BY MISS VEVA BUICK.

The social calendar is not filled of late with afternoon parties and with luncheons, instead the ladies seem to be busily occupied with gardening and perfecting plans for work in the Red Cross and patriotic leagues.

Gardening has surely become the most interesting diversion of very woman who has a few idle hours during the afternoon and morning. When one passes along the streets in every yard are evidences of artistic culture and no doubt in the places of asters and marigold and garden blossoms will be found beans, pinks, petunias and beets. Tightly curled heads of lettuce and waving carrot tops will form borders this year and in the vacant lots about town will be the potato hills planted and cared for by the Boy Scouts and the Girls Honor Guards. The girls already are planning the merry get-together parties they will have while they hoe potatoes by the light of the moon.

A truly serious aspect is noticed the last few weeks among the town people and the coming spring bids fair to be one of few social functions of a formal nature. Informal parties and club meetings will be confined and the work of the different organizations in this city will fill many hours during the coming months.

Girls Honor Guard.

The Girls Honor Guard met on Tuesday evening of this week in the lounge room of the Armory and talked over various business matters and made plans for future work. Among the interesting things discussed by the young women was the planting of a potato farm. It was decided upon to arrange for planting the crop in the various vacant and unused lots about the city and to get these committed to which Miss Nina Marshall is chairman, was appointed. The state manager of the Guard states that three business men of the city will be chosen to superintend this work. Mr. A. C. Marsters, Mr. J. F. Barker and Mr. Fred Fred Strang were chosen by the girls. The Guard hopes to secure the seed from the farmer who are interested and if a small amount of seed is donated by a number of persons the girls will be supplied with working material.

Another feature of the Guard work was brought to the attention of the organization at the meeting and was the furnishing of sewing kits or "housewives" for the soldiers of our home companies. Miss Florence Kohlhauser was appointed chairman of this committee and Mrs. Buchanan was to direct the girls with the making of these articles of equipment. A large number gathered together in the Armory on Thursday and prepared the materials for sewing.

Oakland Honor Guard.

Miss Veva Buick, of Roseburg, spent Saturday afternoon in Oakland. Miss Buick is leader of the Honor Guard in Roseburg and helped in the organizing of the Girls' National Honor Guard here. The Oakland chapter has 40 members. Miss Kathryn Vernon was appointed leader of the local guard by the state manager. The following officers were elected: Assistant leader, Miss Birdie Eastley; secretary, Miss Kathryn Dealings; treasurer, Miss Jessie Powers; publicity manager, Miss Ruth Chomoweth. Mayor J. T. Bridges addressed the meeting, followed by Miss Buick who gave a very interesting talk.

Dr. J. Wainwright will direct the first aid to the injured class and one lecture a week. Classes will be held in the assembly room of the high school. Miss Florence Buell has been appointed captain of the first division; Miss Hazel Ralston, captain of the second division and Miss Esther Stearns, captain of the third division. The guard has already made plans for planting potatoes in Oakland Advance.

Honor Guard Organizations.

On Saturday of last week two new Guard units were formed in this vicinity, one at Weir and one at Oakland, both of which bid fair to be excellent societies. Miss Katherine Vernon was elected leader and a large number of girls already been gained. A meeting on Saturday afternoon at both places much business was shown and work will be immediately started.

A Farewell for the Soldier Lads.

On Monday evening a farewell luncheon was given to the men from the Glendale News. The company club of Glendale assisted by the Glendale band were the hosts. The banquet was held in the Odd Fellows hall and the boys found their place as they remained standing. Miss Morgan was the principal dinner speaker and after the party adjourned to the auditorium where they danced a merry hour. A special feature of the evening was the surprise given the senior class of the high school when they presented them with their diplomas.

Red Cross Benefit.

A successful benefit was the jitney dance the local Red Cross organization gave on Monday evening in the Armory. Red Cross banners, American flags and the arm bands worn by the members of the society lent an air of war-time entertainment. A large number of town folk assembled for this benefit and a merry evening was the result as well as financially aiding the organization.

St. Joseph Benefit.

The members of St. Joseph's parish held a soldiers' benefit on Monday evening in the parish school and entertained the assemblage with an interesting program composed of musical numbers, readings and a patriotic speech, while Mrs. Kate Millikin danced a Scotch folk dance. The benefit was well attended and the committee in charge was well pleased with the results.

Bluebird Photoplay.

She was born and raised in the living apartments above "Sailor's Rest," a notorious resort on the Barbary coast, and reigned queen of the dance hall and saloon—but for all that when Roger Curwell, artist and gentleman, was thrown, a derelict of dissipation onto "The Coast," she realized, when she had reformed him, that there was a community of ideals that proved she was fitted for a better life. Then came the San Francisco earthquake and fire. Out of that catastrophe came the realization of higher ambitions and a life of happiness for this man and woman born under such utterly different conditions. But in this brief outline of the story told by the Bluebird photoplay, "Hell Morgan's Girl," to be exhibited at the Majestic Monday and Tuesday there is no indication of the gripping events and stirring scenes that led to the happy fruition of a strangely inspired love. The catastrophe has been depicted in thrilling scenes, as houses fall, and their ruins burst into flames. The wild scenes of panic, when men and women rushed madly through the streets of San Francisco, not knowing when death might come to them, have been reproduced in realistic manner—the camera having lent itself to photographic illusions of a startling character. As a final scene, the presidio, with its throngs of refugees is shown in convincing vistas, climaxing a story that carries thrills galore. Bluebird has made a master play in "Hell Morgan's Girl"—an entertainment of unusual character.

Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Whitney were the honored guests on Thursday evening when a large number of friends appeared at their home in the early evening and revelled during the fleeting hours. Mr. and Mrs. Whitney are soon to leave for California and this party was in the nature of a farewell to them. Cards and music were enjoyed and as the hours waned the friends served delicious refreshments they had brought for the occasion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Durbin, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Schlenker, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kurtz, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Grimm, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harness, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Darness, Miss Eva Batey, Miss Pauline Byers, Mrs. Ray Wright, Miss Clara Smith, Mr. Batey and Frank Batey.

Program at Soldiers Home.

The members of the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor arranged an interesting little program of entertainment for the comrades at the Soldiers Home on Monday evening. Interesting songs and readings made the hour pass quickly by and at the conclusion of the entertainment the society were served refreshments by Commandant Markee and his wife.

The hallway of the headquarters are used for the assembly room and of late the different church societies have given enjoyable little programs that please the veterans greatly.

Farewell Reception.

On Wednesday afternoon the ladies of the Sutherland Guild held a reception at the parish house in honor of Mrs. Laramere, who is moving to Willows, Calif. Spring time flowers adorned the cheerful rooms and an interesting program was arranged by Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Tidale. In the receiving line were Mrs. Hornor, Mrs. Condon, and Mrs. Freydis. The program consisted of several delightful vocal and instrumental selections. Tea and wafers were served to the ladies who came to bid Mrs. Laramere adieu.

Senior Play April 25.

The senior class of the high school will present their play, Miss Fearless & Company, at Moore's hall next Wednesday evening, April 25. The performers in this play are all girls. The company is organized, and the girls, in order to get even with some gentlemen friends, go for a month's outing on a haunted island. There are many clever parts and funny situations.—Myrtle Creek Mail.

Mrs. Clarence Tebault is receiving felicitations upon the arrival of a little son on Thursday morning. This small lad is the first grandchild in the Edgy family. Mr. Tebault will accompany his wife and son home in a few weeks.

Methodist Missionary Society.

The members of the Methodist Missionary Society met this week at the home of Mrs. George A. Downey. The meeting was a joint session of the home and foreign missionary societies. The first part of the session was devoted to the regular business routine, followed by a report from the district convention held at Medford, read by Mrs. J. C. Spencer. The remaining hours of the afternoon were devoted entirely to chatting. Miss Meager, president of the home missionary society and Mrs. Davidson, president of the foreign society are both to leave in the near future for southern California. Mrs. Meninger, in behalf of the two societies presented the resigning presidents with beautiful hand-made bags of silk crochet. Mrs. Churchill and Mrs. Huey assisted the hostess in serving tea and Helen Churchill, Elizabeth Vincent, Florence Spencer and Vivian Orcutt wore Japanese frocks and served the tea and cakes to the guests.

Home Missionary Society.

Mrs. E. L. Miller, of Pasadena, Calif., field worker off of Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, occupied the Methodist pulpit in this city last Sunday morning. Mrs. Miller is an able and eloquent speaker, holding the audience with practical details of the work of the organization, following the service Mrs. Miller organized a local auxiliary of fifteen members, who celebrated their first day by sending a cash donation to the work in Portland. The following officers were elected: Mrs. A. P. Comstock, president; Mrs. N. Parker, vice-president; Mrs. J. T. Beyerle, recording secretary; Mrs. H. C. Rhodes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. H. Rethow, treasurer; Mrs. C. J. Slater, mile box secretary; Mrs. Claude Allen, secretary of literature.—Sutherland Sun.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

Mrs. M. J. Suenemaker was the hostess on Wednesday afternoon for the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. The meeting opened with devotionals led by Mrs. A. C. Marsters and was followed with a short business session at which time a letter from the State Hygiene Society was read and discussed.

Mrs. Runyan had charge of the day's program and she read one of the most interesting and beneficial papers ever presented to the club women of this city. The theme was "Home Economics" and was most excellently prepared. Miss Annabelle Denn and Miss Alberta Carstie played several delightful selections on the piano and the refreshments followed a short social recess. Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Collier assisted Mrs. Shoemaker in serving.

R. A. E. C.

The Richardson Art Embroidery club met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Palm, of North Roseburg. The members who spent the enjoyable hours sewing and chatting together were Mrs. Newhart, Mrs. J. H. Ingram, Mrs. Cottrell, Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. C. B. Patrick, Mrs. Worthington, Mrs. O. L. Johnson, Mrs. Bowers, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Della Lewis, Mrs. C. P. Lewis, Mrs. Henry Snyder, Mrs. Adams and the special guest was Mrs. Bagley, who is now living in the country. In serving refreshments, Mrs. Newhart and Mrs. Worthington assisted.

The club will hold the next session at the home of Mrs. Adams.

Miss Florence Akin, who has been in Portland for several months has returned to her home in this city.

The Monday evening Bridge club meets next week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Throne.

Farewell Party.

On Wednesday afternoon last a number of Sutherland friends of Mrs. Hattie Heague and daughter, Miss Winnifred, met at the home of Mrs. Cook, on Third avenue, to bid them adieu. A most enjoyable afternoon was passed with guessing games and social converse. Mrs. Shiria was awarded first prize in the guessing contest and Mrs. Wegner second. Mrs. Hoyt read a poem "Selling the Baby." A delicious lunch followed. The following ladies were present: Mesdames A. E. Shiria, W. R. Culver, J. P. Lenox, T. J. Arday, N. P. Peterson, W. T. Hoyt, W. A. Lundeen, E. E. McVicker, S. DeMuth, M. Cook, Chas. Anderson, N. K. Ely, R. L. Houser, H. Wegner, and daughter, H. Heague and daughter, A. ... key and daughter.

Mrs. Heague and daughter expect to make an extended visit with relatives and friends in the middle west during the summer.—Sutherland Sun.

"Rag" Party.

It was an "awful" looking "bunch" of bewiskered gentlemen and oddly-dressed ladies that invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max A. Combs on Thursday evening to enjoy a "hard-times" party, the guests having been requested to wear the "worst they had." Various games were indulged in until a late hour, intermingled with music from the Edison, and upon the piano by Mrs. Combs, who is an accomplished musician. Near the small hours, refreshments were served and a general good time indulged in for an hour, after which the guests departed pronouncing Mr. and Mrs. Combs royal entertainers and agreeing to make a better appearance at their next gathering.

Baptist Missionary Society.

On Thursday afternoon the members of the Baptist Missionary society were the guests of Mrs. Louis Kohlhauser, of West Roseburg. The subject for the afternoon study was Japan and Mrs. Hopkins was the leader for the day. Following the program a social hour was enjoyed where the hostess served a dainty collation, assisted by Mrs. Strong and Mrs. Crawford. Over thirty members were present at this meeting.

Artisans Have Special Session.

The Artisan lodge on Wednesday evening enjoyed one of the most pleasant evenings of the year when they held a pie social. Games and cards proved interesting diversions for the party and at the close the pies were served to the members and the special guests. There were large pies, small pies, cream pies and pies of very description but every pie was delicious.

Parent-Teachers Association.

Mrs. J. C. Spencer was the leader on Wednesday afternoon for the meeting of the Rose School Parent-Teachers Association. The business routine of the day was followed by a paper upon "Moral and Religious Training of the Child" by Mrs. Spencer and was an excellently prepared paper. The children from Miss Hamilton's room and from Miss Payne's room sang the "Scouts of the U. S. A."

Sunday Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brand were Sunday hosts at their home, Overland Orchard, for a number of guests from town who motored out in the afternoon and remained for tea in the evening. The guests were Mrs. Nadine Shepard, Miss Grace Lloyd, Miss Hildegarde Shoemaker, Mr. Frederic Hamilton, Mr. Walker and Mr. Middlecott.

On Friday evening the Fullerton School Parent-Teachers Association met and held their regular business session. A committee was elected to nominate new officers. The school has been gathering paper, the money thus gained to be applied to the piano fund. Each room is competing in gathering paper and a large amount has been accumulated. The canning team of the Fullerton school sold candles at the close of the meeting.

Sutherland Parent-Teachers Assn. will hold their monthly meeting on the first of May, at which time an especially interesting program will be rendered.

North Side Sunshine Club.

A special celebration was observed this week by the members of the North Side Sunshine club that met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hyland. Besides the regular afternoon gathering where the ladies enjoy the time with sewing and conversation, several members arranged a little surprise party for three ladies whose birthdays come this month. Pretty gifts were given to each of them and the biggest surprise was when Mrs. Ingalls was presented with a gift for her birthday which came last month. The other members were Mrs. Hyland, Mrs. Kisner and Mrs. Richard Stagg.

Delicious refreshments were brought by the several ladies and the entire afternoon was merrily spent together. The ladies present were Mrs. Susie Woodruff, Mrs. Maud Woodruff, Mrs. L. M. Lebrach, Mrs. Geo. Bryant, Mrs. Carsten, Mrs. Cavendar, Mrs. Kisner, Mrs. Hyland, Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. B. S. Nichols and Mrs. Stagg.

One O'Clock Luncheon.

A happy afternoon was spent by the members of the one o'clock luncheon club that were the guests of Mrs. Wm. Bell on Monday. Red tulips formed the adornment for the table while tiny flags were the decorative motif on the place cards. Covers were laid for Mrs. Paul Barber, Mrs. W. H. Fisher, Mrs. Washington Hughes, Mrs. Wm. Bell, Mrs. Tom Wharton and Mrs. John Enger.

Easter Star Social Evening.

The monthly meeting of the Eastern Star was held on Thursday evening in the lodge rooms and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed at this time. In an advertising game Mrs. Chas. Hughes won first prize and Mrs. Orcutt added to the entertainment, singing several beautiful selections. The banquet that followed was the crowning feature of the merry evening.

Informal Evening Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wharton entertained last night with a delightful informal party. The diversion for the happy hours was 500 and the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Throne, Mr. and Mrs. Darby, Dr. and Mrs. Finlay, Miss Bess Wharton, Miss Alice Ueland, Frank Clemens and Carl Wimbler.

Senior "Prom".

The senior class of the Glendale high school will give their "prom" next Friday night, April 20 at the auditorium. The Glendale band will furnish the music and everybody is invited. The class is having dance programs printed and a merry evening is promised those who attend. Dance tickets 50 cents.—Glendale News.

Club Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poole entertained the members of the Motorcycle club at dinner on Sunday. Cleverly arranged name cards marked the places for the guests who were Miss Ivo McLaughlin, Miss Nina Marshall, Rodney Knott, Hugh Harrison, Ellis Miller, P. H. Black and Rudolph Koller.

Book and Bag Club.

The Monday evening Book and Bag club assembled this week at the home of Miss Anna Caldwell for the weekly meeting at which time "Mister Antonio" Booth Talkington's new play, was finished. The pleasant hours closed after the hostess had served the members with dainty refreshments.

Umpqua Campfire.

The regular session of the Umpqua Campfire was held last night in the club room. A new table has been furnished and comfy quarters have been arranged by the girls. Last night the meeting was one of business only, the members making plans for work.

Trotters.

The Trotters dancing club held a merry party on Friday evening and spent the evening happily together, stepping to the strains of gay melodies.
