Live-wire Doings of City

Infant Daughter Born.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rees, of West Roseburg, Thursday, an eight-pound daughter. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Return From Camp.
Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Ollivant, who spent about ten days in Coos county camping and visiting with friends, returned to Roseburg last evening. They report an enjoyable time, and that the hot weather was minimized by cool nights and mornings in the mountains.

Left for Outing.
S. C. Bartrum and family left this morning in their auto for Rujada, Ore., about 22 miles east of Cottage Grove, where they will spend the next two weeks. During their absence Mr. Bartrum will attend to a sale of government land which will take place in that vicinity.

Odd Fellows' Orchestra.
The Odd Fellows orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music tomorrow evening at the reception to be given to the soldier boys on the lawn of Mrs. A. C. Marsters' residence, under the direction of the congregation of the First M. E. church. The reception promises to be very-entertaining.

Honor Guard Girls Saluted.
The soldier boys today were courteously saluting the Honor guard girls of the city, and needless to say this bit of ceremony was much appreciated. The seriousness of the war has gradually stolen upon the people of the city and these impressive little acts of patriotism inspire the American people to a fever heat.

Mr. Beals' Condition Serious.
Contrary to the first reports, Mr. Beals, one of the unfortunate occupants of the wrecked car which turned a complete somersault on Roberts mountain yesterday afternoon, is quite seriously injured and will be much longer in recovering than was expected. Mr. Beals is improving and will be about in a few days, as she is not injured as badly as first reported.

Displaying Gold Nuggets.
Uncle Bob McKee, the well-known mining man who is now living near the Soldiers Home, was displaying on the streets today nuggets to the value of two hundred dollars. The gold was procured by him after many hardships in the heart of Alaska 17 years ago. Mr. McKee, while quite aged, is very hearty and able to go about his daily business routine with the vigor of youth.

Change in the News' Force.
Owing to the enlistment of Bert Bates and Charles Stanton to serve Uncle Sam, the reportorial end of the News office had quite a "shut-up" Wednesday. However, things are becoming normal again and these two "live wires" will be replaced by Ray Henderson, who has been looking after the circulation department of this paper, and Dee Matthews, who today donned the garb of a real newspaper reporter. Miss Madge Miller, who has so efficiently served the News for some time, but recently on a vacation trip, is again at her regular post of duty.

Passed Through the City.
Mrs. Susan M. Rosecrans and son, Almon, of Bellingham, Wash., passed through the city today enroute to Sacramento, Cal. The party is traveling in an Overland six, fully equipped for camping, and are getting all there is out of nature on their outing. While in the city they enjoyed a brief visit with their old acquaintance, D. O. Gallup, who arrived here yesterday from Eugene to take charge of the News' linotype machine during the absence of our regular operator, Ralph Russell, who is enjoying a vacation with his family at Brewster valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Agce, who have been at Newport for the past two weeks enjoying an outing, expect to return home this evening. Mrs. Jay Hamlin, who accompanied them to the coast, has already left for her home at The Dalles.

Doing a Good Job.

J. S. Gilkeson was today employed to cut the weeds on that unsightly piece of property at the corner of Douglas and Ella streets. He did a good job and there are several other vacant lots in the city that should be treated likewise.
