brown is pleased to announce the engagement of her daughter Lillian Grace Brown to George William Short, Jr.," decorated with rosebuds and tied with love knots of white ribbon were laid on plates and passed to each guest preceding the refreshments which were served by the Misses Ruth Chapmny and Mae Wells. Punch was served by the Misses Clara Maley and Edith Jones. The interesting part came at the last when Miss Brown and Miss Kathleen La Raut carried in a large basket filled with dainty and useful presents from friends.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. W. Maddox, on E. Douglass street, the hostesses for the afternoon being Mrs. Shuey, Mrs. W. W. Thackrah and Mrs. Maddox. Mrs. A. J. Bellows read a very interesting paper on missionary work in China, Mrs. B. L. Eddy told of the experiences of a returned missionary from Catechka, India, who had visited Roseburg some time ago, and Miss Clapp read some interesting items from missionary fields.

After the business session, the hostesses served cake, coffee and ice cream with strawberries, and a social time was enjoyed by the twenty five ladies present.

The Junior Picnic.

The weather made amends yesterday for its offense two weeks ago in necessitating a postponement of the Junior picnic, for the sun shone brightly enough to lure these young people out to Maple Grove for a day's outing. The trip was made in French's auto truck, two loads being carried to their destination before ten o'clock in the morning, after which a variety of games and amusements were enjoyed. Then followed a picnic spread with coffee brewed over an open fire, and the return trip was made late in the afternoon.

W. T. Wrights Take Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wright are planning to leave Roseburg tomorrow morning at five o'clock and go by machine to Eugene, where they will be met by their niece, Miss Fannie Campbell. Mr. Wright will return by train from Eugene, but Mrs. Wright will continue her trip to Corvallis in the car with Miss Campbell, who will keep it there and return in it at the close of school in June. Mrs. Wright will remain in Corvallis until Thursday.

Will Spend Summer Here.

Mrs. S. S. Josephson today received a telegram from her sister, Mrs. J. E. Ransom, in Walla Walla, Wash., that she would arrive in Roseburg tomorrow instead of today, as had been planned. Mrs. Ransom will be accompanied by her small son, Ned, and daughter, Lucy, and her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Mullen, who has spent the winter with her, and they will remain here during the summer, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Josephson.

Seleman's Entertain at "500"

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Seleman last Thursday when a number of their friends responded to an invitation for the evening. The party made six tables of "500" in which both prizes were won by ladies, Miss Margaret McLallen and Miss Florence Lilburn. A late supper concluded a delightful evening.

Cards and Dancing Party.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Seals at 437 S. Rose street, was the scene of a very merry party one evening this week, when a number of friends gathered and spent several hours at cards or dancing, according to their pleasure.

M. Updegraff, representative sent by the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

Garden Valley Improvement Society.

Mrs. W. D. Hess' home at Garden Valley was the scene of great social activity yesterday afternoon. The occasion was a meeting of the Garden Valley Improvement Society, and, as it was the last opportunity of Mrs. and Miss Bradford, who are leaving shortly for the east, to be present, not only did the members meet in full force, but many guests, including the Industrial Girls' sewing club, were present.

Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Calhoun were joint hostesses, and toward the latter part of the afternoon they served delicious refreshments, including ice cream much to the delight of the children of the party. The guests included Mrs. Rearick, Mrs. McDaniels, Mrs. Tooley, Mrs. Martin and Miss Wilson. The next meeting will be on May 26, when Mrs. H. Carmouche will be hostess.

High School Dance Tonight.

Pennants will flutter gaily tonight while the younger contingent of Roseburg society keeps step to the music furnished by the orchestra at the dance given by the high school at the Armory.

Mrs. Wm. Bell will entertain at luncheon next Wednesday, complimenting Miss Florence Lilburn.

Burbank Industrial Club.

The girls of the Rose school who have affiliated with the Burbank Industrial club were entertained at the home of Miss Blanche Galarneau yesterday afternoon, and the time was spent sewing on bags and aprons. The hostess refreshed the workers with punch and cake after a session of industry.

Dance at Dixonville.

The dances at Dixonville last night broke all preceding records for attendance. Supper was served to one hundred thirty three, among these being twenty from Oakland and more than thirty from Roseburg. The dances are very popular and are steadily gaining in favor.

Mr. Geddes' Class Picnics.

The sixteen girls in Mr. Geddes' Sunday school class, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Geddes, went to Nachter Grove, beyond the hospital, and enjoyed a picnic today. The large baskets which swung by their sides as they marched on their way promised much for the day's enjoyment.

Epworth League Picnics.

The young people of the Epworth League society of the M. E. church, South, last night repaired to the west side park for a wiener roast, and an evening of out door games.

PROVES SHE ISN'T A MERE BUTTERFLY

Miss Frances Moore at National Service School.

Miss Frances Moore is one of the younger social leaders of the national capital, but she is proving to the satisfaction of her friends that she isn't a mere butterfly. This picture of her was taken at the Women's National Service School.
