DR. SEELY WILL REALIZE AMBITION

Tomorrow the patriotic American public is promised an opportunity to hear one of the greatest oratorical efforts on the behalf of the American flag ever given in this city. Tomorrow the American eagle will scream in its unconfined glory. Tomorrow the ambition of a life time will be realized. The above statements are merely apropos to saying that Dr. Seely will deliver the Flag Day address for the Elks lodge tomorrow afternoon.

Since his early boyhood "Doc" has earnestly cherished the ambition to deliver an address on the American flag. While but a child on the farm he delivered many fluent, eloquent and euphonious discourses to the assembled cows and chickens until in their enthusiasm the roosters tried to imitate the eagle scream while the cows attempted to render patriotic airs.

As years passed on the doctor rose rapidly in the business world, many occasions were offered him for public speaking until his language became polished and the words fell from his lips in a smooth flow which caused audiences to sway to a single word. As president of the Commercial club his silver-tongued oratory was called upon many times to express the welcome of the city to visitors and to address the residents upon questions of public issue, but never before has he been given a chance at the flag.

The republican convention was a great treat to him. The greatest orators of the time paid tribute to the American flag and from them the doctor drew many phrases which will greatly assist him and give the listener an echo from that great meeting. However it is promised that "Old Glory" will receive a greater speech in its honor tomorrow than many of the famous orators of the country would attempt.

The meeting is public at the Elks temple tomorrow afternoon pursuant to the proclamation of the governor setting aside Wednesday as Flag Day.

CORNELL CREW SELECTED AND READY FOR THE COMING BIG RACE WITH HARVARD

Cornell crew out on a practice brush.

The Cornell 'varsity crew has been selected and the men are being brought to their best form for the season's big races, especially the Harvard contest. Seven of the present line-up were in the Poughkeepsie race last year, though only three of them rowed against Harvard on Cayuga lake a year ago. Assistant Coach John Hoyle will have charge of the crew this year, as Coach Courtney's poor health will not let him take active part. The 'varsity boating order is: Bow, Fernow; two, Bird; three, Brower; four, Andrus; five, Warn; six, Cushing; seven, Lund; stroke, Collyer; coxswain, Chandler.
