SOLILOQUY AT SHADOW LAWN

Where are they gone, the old familiar faces?
I had a friend—McCombs, but he left me,
Left me slowly but surely, when I did not need him.
All, all are gone, the old familiar faces!
Once I had Bryan; he was my friend
In my hours of struggling in that great convention,
But now he's gone. Left me with "God bless you!"
Upon his lips. Gone, are the old familiar faces.
I had a friend; a truer friend had no man.
Like an hermit, I wounded my friend's acutely.
And he, good Colonel Harvey, left me
Left me
To muse on the old familiar faces!
At my right hand sat my friend
Who was the strong arm of my Administration—
Garrison, upright and honest—but he too has left me.
Left me, when I deceived him—gone are the old familiar faces!
At Shadow Lawn, where new friends
swore around me,
Earth seems a desert I am bound to traverse
Seeking to find the friends who've left me.
But all, all are gone—the old familiar faces.
CHARLES LAMIE, 24,

Editorial Comments

If the Democratic leader who advocates putting dyes on the free list to encourage the industry were a surgeon his method of setting a broken limb would be to amputate the patient's leg at the neck.

Optimism is what makes the Democratic party, which has fooled some of the people only three times in fifty years and has never yet fooled all of the people some of the time, think that it can now fool all of the people all of the time.

President Wilson hasn't been able to figure out yet whether he is going to be on the stump or up one.

If the paper shortage becomes much more serious the first thing we know the machinery of the State Department will be coming to an abrupt stop.

Then, too, according to the Democratic campaign book that among the more important enactments of the Wilson Administration may be mentioned Magna Charta and the Ten Commandments.

Secretary Redfield converses glibly in terms of billions until it comes time to make a campaign contribution, when it is disclosed that all he really knows about mathematics is $100.

Everything has gone up under Wilson except the price of dead Americans.

Senator Jimman Lewis has purchased a new volume of "Unfamiliar Quotations" and expects to be able any day now to give us the classical derivation of "hellish publicity" and "strict accountability" in the original Babylonian.

Add famous sayings of history: "I will surrender on this line if it takes all summer!"

The Democratic revenue bill, as completed, is regarded as so perfect that the chances are that the taxpayers of New York, Massachusetts and Illinois will be able to build 3,000 more miles of good roads in Alabama next year.

Mr. Hughes is talking to the women of the land in the homely language of the fireside and we expect to witness an impressive rallying of the sex on the first ironing day after the first wash day in November.

MR. WILSON TOOK PLEASURE IN EXTENDING THE HAND OF WELCOME TO CARRANZA.

One of these "uncivilized" acts was committed on September 25th, when some of Carranza's soldiers captured an American trooper, killed him and cut off his head and ears. Exactly twenty days later, on October 19th, Mr. Wilson expressed "pleasure" in informing Carranza that he recognized him! Since the recognition Carranza's troops by his orders have treacherously attacked and murdered American soldiers on at least two occasions. If the acts above related—which are merely samples of the course of conduct Carranza has already pursued—do not constitute "intrigue and assassination, treachery and violence," then the words have lost their meaning. Mr. Wilson took "pleasure" in "extending the hand of welcome" to Carranza, whose own hand is red with the blood of murdered men and women of his own nation, and whose hands, unlike the hands of Huerta, were also red with the blood of murdered Americans, and of murdered American soldiers, and of murdered American civilians. But President Wilson cared as little for the deaths of these men as he cared for the honor of the uniform. He with "pleasure" extended the hand of welcome to the man guilty of their murder. —From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

CHAS. A. BRAND
Nominee of the Republican and Progressive Parties for Representative FROM DOUGLAS COUNTY
Two to be elected
Vote 55 X

Think of this:
Do we not sometimes forget that the men who make our laws in the Legislature should be as broad-minded, as fair, as honest, of as wide experience with men and affairs as the judges who administer those same laws? Douglas County has never needed to elect strong men to represent her more than she does at the present time.
A vote for Charles A. Brand on Nov. 7 will be a vote for a man who is competent to represent us; who is supported by men of all parties, by both farmers and business men, by the school teachers and the home-makers. He will go to the Legislature as a public servant, pledged to work to the limit of his ability for Douglas County and the State of Oregon.

DODGE BROTHERS ROADSTER

The wheels of the car hold fast to the road, but do you know why?

Light, strong steel parts and scientific distribution of weight holds the weight down to 2,200 pounds, and produce a perfectly balanced car. Lightness and balance result in roadability—and also in low gasoline consumption and high tire mileage.

It will pay you to visit us and examine this car.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low. The tire mileage is unusually high.

The Motor is 30-35 Horsepower. The price of the Touring Car or Roadster complete is $785 (f. o. b. Detroit.)
