Y. M. C. A. TENTS AT BATTLE FIELDS

In the Holy Land, or the Desert Sands of Egypt.

THE Y MEN ARE THERE

Theirs is a Mission to Inspire Courage and Loyalty to All That is Good and Noble—Add Your Bit.

(By J. E. McClintock.)

There are soldiers writing today on Y. M. C. A. stationery from Y. M. C. A. tents near the foot of Mount Sinai where Moses received the ten commandments. Other soldiers are writing home from the desert places of the orient, on the edge of the hills of the world. They are in Y. M. C. A. tents or huts in Egypt, Mesopotamia, East Africa, Palestine, France, England, and in training camps right here at home.

Wherever the soldier goes he finds the welcoming sign of the red triangle, the emblem of the Y. M. C. A. Bank presidents, clergymen, college professors, men from every calling are to be found in the huts in the war zone acting as Y. M. C. A. secretaries doing their "bit" for the soldiers. You will find them in dugouts with German shells flying over their heads. Wherever the soldier is sent there the red triangle is established to give him a place to go where he can get some little touch of home.

Over in the blood-red trenches in Europe you will find men to testify to the work of the Y. M. C. A. work. Here in the prisoner-of-war camps you will find men who heart to heart and shoulder to shoulder have been going through hardships of the infidelities of the association. Whenever there is misery and distress, where evil men are fighting or training you will find red-blooded Y. M. C. A. secretaries to serve them.

"To carry on this work which all for the enlisted men, for sum of $35,000,000 is asked by the American Y. M. C. A. No one knows how much their boy will need the services of the Y. M. C. A. When he does this appeal becomes a personal matter. Respond to it at once. If it doesn't reach your boy, it reaches your neighbor's boy.

NEW DRAFT RULES READY FOR ISSUE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Copies of the new army draft regulations came off the press today for a final reading preparatory to mailing to the local exemption boards throughout the country next week.

Under the new plan the burden of supplying information which will result in its being placed in its proper classification under the selective service law rests squarely upon the individual registrant. All instructions now in the hands of the boards will be annulled upon the receipt of the new regulations, which are greatly reduced in extent and simplified in process.

Included in the new book is everything bearing on the draft processes as now organized, from the time the questionnaire is to be sent to each registrant and filled out and returned to the boards, until accepted men are actually in the military service. Each book carries a copy of the statutes and also a verified copy of the master list of the drawing.

The questionnaire is the basis of the plan of grouping registrants in five classes, liable for duty by classes. The boards will be able to directly a man immediately when his questionnaire has been received.

The questionnaire process will eliminate from consideration for military service probably 30 per cent of the men who would have been discharged or rejected under the old plan. Under the first call the average board was compelled to examine for every 10 men one fit for service. In some cases not more than one out of 10 or 12 was sent to the camps.

It is expected that under the new scheme the average figures will be reversed and at most not more than one man in five called will fail to pass his physical examination and be rejected.
