Good Advertising Will Always Pay! How? Where? When? For instance, a business man writes an ad in his private office and leaves it on his desk---only people that happen into his private office will see it. If it is well written he may place it in his show window---it's a good ad there, but only those who chance to pass his place of business will ever see it. When a Good Business Man writes a good ad he always gives it all the circulation possible, and in order to do that he buys space in The News, places his ad in a space where everybody will see it---not only once a week, or month, but every day. The quickest, surest and most impressive way to reach the buying public of Roseburg and Douglas county is by placing your ad in this paper. The Evening News Telephone 135 Jackson Street

J. M. Gross, a leading merchant of Canyonville, came down this morning on the early train, spending the day in Roseburg in business interests. Mr. Gross states that the people of his town and vicinity enjoyed a prosperous year, prunes and other crops being excellent and prices good. Broccoli growers in the vicinity of Canyonville, Mr. Gross says, are expecting profitable returns from their crops this spring, providing the late freeze did not damage the plants, and it is believed that they are not materially injured.
