Mrs. J. F. Gaylor and son, Fred, and Dr. Bertha E. Sawyer, left this morning for Ashland, after attending the Grand Lodge session and Strawberry carnival in this city. Mr. Gaylor will remain in this city for a short time until the automobile in which they motored from their home at Klamath Falls is repaired. It was broken in a collision with another car Saturday and repair parts from Portland are being waited.

CARNIVAL FINANCES ARE IN GOOD SHAPE

The executive committee of the eighth Annual Strawberry carnival have been busy during the past two days figuring just where they stand in regard to financial matters. The cash donations from the merchants of the city were better this year than they had been for several years previous and to this amount was added the fund raised by the queen contests, the sale of carnival goods and the dances and the sale of privileges. The committee states that their expenses were heavier this year than they have been during the past two or three years, due to the fact that more and better prizes were offered in nearly every department. Although a considerable quantity of carnival goods remains on hand the committee figures that they will have about $150 as a starting fund for next year.
