BEG FOR GREATER SPEED

Economic Conditions Are Fast Changing For the Worse and Relief Must Come to Defeat Prussian Atrocities.

CORVALLIS, Oct. 19.—Germany is now trying to annihilate the French censor, Chomard, who has been on the Franco-Swiss frontier ever since the war started. An official translation of this report, made by Francesco Ventresca, translator of the U. S. war department, along with a request to assist in giving it publicity, has been sent to Prof. H. P. Barss, of O. A. C., a former associate.

The censor sees the intensity of the effort of the United States but begs for greater speed. Economic conditions in France are fast changing for the worse and relief must come to defeat the attempt of the common enemy to stamp out the French front this year until 7,000 were killed by French fire and the rest in pitiable condition crippled for life, were taken back to Germany. Under all sorts of pretexts terrible reprisals are inflicted on the prisonors, because Germany has more French prisoners than France has German prisoners.

France contributes to the support of the allied armies in her territory, sithough her production has been cut down and much of her imports sunk by submarines. The condition of the laboring masses is fast becoming precarious and they look, o America for relief. Liberty loan, Red Cross, food

The semi-monthly meeting of the Women's Improvement Society det with Mrs. Chas. Brand at the Overland Orchards on last Thursday attended in the various wairing countries, on condition that nine million is raised throughout the United States, to meeting was an address to the club members by Prof. Brown, on "The Hoover Food Conservation Bill." Mr. Brown gave an interesting talk on this subject and is asking the help and co-operation of the club in reaching every home in the community with these pledge earliswhich mean much to the nation in this critical time of war.

After the meeting a delightful hour was spent in social converse and needle work after which delicious.

hour was spent in accial converge and needle work after which delicious refreshments were served by the hos-tess, assisted by Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Cilfford. Owing to the busy season in the apple harvest the meetings have been postponed one month and will next be held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Calhoun on November 15.
