You Can Make No Mistake In Selecting Your Jewelry Here

Charm in design, delicacy in workmanship, enduring qualities—these are the things we have achieved in our labors with gold, silver and precious stones. Our materials and our gems are carefully selected from the best markets of the entire world. We offer you here nothing that is not of known sound value—nothing but what we know you will be glad you have bought.

This is best shown by our recommendation of W-W-R Rings. We chose these rings only after we had satisfied ourselves that they were in strict accord with our policy of offering our patrons only merchandise that was the utmost in quality, design and workmanship.

Each one of these rings is of great beauty and artistic merit, yet inexpensive. You can find among them rings suitable for the most important gifts, or for personal use which will not tax your purse.

These rings are unique in that each one carries with it an absolute guarantee against loss or cracking of the setting.
