Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, is another democrat who has the true measure of democratic statesmanship. In a speech in the senate a few days ago, opposing the river and harbor bill, he remarked that "the situation of our federal treasury is unsatisfactory. The treasury is depleted. It is a grim condition that stares us in the face. Of course I know the great honor and the glory which it brings to a member of congress to return to his constituency and to point to some lavish appropriation obtained for some spring branch in his district. He may point to it as a monument, but I fear it may serve as a different sort of a monument, and may bear a real epitaph, not only of senators and representatives, but of democracy itself. If we persist in this policy of overburdening economy and over scrupulous redemption of our solemn pledges to the American electorate." Senator Gore then proceeded to say that there are a few projects which deserve favorable consideration, and he argued in favor of an amendment increasing the appropriation for one project from $60,000 to $1,000,000.

Republican ladies of Roseburg and Douglas county, you should get busy and not be the last in the state to organize Hughes clubs and participate in the campaign this summer and fall. You are equal citizens of the commonwealth of Oregon with the men voters, and the rest of the country will watch with eager interest the use you are making of the rights of suffrage, and on the proof of this will depend future success in other states. Fully seventy-five per cent of the women voters of Oregon are republicans from choice, education and natural preference, and this vote should be a telling force at the polls this fall to help swell the assured majority for Hughes and Fairbanks. Any assistance The News can give such a club in the way of publicity and encouragement will be most gladly furnished.

Pendleton is working hard to secure the location of a normal school there, and has arranged all the necessary legal formalities to provide a vote on the question this fall. If the measure carries, as it would appear it should, a bill will be introduced in the legislature next winter asking for an appropriation of $125,000 for the construction of the buildings, and a levy of one twenty-fifth of a mill annually for maintenance, which will bring in from $25,000 to $40,000 for this purpose each year.

One of the results of the sudden call to arms of the young men belonging to the state militia, as noticed in the press over the state, is the number of weddings occurring just before the departure of the boys for the assembling camp. Evidently being shot with one of Dan Cupid's darts is not as disagreeable or fatal as a Mauser bullet might be.

The name Charles will play quite a prominent part in the republican ticket this fall, for it is the given name of the candidates for president and vice-president, one of our candidates for the legislature, the candidate for clerk, coroner and justice of the peace. Quite a bunch of "Charley boys" one might say.

It is about time for the appearance of some submarine activities again, and also for another Zepplin raid, as both of these branches of the military and naval equipment have been rather quiet for several weeks. Surely they have not all been captured or sunk.

CITY NEWS.

Attorney Dexter Rice left this afternoon for Drath where he will spend a few hours attending to business matters.

Mrs. B. E. Burrows and two children, of Cottage Grove, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bosserman.

O. F. Reibel and son, Clifford, left this afternoon for Westlake, where they expect to spend a couple of weeks on their vacation.

The Empqua Valley Fruit Union is now taking orders for St. Valentine Broccoli plants, grown from imported seed. Order early and get the best. 660-4aw-17

Mrs. C. F. Hopkins is expected to return tonight from Portland where she has been visiting for the past two weeks with her daughter, who is employed there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Fitzpatrick are planning to leave within a few days for Berkeley, Calif., where they will take the summer course offered by the university there. They will be accompanied as far as Weed, Calif., by Mrs. Fitzpatrick's sister, Mrs. Edwin Thornton, who will go to Lakeview, in southern Oregon, for a few weeks.

O. K. McCurtin and W. C. Curtis, of Dixonville, leave here today and will drive through to Riverside, Harney county, where both will take up homesteads. They figure on being all the way from ten days to a month on the road, as they will make numerous stops. Mrs. McCurtin and daughter leave tonight for Portland and from there to Pendleton, where visits will be made for some time before reaching Riverside. Mr. McCurtin has not disposed of his property in this county, but will retain it in the event of his coming back.

CROSSING TO BE TEMPORARY

County Judge R. W. Marsters today received the decision of the public service commission in allowing a crossing over the S. P. railroad tracks at Myrtle Creek. The crossing was denied twice by the commission, but on the third it was agreed to allow a temporary crossing.

It was shown by the county court that the amount of traffic passing over the road would not justify the building of an overhead or a subway crossing. The road is merely for the purpose of providing an outlet for the residents on the west side of the river who at the present time are unable to reach Myrtle Creek without a great deal of trouble. The bridge at this point is also very unsafe and is unable to bear the required amount of traffic. The county court agreed to repair the structure and on this condition the commission has allowed a temporary crossing to be maintained at this point for one year.

In view of the fact that there is a great likelihood of the crossing being abandoned when the highway is built along the new survey just completed, the commission says it has granted the request, but will not allow it to be continued for any length of time and only one year by special permission.

ARE MARRIED AT PORTLAND

Claude Welch and Leah Pitchford Contracting Parties.

EVENT COMES AS GREAT SURPRISE

Mother and Sister of Bride Did Not Know Wedding Was to Occur Until Message Received Announcing Event.

The news of the marriage of Miss Leah Pitchford, of Roseburg, and Claude Welch, of Portland, at four o'clock yesterday afternoon came as a complete surprise to the friends and relatives of the couple in this city today. No information of the coming event had been given by either of the contracting parties to their many friends in this city, and the marriage was entirely unexpected.

Miss Pitchford left Roseburg before the rose festival intending to remain only two weeks. According to a telephone message received this morning she was married yesterday afternoon at the home of A. Welch, father of the groom, Rev. E. O. Eldridge, of Tabor Heights, formerly minister in this city officiating. The ceremony was very quiet, only the immediate relatives and friends being present, after which a wedding dinner was given by Mr. Welch at the Benson hotel.

As a wedding present Mr. and Mrs. Welch were given a beautiful new home on Tabor heights by the groom's father and they will make their future home there. They will come to Roseburg in about two weeks to visit with the bride's mother and sister.

Mrs. Welch has been a resident of this city for many years prior to her marriage, having spent the greater part of her life in Roseburg and was one of the most popular in society circles.

Mr. Welch was employed in the local water and light office and made hundreds of friends during his residence in this city. He is at present managing one of the large automobile garages in Portland, and is considered a very successful young business man.

The many friends of the happy couple in Roseburg unite with The News in extending their hearty congratulations and well wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

COMPANY WILL GIVE PICNIC

Committees were appointed last night to arrange for a fourth of July celebration to be given by the fourth company coast artillery corps at Winchester. It is planned to hold a real old fashioned celebration and the committee will prepare a program with this end in view.

The boys will leave Roseburg on the evening of the third and will march to the grounds, pitch camp and spend the night in true military style. In the morning will be held regular camp drills, after which a short program will be rendered. This will consist of the singing of patriotic songs, the reading of the declaration of independence and an address by some prominent citizen. In the afternoon the company baseball team will cross bats with a pick-up squad and a good game of ball is expected.

They will break camp about six o'clock in the evening for their march back to this city. At noon a basket luncheon will be held for the soldier boys to furnish coffee for the crowd which it is expected will attend. There will be a jitney service to Winchester on that day to give all who desire an opportunity to attend.

RANGE DEMONSTRATION AT LILBURN STORE

The Duplex Alcazar range, which is being demonstrated this week at the Lilburn house furnishing store, has been attracting a great deal of interest among passers-by. One style of range has a background of guaranteed white porcelain, and steel top, which makes it very attractive in addition to its other exceptional features. It is a combination of gas and coal or wood stove, the oven being arranged so that it may be heated either by gas or by a fuel box. Above are four burners, each for the wood and for gas, exhibiting the newest and most highly perfected ideas in "rangers".

BALDWIN GETS TRANSFER

Ralph Baldwin, a member of the fourth company coast artillery corps was today transferred to company I, Woodburn, and left this afternoon for Clackamas where he will join his company. He is in the same troop as LeNoir Ragsdale, who left yesterday for Woodburn, making the trip to the mobilization camp with Co. I. Baldwin has been one of the most eager to go to the Mexican front and when the news of his transfer came was highly elated.

Mrs. Darling, who is demonstrating the operation of the range, is at the store from nine to five any day this week, and explains to all callers the details and mechanism of this splendid range. No matches are required to light the gas in this range, as there is a magic lighter for the oven, and the top burners are lighted by a pilot.

TAKES TRIP IN THE INTEREST OF PROHIBITION

S. G. Bettes, the cowboy preacher, accompanied by his wife, left this afternoon for Salem, from where they will take an auto on a trip in which they will visit nearly every state in the union. They will go to New York city, stopping at all the principal cities along the way and return by the southern route through the middle west and back to Los Angeles. They are working in the interests of national prohibition.

They will also be accompanied by Chas. Grant, wife and two children, all of whom are excellent singers and who will furnish music for the programs. They expect to return in the month of November.

DEBATE

A debate between Edward Mackey, of London, Oregon, and Floyd Ramp, of Roseburg, subject, "The Divinity of the Bible and Evolution," will be held at the Church of Christ, corner Cobb and Roberts streets, commencing June 26th and lasting until July 1st. All are welcome. 721-324

DANCE WILL BE SUCCESS.

That the dance to be given Saturday night in the interest of the swimmers of the city who are to build bath houses and apparatus at the Alexander swimming hole, will be well attended is evidenced by the large number of tickets sold. They are going rapidly and the dance is certain to be a success. Those in charge are planning to drop electric fans from the roof in order to keep the hall cool in case of a warm evening.

Frank Hoover and wife, of Myrtle Creek, arrived in Roseburg this afternoon and will spend a few weeks here. Mr. Hoover has been in very poor health for some time and will receive medical treatment while in this city.

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICES K. OF P.

The local lodge Knights of Pythias held their annual memorial services Sunday afternoon, according to their custom. The time of Damon and Pythias dates back many hundred years and the lesson which had its origin in the actual life of these two great characters has been a wonderful tribute to mankind through all the ages. It is today one of the greatest teachings to be found anywhere.

"Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you." This is why some 800,000 members are enrolled under the banner of this great order in the United States.

R. E. Jope delivered the memorial address, he being a member of the order for many years, and spoke ably of the beneficial workings of the Knights, and to be sure he planted many very impressive thoughts in the minds of his listeners.

Like a minister he took a text and used the above mentioned "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you". The gathering of the brothers upon this occasion he said was one that showed their feeling man to man, their friendship for the departed as well as for the living. He said it was not always the person that furnished the idea that made the most out of it, but those who lived up to the ideal bore as much credit and sometimes more than the originator of the idea.

Among the good deeds that we do, none stand out quite so clear and distinct as the acts of our lives in following out the idea of doing as we would be done by. This is why the members gather once a year to pay tribute to the departed brothers. Their memory for the ones who were once by us, show that as we pass one by another that we shall be remembered accordingly as we have lived.

During the earthquake in California the Knights of Pythias was the first order to send aid to the suffering. They sent aid to the amount of $4000, and the first lodge to send part of this amount was Alpha lodge No. 47, of Roseburg, Ore. The greatness of the order is not known by its numbers—it is the deeds that count in this world, and the good that is found in the teachings of the Knights of Pythias is a glowing tribute to the world today.

The services were carried out according to the ritual on this occasion, and under the able supervision of C. F. Hopkins. The music on this memorial occasion will long be remembered as being in perfect harmony with the other numbers. Two most pleasing selections were rendered ed by Mrs. Chas. A. Brand, with Mrs. Nadine Shepard accompanying, and another fine solo was rendered by Leon McClintock, Mrs. Shepard accompanying.

The Knights will always have a warm spot in their hearts for this assistance and words cannot express their appreciation for it. The ceremonies were ended by the Knights marching to the I. O. O. F. cemetery and decorating the graves of their deceased members.

LETTERS OF ORPET ARE ADMITTED

WAUKEGAN, June 21.—The letters which Will Orpet wrote to Marian Lambert were admitted in evidence this afternoon. The court permitted this, though he recently said they would have a damaging effect on Orpet's case. Eighty three letters detail the efforts of Orpet to first win Marian's love, second, the cooling of his passion, and last his attempts to relieve Marian's illness.

RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

foremost men at the convention may be seen. Chairman Harding, seated in his position, with the many others on the platform by his side. Every state delegation is clearly shown, the faces of the individuals being plainly discernible in spite of the large size of the hall. He also has in his possession a beautiful souvenir given by the mayor of Chicago to the delegates, consisting of a leather bound book bearing pictures of the famous buildings in Chicago with pictures taken from the convention. On the outside the name of the delegate is stamped in gold.

MUNITIONS TO MEXICO BARRED

Permits Previously Granted Will Not Be Honored.

PORTLAND, June 21.—The withholding of all shipments of munitions of war to Mexico was ordered at the Portland customs house yesterday on receipt of advices from Washington. Thomas C. Burke, collector of customs for the Oregon district, received the following orders from the secretary of the treasury: "In accordance with request of the secretary of state, hold up all shipments of munitions of war to Mexico regardless of any recent permit granted. The order is supplemental to the one issued a few months ago, which held up shipments conditionally. The new order removes all conditions and halts anything considered under the head of war munitions.
