TROOPS TO RETURN IN THREE MONTHS

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Villa is dead, and Pershing's troops will leave Mexico within the month, and the militiamen will return to their homes within three months, was the declaration of a high war office defense department official today. The minority leaders are using the name of Villa to inspire fear among the Carranzistas. Carranza is stronger in Mexico than ever before today, principally because he averted war with America without loss of dignity. Army men declared there was not one chance in a thousand for further trouble with Mexico, either through a repetition of the Parral and Carrizal incidents, or bandit raids. Since the Carrizal attack was cleaned up, and the note of Carranza received, the war department considered the Mexican trouble ended and over. "Villa himself could not hurt Carranza," declared this official, "and Villa is dead, according to our reports. I believe his name is being used to embarrass Carranza and inspire fear. We believe he is dead and his cause buried with him."

RAILROAD STRIKE IS ANTICIPATED

The employees of the railroads over the entire United States are at the present time taking a vote upon the question of calling a general strike of the employees of all roads during the early part of next month. The strike question is not one which involves so much the increase of pay as it stands at the present time, but more a shortening of the working hours of the employees as they exist at the present time.

A great many runs of the trainmen as they are at the present time cause them to be on their runs for a period of time greatly in excess of eight hours and it is this to which they object. They base their claims upon the theory that more than eight hours of continuous employment in the cabs of one of the giant engines, such as are employed in hauling the trains over the S. P. lines, is detrimental to the best interests of the railroad company, and that the safety of the passengers themselves is not properly safeguarded by demanding that the trainmen work longer than eight hours.

A strike vote has been polled in this city among the many workmen employed and while the result of the vote will not be known definitely for some time yet, it is known that most of the trainmen are in favor of the strike.

The results of the different unions and brotherhoods are mailed into the headquarters of the railroad trainmen in New York City and as fast as received are counted. This result will not be made public until every lodge has been heard from which is expected to be some time early in August. A number of families of railroad employees are anticipating a strike in spite of the appeals made to them by the officials of the company to remain loyal to the company, and are making preparations to move their families from the city until after the expected strike is settled.

Merchants, too, are anticipating a possible tie up in freights and are ordering their fall purchases which are usually shipped from the eastern markets early in August, to come forward at once in order that they may have the merchandise upon the shelves when the demand comes for them.

Mrs. J. E. Perry, of Riddle, was brought to Roseburg this afternoon and taken to Mercy hospital where she will be given medical treatment. Mrs. Perry has been quite ill for some time and it was thought best to bring her to the hospital here. She is under the care of Dr. E. B. Stewart.

BRIDAL COUPLE ARE KIDNAPPED

Even the best laid plans sometimes go astray, the proof of which statement is evidenced by the attempt made yesterday by E. I. Snyder, of Portland, and Miss Amanda Tester, of this city to be quietly married and slip out of town without the knowledge of their friends. The many acquaintances of the happy couple have known of the coming event for some time, but the exact date was not known. Yesterday Mr. Snyder and Miss Tester took an automobile from Roseburg to Sutherlin where they were married shortly before noon. The fact that they had left for Sutherlin quickly became known and boarding train No. 14, which train the young couple intended taking for Portland, a number of their friends started in pursuit. As the train pulled into the station they were taken captive and not released until after it had left Sutherlin. During their delay there the bridal couple were subject to a number of practical jokes much to the enjoyment of their friends. They went to Portland on the early morning train.

Mr. Snyder is clerk in the auditing department of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. He has a great many acquaintances in this city and is a well respected young man. His bride is also well known in Roseburg, having spent the greater part of her life here. They will make their future home in Portland.

Moore, of this city. Mr. Moore was for many years a resident of Roseburg the greater part of his early life having been spent here. About eight years ago he enlisted in the U. S. navy and has been advanced rapidly until he is now a non-commissioned officer stationed at the Mare Island navy yards. His bride is a California girl and the wedding grows out of a happy romance which began shortly after Mr. Moore's transfer from Bremerton to San Francisco. They will leave tomorrow for San Francisco where they will make their home.

Toric Kryptoks

Nature's laws are fixed and we all must grow old. It is no fault of ours that our eyes grow dim. We like very much to appear young and why not? The time was when we had passed the 40th milestone and glasses became necessary for constant wear. The old bifocal with cement wafers were a dead give away on our age, as the double vision stood out very conspicuous. Conditions are different now the new toric Kryptok has revolutionized the whole system of glasses and is the only correct glass to wear as they conform to the shape of the eye thus eliminating all prismatic effects and instead of a cemented wafer as used in bifocals for near vision the lens is made up of Crown and Flint glass fused together so it appears as a single lens to look at but the refraction for both far and near is perfect. The cost is a little more than the common kind but the pleasure derived from wearing a perfect pair of glasses more than makes up the difference. Let us fit you with a pair. We guarantee to please you.

ORPET FOUND NOT GUILTY BY JURY

to keep back the tears and the trickled from his eyes while he, with his associates, Ralph F. Potter and Leslie P. Hanna, were receiving congratulations.

Mr. Wilkerson stated that in his opinion Orpet had been more than declared not guilty.

"He was proved innocent," said Mr. Wilkerson. "He is going home with his mother now. Then he is going into the country for a much needed rest after the nerve-racking experience brought on him by a remarkable if not unprecedented series of circumstances. Then he will come back home and make a man of himself."

Three ballots were taken by the jury. The first stood 11 to 1 for acquittal. Foreman O'Shea stated that by agreement of the jurors the name of the obdurate member would not be made public.

The usual Saturday night throng of farmers and their families in for the week end shopping and recreation was present in extra force and crowded the route which Orpet took after leaving the jail.

PAGEANT OF KING ARTHUR'S COURT AT CHAUTAUQUA

Miss Hazel Alexander, who is in charge of the Junior Chautauqua in this city, presented her little children to us in the Legends of King Arthur's Court.

The legend was enacted in pantomime by the children while Miss Alexander charmingly read the story. The small boys were gaily clad in shining helmets, shields bearing many a strange device, and broad and trusty sword. While the maidens of court wore wreaths of gaily hued flowers upon their brows.

The legend of the Rock and Sword was first depicted which led to the finding and crowning of the rightful king. Loas Wright was the strong and gallant young Arthur and Maurine Buchanan was the sweet Guinevere. After Arthur became the king, he chose the bravest, most gallant men and made them his knights of "The Table Round."

One day as the sweet Guinevere and her maidens danced on the green the wicked Sir Malgrace stole them away to his castle. But one maid escaped and she carried to Sir Launselot Lady Guinevere's ring. The gates of the castle are stormed and at last the maidens are released. By foul play brave Sir Launselot is thrown into dungeon and left to die. The porters maid discovers his plight and rescues him from the dungeon and death. A tournament follows and the wicked Sir Malgrace is slain by Sir Launselot.

The last scene shows the winding of the May pole and the court maidens dancing.

This pageant was greatly enjoyed by both the audience and the children and Miss Alexander will be remembered with pleasure long after the chautauqua is gone. Little Miss Frances Strange, daughter of the superintendent, has also made many friends here among the juniors she has helped entertain, as well as the grown folk.

DRUNKEN REVELRY ENDED BY POLICE

Accused of disorderly conduct Leo Williams, Walt Goodman, Gordon Gage, Charles Howard and Jennie Warner were arrested here today. According to the officers the party received a shipment of liquor Saturday afternoon about two o'clock and went with it to the home of Leo Goodman in North Roseburg. Mr. Goodman was out of town at the time and knew nothing of the occurrence until he returned at night. The party then engaged in revelry until about four o'clock in the afternoon when their noise making attracted the attention of neighbors. Night Officer Wilcox, who resides near the house was called and accompanied by Sheriff Quine, went to the place where they were drinking, and confiscated the liquor.

They found fourteen full quarts of beer left from the shipment of 24, the remainder having been disposed of. The booze was taken by Sheriff Quine, who is holding it to be destroyed at the order of the court.

Warrants of arrest were issued this morning from the recorder's court charging all with disorderly conduct. They were served by Marshal Williams who notified them to appear in court at once. Mrs. Warner appeared and was fined $20, half of the amount being remitted during good behavior and the balance was paid.

Later in the afternoon Gordon Gage appeared and entered a plea of guilty he was fined $10 which he paid. The others had not appeared at a late hour this afternoon, but it was understood that they had stated they would plead guilty and pay their fines.
