IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-ache or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of swelling, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and non-toxic; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil

Stop "dozing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never despoils and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Lumber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

ASPARAGUS SALAD No. 73

Perched upon a trunk far away from the "maddening crowd" in the studio sat I, vainly endeavoring to place upon paper thoughts of how to prepare asparagus salad. My task was not easy as the noise penetrating the studio was not conducive to sound slumber. At one side of my place of vantage there was a legion of carpenters "knocking." It was hard to tell whether they were trying to "break" into the movies or grand opera. The civil chorus presented by the martyr-reverent hammers was reminiscent of Wagner's "Thanksgivings." Two prop boys, close to my right, were having a noisy dispute. Feeling confident that I could easily quell the disturbance of the loquacious props I hastened over to settle this seeming unnecessary symposium.

I seized one by the collar, at the same time requesting a reason for all this hilarity.

"Here's a man, I always considered my friend, and what you think he sez to me when I comes up. He sez, 'Say, Pal, ever hear the story about the best?' I sez, 'No,' quick like. Den he turns and sez, 'Auh you' hev to.' Does yo' think I ought ter stand fer dat?"

I succeeded in settling the dispute, but during the forceful handling of the said prop-gentleman I dropped my pad upon which I had been writing. One of the necessary studio "equipment" spied the pad, likewise, the title of this installment, and turning to me suddenly asked: "Say, did you see Gus?" "Gus who?" I asked with wonderment.

"Aspara-gus!" he shouted, and with a diabolical grin ducked behind a set and disappeared.

"Dis is no place fer me," remarked the other prop boy, "so I guess I will 'stalk' away."

I couldn't stand for a "bunch" like that, so I made a hasty sortie upon the quietude of my dressing room, where I finished this article.

The Recipe—Take one can or one bunch of fresh cooked asparagus and chill. Mix one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoonful of paprika, pinch of black pepper, one tablespoonful of Tarragon vinegar, and two tablespoonfuls of cider vinegar, six tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of chopped cucumber pickles, one tablespoonful of chopped green peppers, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, one teaspoonful of chopped chives, and mix very well. Pour over the asparagus and serve.

Pal, the prop boy, says he is going to be rich some day. He has an invention that will prove a bonanza after it is let loose on the public. It is a bracelet that fits tightly about the arm to prevent asparagus juice from running up your sleeve.
