ROAD BOND BILL GROWS IN FAVOR

Gains Support When It is Shown Taxes Will Not Be Increased.

As soon as the general public understands that the extra tax on automobiles will pay for the hard-surfacing of the highways in the proposed trunk lines over the state, friends for the good roads movement increase. The title of the bill gave it a black eye as it appeared. The word "bond" scared them stiff. It is now being understood that the road money that has been available in the different road districts is not interfered with under the proposed plan, but is paid out of the increased assessment on automobiles. The bond issue then becomes simply the state loaning its credit to get the road roads now, and let the extra auto tax pay for them as they are being used. The proposition is growing in favor as it is understood.—Hubbard Enterprise.

GOOD ROAD POINTERS

The (road) bond issue, should it be voted, will be taken care of by the quarter-mile state road tax and automobile licenses. Both must be paid whether the bonds carry or not. To us it seems the bond issue should be favored by all.—Herald.

"The attitude of the State Highway Commission in reference to the distribution of the $6,000,000 state bond issue will be to show no undue preference to any particular section of the state over another," comments the Roseburg Review. "It is their intention to co-operate with all the counties throughout the state, not with a few, as many have been led to believe through opponents to the bond issue. Douglas County should not lag a moment until some action is taken whereby our road interests will be materially benefited by the proposed bond issue."

"Will it not be far better to sell these proposed bonds and begin our road work by a common-sense system than to dribble it out in small sums from year to year and in the end accomplish nothing?" inquires the Hood River Glacier.

It is time Oregon was getting out of the mud, comments the Tillamook Herald. California and Washington have both made large appropriations for good roads during the past few years, while Oregon has stood still. The bonding bill which will come up for consideration in June is an economic business proposition.

The annual license on all automobiles has been doubled. The fees from this source will be adequate to pay the interest and the principal of the $6,000,000 road bonds. Automobile owners are willing to pay the increased license but ask that the money raised therefrom shall be spent in road construction. Why not? They are going to pay the bill. And it will not be necessary to raise general taxes, either. Vote for the bond.

From a series of investigations, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has found that, following the improvement of the main market roads, the increase in the selling price of tillable farm lands served by the roads has amounted to from one to three times the total cost of the improvements.

The construction of hard-surfaced roads that will enable the farmer to reach the Columbia River with his grain and other products will give the producers of Eastern Oregon the full benefit of water competition in marketing their products and will ultimately bring about a reduction of excessive freight rates that are now in effect over the various branch railroad lines on which the farmer is now dependent for transportation.

The fact that the United States is at war with a foreign foe only furnishes an additional argument in support of the good roads bond bill. Improved and serviceable highways are a military necessity in time of war. In their present condition, even the main trunk roads in this state are entirely inadequate to meet the situation should the Pacific Coast ever be attacked by unfriendly forces. Good roads are not only desirable in time of peace but are positively indispensable when the country is in a state of war.

Commenting on the selection of Herbert Nunn as State Highway Engineer, R. B. Murdoch, roadmaster for Coos County, pays the following high tribute to the qualifications of Mr. Nunn: "By executive and technical training and experience, he is easily the best qualified man in the State of Oregon, if not on the Pacific Coast, for the position which he has recently been appointed to fill. The Commission is to be complimented upon their choice and the state upon its good fortune in securing Mr. Nunn's services."

Owners of automobiles will be required to pay the increased license fee whether the road bond bill passes or not. On the other hand, if the road bonds are voted at the June election, a real start will be assured in giving to the state a system of permanent highways constructed from automobile license fees and without increasing the general tax.

OF SENTIMENTAL INTEREST.
(By Associated Press.)
REDDING, Calif., May 3.—Shasta, during the bonanza gold days a city of 10,000 persons and now a town with a population of approximately 200, not only is interesting to the outsider but has its sentimental side to the native Californian. At the convention of the Native Sons of the Golden West held here recently, a special pilgrimage of the delegates was made to the city that was. The cell in which Joaquin Miller, the California poet, once was confined on suspicion of being a horse thief, attracts a large share of sentimental interest.

FARMING IS CITY BUSINESS.
(By Associated Press.)
OAKLAND, Calif., May 3.—Proceeding on the theory that in order to have a thing done right, you must do it yourself, this city is planning to go into the farming business. Rather than trust to the uncertainties of individual effort among the citizens, the municipal agricultural commission plans to have every-foot of unused land within the city limits under cultivation with food products for sale to the general public through the municipal free market. Prof. L. F. Smith of the agricultural department of the University of California is chairman of the commission.

HOLD TAG DAY.
(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—The notice that fifty Ukrainian girls would hold a "tag day" here for the benefit of the war sufferers of this nation, probably called attention to a great many for the first time that such a people were involved in the great strife. This territory in the western part of Russia is a part of the old Kingdom of Poland and has been fought over four times by the belligerent armies in the various retreats and advances.
