"This, of all years, is the year for photographs—the gifts that convey the thought of friendship without imposing an obligation. They are in harmony with present ideas for they will help, without extravagance, to maintain our cheery Christmas customs. More than ever they will be found in the Christmas morning package—and for that friend of yours who is sure to receive them, there can be no more fitting gift than a portrait.

CITY DADS HOLD BUSINESS SESSION

City Attorney to Fight Damage Case Filed Against City Chief of Police.

NO LOADS OVER 10 TON

Ordinance Drafted to This Effect But Not Submitted For Approval—Matter Will Come Up At Next Meeting.

The common council of the city of Roseburg met in regular session last night. Mayor Rice called the meeting to order promptly at 7:30 o'clock and Councilmen Kidd, Gile, Powell, McClintock, Bullwinkle, Creason and Nichols answered roll call. City Recorder Whipple read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were duly approved.

The petition of Vernon Hinsdale, a local jitney driver, asking that the motor bus license made out to Ray Shields be transferred to his name was read and upon motion of Councilman McClintock and seconded by Creason, the bond was approved and the petition allowed.

Chairman Powell, of a special committee, produced a letter from Frank Micelli, a former resident of this city, regarding default payments on the city lien docket. It seems that Mr. Micelli has allowed property in this city to run delinquent and when notified of the fact, immediately communicated with the city officials to ask an extension of time. The matter received due consideration and while no official order was made, it was thought advisable to grant Mr. Micelli a few months time in which to liquidate the discrepancy.

A letter was read from W. W. Cardwell notifying the city council that he had again been assessed for three hundred feet of paving on North Jackson street, erroneously. Mr. Cardwell, stated in his letter that he had paid taxes on this particular street twice before, not noticing the mistake and now asks the council to credit these payments to his assessment on Winchester street. The matter was referred to the city recorder with the request that he examine the records and report his findings at the next regular meeting of the council.

A letter from M. A. Sligh, of Nuggett, Ore., setting forth the fact that he had been assessed for a sewer on Prospect street that his property could not be connected thereto, owing to the fact that the sewer in question is higher than his house. In Mr. Sligh's opinion Emery Masters, from whom he purchased the property, should pay the assessments. The council holds that if the remittance had been received before the property was bonded, some action could have been made, but now it is too late and the city can do nothing to settle the matter.

A letter from the public service commission setting forth the fact that the Oregon Gas & Electric Co. had petitioned that body to raise the price of gas was read. The company gave numerous reasons why the prices should be advanced. The increase asked for will amount to about 10 per cent over the former price. The matter has been set for formal hearing at which time the council will be notified of the fact and remonstrances, if any, will be received.

Richard Willett, who resides near the new high school building notified the council that poplar trees growing in that locality were constant menaces to the sewer running along that street and he asked that some action be taken to cause their removal. The city recorder was instructed to take the matter up with the school board.

City Attorney Carl Wimberly in rendering an opinion regarding lien taxes, which was up for discussion last meeting, stated that as far as he was able to find out, general taxes were superior to assessment liens. The attorney further advised that sums received from this source ought to be placed in the city lien docket, setting out the amount received, date, payment, description of property, etc. This question arose some time ago when it became known that the city in all probability would be forced to take over abandoned property in payment of delinquent taxes thereon and it is found that if the city does not keep up the taxes on this property that they will be forced to pay the penalties incurred when it is taken over. It was pointed out that the city would only be paying two thirds of the full amount of taxes owing to the fact that the residue is city tax. no action was taken on the matter.

The Coshow-Williams controversy was discussed at some length. It will be remembered that Mrs. Co-show has filed suit for damages against T. J. Williams, chief of police, ignoring his official capacity when he tore down a fence that the city holds was erected on city property. It was unanimously decided to instruct City Attorney Wimberly to defend the action against Mr. Williams and that the city stand the expense of the trial.

An ordinance has been drafted by the city attorney, which will be submitted for the approval of the council at the next meeting and if satisfactory no loads will be hauled over the city streets exceeding 10,000 pounds, including the weight of the vehicle. Eight hundred pounds to the inch in width for rubber tired vehicles and 600 pounds in width of metal tires is the limit of loads to be hauled over the pavements. This ordinance in all probability will be accepted at the next assemblage of the council body.

The city has no dog pound and as the law sets forth that such an institution should be maintained, an order was made instructing City Recorder Whipple to draft resolutions fixing a place in the city barn lot for this purpose.

A. M. Oeland, superintendent of the street cleaning department bought a "camouflaged" horse, or in other words an antiquated "hat rack" for which he squandered one whole dollar. Now the question arises what disposition is to be made of the disparaged animal. Chief of Police T. J. Williams contends that his hide is valued at $3.00 and that some unsuspecting junk man might pay that price for this part of Dobbin's anatomy. However, that would be cruel. The mayor issued orders to the official to get rid of the archaic specimen just as soon as possible. "That will be today," said Mr. Rice.

The being no further business to come before the body the meeting adjourned.
