

MAURICE McLAUGHLIN, THE WELL-KNOWN TENNIS "COMET," MAY QUIT THE GAME

Maurice McLaughlin.

Maurice McLaughlin, California's illustrious tennis "comet," may never have part in tournament play again according to recent word received in the east by his friends. At any rate he does not plan to come east to play this summer. He is said to have thought unjust the criticism he met when he ventured to open a sporting goods business with his doubles partner, Thomas G. Bundy. McLaughlin is not wealthy and must give over most of his time to business.

Albert Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hopkins, of Canyonville, accompanied his parents and sister to Roseburg this morning and will remain in this city until the local company of coast artillery leaves for the encampment. He is a member of the hospital detachment and will drill with that organization tonight.

Leo Devaney has accepted a position at Portland with the Overland Auto Company, Pacific coast branch factory. He will leave Roseburg Sunday or Monday and enter upon his duties the first of next week. He has been employed in the Motor Shop garage for several years and is well known throughout the state as an excellent mechanic.

The members of the Roseburg Juvenile band were today admitted to the afternoon session of the chautauqua, as the guests of the superintendent, A. C. Strance, on the condition that they wear their uniforms. Roseburg people greatly appreciated Mr. Strance's offer to admit the old veterans from the Soldiers Home free of charge to the sessions, as any act of courtesy extended to them is considered an act of kindness to the citizens of the city, who are proud of this institution.

Capt. T. F. Maginnis has finished constructing the new road at Casdury hill. The captain has built a beautiful stretch of road and it eliminates one of the few bad hills on the Cow creek highway. Connecting with this piece of roadwork at its upper end, is another piece of road building that speaks for itself—it is the work and its construction was managed by Joe Scott, road supervisor, who has been putting the Cow creek road in good shape this summer. If well graded early this fall, this stretch of the Pacific highway will be a pleasure to drive over.—Glendale News.
