ARMOR PLATE NONSENSE.

Apparently the bill for the creation of a government armor plate is going to be passed by congress. It will then become a law, for it is an administration measure. There will be no cost-keeping in the new plant, by order of congress. It would not do to let the taxpayers know that armor plate made by the government may cost more than for what private concerns offered to supply it.

The upshot of the matter will be therefore that the government will spend $11,000,000 for a duplication of an existing plant.

This is simply throwing away money. On the other hand, the plan for a government nitrogen plant, which would not duplicate anything, does not seem to be meeting with favor.

When congress undertakes to do its own engineering, it usually makes a mess of things.

In the present case it is making a mess of things in a scandalous way.—Mining Journal (N. Y.)

What is needed in this section at this very minute is some market for the heavy crops of peaches that will be soon offered for sale in fact they are right now making their appearance. The local demand is not sufficient to care for an infinitesimal portion, and shipment to Portland is beset with so many uncertainties regarding prices and grading, that many prefer to not send. Right here is where a cannery to take care of this valuable crop could be appreciated. This product, unless carefully marketed at once if the producer is to realize anything like a commensurate return, and it would seem that in the absence of a cannery, there should be an organization here through which a profitable market might be reached.

A lengthy communication was received today from Rev. Chas. in answer to the article from Wmpt. Herald published yesterday, but on account of other matter it was postponed to other day it was important tomorrow.

ACCUSED OF INSTALLING SEWER WITHOUT PERMIT

A warrant of arrest was issued from the city court for P. F. Patterson, charging him with installing a sewer without first having obtained a permit. The sewer was installed at the property of Mrs. Scott on Cobb street several months ago.

No. 1—Soup Until such time as the patent is finally secured on the noiseless soap suds and the day of the beard has become entirely extinct, many a woman will hesitate about serving soup to her slight visitors when dinner happens to be among those persons of the dinner. Yet, though his beard present a dangerous obstacle over which to pass, it is not so difficult to carry a spoonful and though he insist upon supplying "soup" with each stroke of the four-hundred liquid, the dear old man, wants soup, so why deny him his pleasure even though it may disturb the conversation, or nerve system of some other diner. Father usually knows what is good for the stomach and he drinks—which is the correct word as applied in this case—soup, not necessarily because he loves it, but because he knows that it is one of the most health-giving items on the family menu. Soup, even in hot weather and to the exclusion of everything else, should be eaten by young and old alike. It contains, or rather it should contain, the strength-giving qualities of meat or vegetables, or both, served in a different form. Remember of what the three-master on the food porch may require, hot soup is as welcome to the average stomach as is the full moon to the romantic summer boarder.

Among the world's great story tellers, those gifted, entertaining fellers, Rex Beach is stacking high; and I am always in my glory when I have got a new Beach story; it suits me more than pie. Red blood in all his yarns is seething; his characters are living, breathing, not dummies made of wood; strong men admire his kind of writing, of heroism, peril, fighting—it's always to the good. And Rex, when he is busy working, his trusty old typewriter jerking, until it busts a spoke, to have his inspirator quickened keeps all the air around him thickened with rich Tuxedo smoke. Say, have you noticed, gentle readers, how many famous men and leaders explain Tuxedo's worth? As man's great solace they expound it, and that's because they all have found it the best there is on earth.

REX BEACH Famous Author, says "I have smoked Tuxedo to sub-Actic Alaska, at Pikes and elsewhere—could not smoke another kind." Rex Beach.

DESPERATE BATTLE BEING FOUGHT.

LONDON, July 28.—(By Kean.)—The same desperate hand-to-hand fighting by which the British captured Poireres from the Germans is proceeding today on the outskirts of Longueval, and beyond the Bellville woods northeast of that town. Haig reported that his troops were successful. The Berlin communiques insisted that the fighting is still progressing and that the British attacks are broken. The British report that strong German counterattacks directed at the trenches newly won by Kitchener's troops have been beaten off with heavy loss to the enemy.

BRITISH NATIONALIST GIVEN CHOICE OF FINE OR PRISON

LONDON, July 28.—Lawrence Gennell, the Irish nationalist who was the storm center of the uproar in the commons yesterday, was today offered the choice of a fine of $100 or six weeks imprisonment, following his conviction on false representations by which he obtained admission to the Knutsford barracks.

REPORTS OF NAVAL BATTLE COME FROM BERLIN

BERLIN, July 28.—The Dutch newspaper Handelsblad reports a naval battle between several German submarines and British patrol boats Nellen Natten and Onward Eve. The Nellen Natten was sunk and three sailors killed, and the Onward Eve is supposed to be sunk with the crew.

GLORIALE MEN HERE.

G. L. Drummond, editor of the Glendale News, and W. H. DeLay, mayor of that city and a prominent banker, arrived in Roseburg on the afternoon train and will return this evening, driving a large new 1917 model Studebaker that was sold to a Glendale citizen and driven down here from Portland. Mr. Drummond has not been in the county seat for several years and said he was surprised at the changes and improvements he noted in this time. In speaking of the meeting of the state editorial association at Medford, Mr. Drummond said he had several vacation trips in prospect and may yet decide on taking the Medford trip.

NEW YORKERS FACE STREET CAR STRIKE

NEW YORK, July 28.—The strike which has tied up all the arteries in the Bronx and Westchester county and threatens to spread throughout all Manhattan, today claimed its first life. A brake on a car which was pulling a trailer, failed to work and the trailer dashed down a hill and struck a concrete pillar of the subway railway where it was splintered to pieces. Motorist H. Horn, a strikebreaker, who was in charge of the second car, was instantly killed. Two strike-breaking policemen were severely injured at the same time.

WAR BRIDE GIVEN POSSESSION OF HER CHILD

CHICAGO, July 28.—The Maternity baby was awarded to the Ryan girl. The Ryan girl claimed the child was hers, the father being a Canadian blacksmith who went to war. It is claimed that Mrs. Maternity tried to foist the child onto her dead husband in order to get the bulk of his estate.

It's a fine thing to gain this end in an enjoyable, happy way. The food one eats should not only contain the maximum of body, nerve and brain building qualities, but should rate high as an appetizer.
