

MEMBERS OF FOURTH CO. PESSIMISTIC

Believe They Have Little Chance of Going to Mexico.

RESERVES NEEDED FOR COAST DEFENSE

Many Hold Opinion That War Department Would Not Send All the Soldiers to Border With Coast Unguarded.

Although Captain J. A. Buchanan still voices the opinion that the fourth company of Coast Artillery will be called for service in Mexico within thirty days many of the members of the organization are very pessimistic over their chances of being called out. With the fact in view that all the infantry troops have been summoned and no orders received relative to the disposition of the Coast Artillery corps many believe the prospect for border service a remote possibility.

At the time the company here was transferred from Infantry to Coast artillery it was believed that they would be used the same as the infantry in case of a necessity as at the present time, instead of this, however, it appears to be the tendency to hold the boys for defense work instead of rushing them to the border along with the regiment from the northern part of the state. The reason which many of them hold in sustaining their statements that the local company will not be called out was expressed by one of the members in a conversation this morning. He said, "There is very little show for us. There are at present only enough regular coast artillerymen in the state to man one battery and with the number of reserves there would not be enough to handle more than half the defense guns. I do not think it would be policy on the part of the war department to take all the troops from Oregon and leave the coast defenseless in case of an attack from a hostile nation, and we are trained for this work and have proven our efficiency in the yearly shoots. I do not believe for an instant that the war department will consider taking us outside the state, and in case we do receive orders it will be to go to the coast defense and remain there to release the regulars."

Another fact which is against the local company is contained in one of the bulletins sent by the war department to the officers of the national guard. The statement reads: "The Army of the United States shall consist of its Mobile troops and the Coast Artillery". This is construed to mean that the Infantry is to be used for offensive purposes while the coast artillery troops will be used only to defend the coast line.

With the movement on foot for a general mobilization many of the members of the Fourth company are becoming disappointed and are giving way to the prevalent pessimism. They are still hoping against hope however, and although they can see no chance for their being sent are clinging to the last straw. It is also freely predicted that is the Coast artillery is left at home that it will be the end of the organization as it is not believed that the young men will enlist if they are to be given no chance to fight. Many of those whose enlistment expires within a short time are anxious to see the organization of an infantry company and say that they intend to agitate the matter as soon as they are at liberty to do so.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT ON BREWSTER HILL

C. A. Maddox and wife, of Omaha, Neb., had a narrow escape from a serious accident late yesterday afternoon when their automobile upset as they were coming over the Brewster hill.

The road at the place where the accident happened was in very bad shape and Mr. Maddox was forced to travel at a very low rate of speed. He failed to observe a bad place in the road and the machine turned over completely.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Maddox escaped without injury, although they were badly shaken as a result of their experience. The machine proceeded into town under its own power and the repairs were made at the Ford garage.

GERMANS RUSHED TO RUSSIAN FRONT

Hope to Check the Advances Made by Czar's Forces.

MARCH TOWARD LEMBERG OPPOSED

Pressure Brought to Bear By England on the Greek King Causes Entire Cabinet To Resign.

BERLIN, June 21.—Vienna dispatches of today admitted that the Austrian right wing continues its steady retreat before the Russians. The terrific force of the Russian artillery is causing General Pflanzer the Austrian commander, to retire, instead of sacrificing his men, Vienna reported. It is expected that he will shortly make a stand.

Four German divisions were rushed to a 30-mile front near Brody, where the Russians have opened a heavy attack, evidently preparing for a smash toward Lemberg.

Drive Halted in Places. BERLIN, June 21.—The forces of the Russian left wing continue their victorious march toward the city of Bukovina, according to an official report made public today, but the right wing has been halted and in some places driven back. It is announced that the Russians who crossed the Stry river were driven back upon the main army and that a thousand prisoners were captured.

German Troops Rushed East. Six German divisions of 120,000 men have been hurried eastward to check the Russian offensive, dispatches from Geneva declared. Two divisions are enroute to the Lutsk-Kovel front. The Austrians are counter attacking vigorously on the northern flank of Brusiloff's armies, and the Russian advance is apparently temporarily checked.

Germans Repulsed by Brusiloff. PETROGRAD, June 21.—Brusiloff's army repulsed the persistent German attacks near Voronin, capturing a number of prisoners, is announced tonight. Between June 4 and 15, the army of Brusiloff has captured 3356 officers, 170,000 men, two hundred guns, 550 machine guns, 189 bomb throwers and 115 artillery limbers is announced.

Infantry Operations Quiet. PARIS, June 21.—Following an explosion of two mines, the Germans attacked south of Berrysubac, near Rheims, but a screen fire checked the assault. The artillery has been active around Verdun, but the infantry has made no new gains.

Greek Cabinet Resigns. LONDON, June 21.—The Athens correspondent of the Central News cabled that the Greek cabinet had resigned under pressure of the allies. The official announcement is being withheld.

ORDERS FOR ARTILLERY CO. ARE RECEIVED

Col. Hammond Issues Instructions to Capt. Buchanan.

MUST PREPARE COMMAND IMMEDIATELY

Company Commanders Will Get In Touch With All Men and Officers Enlisted in Their Organizations.

The first orders to be received by Capt. Buchanan in regard to the mobilization of the fourth company arrived this morning. They contain nothing definite, but merely general orders and follow along the same lines as the instructions first issuing from the governor's office at Salem. They are as follows:

Company commanders will prepare their commands immediately for service in case the coast artillery is called for mobilization, which action may take place at any time.

Company commanders will immediately get in touch with all men and officers in their organizations securing their postoffice addresses and telephone numbers, where ever practicable. They will notify them to be ready to report at the local armory in case mobilization occurs. They will also see that two good cooks are enlisted.

Recruiting officers will be appointed and lieutenants designated as quartermasters. The recruiting officers will obtain all the blank forms needed, as morning reports, sick reports, duty rosters, ration returns and field returns. The quartermasters will segregate the property to be left in the armory and have it so arranged that an inventory can be obtained in the shortest possible time. Arrangements will be made for the care taking of the armory and property left behind. Arrangements will be made for the caring of men during mobilization period at the local armories. The field range mess equipment and cooking utensils should be put in serviceable condition. This is of primary importance. The data on mobilization from the adjutant general of date March 24, 1916, will be thoroughly read and suggested preparations made.

By order of COLONEL C. C. HAMMOND, W. G. WILLIAMS, Capt. C. A. C. Adjutant.

Capt. Buchanan was yesterday in communication by telephone with Col. Hammond for several minutes. The latter stated that the future action depended on the outcome of the Mexican situation within the next few days. Should Carranza decide to show fight the government would undoubtedly need all available men and the coast artillery would be called into service. He is personally certain that the Mexicans will fight, but has received no official word to this effect. In issuing the above order he is merely preparing the companies under his charge for service in case of emergency and so that they can be mobilized with the least possible delay.

The order to obtain the address of his men has been followed by Capt. Buchanan since he received the first instructions. Although the company was badly scattered, he has found a greater number of them and is receiving answers rapidly. Del Green this morning telegraphed that he was at Bend, but was starting for Roseburg on the next train. He is anxious to go to the border. Harley Watson is still in Washington and begging to be transferred to an infantry company in that state. Others have already reported and asked that any further orders be sent them at once, stating that they are making preparations so that they can leave their present location at any time.

DEMOCRATIC SUFFRAGE PLANK IS INTERPRETED BY WILSON

WASHINGTON, June 21.—President Wilson today interpreted the democratic suffrage plank as an approval of the suffrage movement, but recommended the movement have

MORE REGULARS ORDERED BY DEPARTMENT

Four Regiments of Infantry and Two of Cavalry Wanted.

MEXICANS BOAST OF THEIR POWERS

Naval Blockade of All Mexican Ports is Expected to Be Put Into Effect At An Early Date.

SAN ANTONIO, June 21.—The secretary of war today wired General Funston to immediately recruit four regiments of infantry and two of cavalry, for regular service, detailed instructions for the recruiting were mailed from Washington.

Immediately upon receipt of the orders recruiting was started. Funston denied, however, that he had made a second appeal for militia to be hurried to the border.

Mexicans Make Boasts.

It has been reported on very good authority that the Mexicans in the city of Ojinaga have assumed a threatening attitude although no outbreaks have occurred. Funston said today that "they were running around in a circle making great boasts of what they intend to do if hostilities break out."

General Pershing still has regular scouts on both sides of the line of communication, but that so far he has found no Mexican detachments within easy striking distance of his troops.

Guarantee Given Mexicans.

Sheriff Salinas, of Laredo county, its inception in the various states. Wilson told a number of women from Virginia that the plank did not necessarily disapprove of the federal amendment ideas.

has issued a proclamation to all Mexicans in the county requesting them to report to him any attempts made by fellow countrymen to incite a revolt.

Guarantees of protection were made to them if they kept the peace, but despite the proclamation a great number of Mexicans crossed over into their native land today.

Mobilization is Incomplete.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Secretary of War Baker did not order the militia of the several states to the border today on account of the fact that the details of mobilization were not completed.

The troops will doubtless be enroute to the border at the end of the present week.

Just what states will receive the first calls depend upon the state of preparedness they are found in. It is considered likely that more than 50,000 will comprise the first army sent at the first call.

The method of calling out the boys is as yet undecided, and it will only be gone when the developments of the situation require it. The reports that the administration intends to ask for a half million men is grossly exaggerated.

Naval Blockade Considered.

An order putting into effect a naval blockade of all Mexican ports is expected at an early date. The officials of the navy department said that this would be a comparatively easy matter to accomplish, but as the population is already near the starvation point, the putting into effect of a real blockade would further add to their sufferings. The officials for this reason are inclined to go slow, and real action in this matter will not come for several weeks.

The health of the militiamen is a thing to be considered as they must be acclimated and it is expected that after they reach the border a period of waiting will follow, while Carranza is given another chance.

Reading American Note.

MEXICO CITY, June 21.—Carranza and his cabinet met in special session this afternoon to consider the American note. He refused to see any correspondents.

RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

Albert Abraham Back From Trip to Chicago.

WAS SUCCESSFUL IN HIS EFFORTS

Acts of Himself and Friends in Foregoing Justice Hughes' Name On Ballot Ratified When He Is Made Nominée.

Hon. Albert Abraham, delegate to the republican national convention at Chicago, returned to Roseburg today after an absence of about three weeks. Mr. Abraham states that he has had a very pleasant trip and is highly elated over the nomination of Justice Hughes for president.

That Mr. Abraham is in a large way responsible for the nomination of the republican candidate is accorded by all. It was through the efforts of himself and a few friends that Mr. Hughes' name was placed upon the Oregon ballot in spite of the refusal and obstacles with which he was confronted. In the convention he was an ardent supporter of his candidate and the Oregon delegation was accorded every courtesy.

In speaking of the convention he mentions expressly the intense enthusiasm and earnestness of the delegates. In spite of the great amount of influence brought to bear upon them they labored faithfully for what they believed to be the best interests of the party. And although intensely enthusiastic they were not demonstrative to the detriment of the business at hand.

In returning he has brought with him several large pictures of the convention hall with its mass of delegates. One especially clear picture shows clearly the face of nearly every person in attendance. All the
