RIISING STAR HOME-COMING THIS EVENING

The annual roll-call and homecoming of Rising Star lodge, No. 174, I. O. O. F., will occur this evening in the Odd Fellows' temple. Rising Star lodge was instituted December 19, 1901, and for the past several years it has been the custom of the lodge to hold an annual homecoming on the meeting night nearest the date of its anniversary, at which time an interesting program is featured, letters are read from absent brothers, and the evening is closed with "good eats" and a general good time.

For this evening the program committee, composed of D. C. Humphrey, Foster Butner, and Percy Webb, announce an excellent program has been arranged during which will be featured an address by Hon. O. P. Coshov, one of the old-time members of the lodge, who will speak on the subject of food conservation and the duty of Odd Fellows in assisting the United States in these strenuous war times. The "makings" of an excellent "Hooverized" supper have been purchased, and the committee, composed of R. L. Russell, I. Harroldson and Arthur Long, will begin early this evening to arrange for the reception of the large crowd which is expected to be in attendance. The supper has been so arranged that it will not violate the food administration's rules in regard to conservation, but everyone is assured that there will be plenty for all. It will be a great time and every Odd Fellow should avail himself of this opportunity to benefit—fraternally, intellectually, and "physically"—from the "feed."

EXTRA ATTRACTION AT ANTLERS THEATRE

As an extra attraction at the Antlers theatre tonight the management will offer Alaska Jack, famous government guide and scout, in person, and three reels of big game hunting in Alaska, upon which this well known character of the frozen north will lecture.

For many years Alaska Jack was in the service of Uncle Sam, acting in the capacity of guide in the arctic regions and has traversed during his sensational career practically every known foot of the territory. In the realm of the Sourdough the reputation of Alaska Jack is an enviable one and these are perhaps not a dozen of the old time Alaskans who are not familiar with at least one or more of the usual adventures that has fallen to his lot during the discharge of his duties.

In his lecture on the three reels of moving pictures Alaska Jack explains "his country" as he fondly terms any and all parts of Alaska in the language that can be understood, eschewing any attempts at forensic supremacy but telling in a thoroughly comprehensive entertaining and educational manner his story as only a true lover of nature can tell it. There will be no extra charge for this added attraction.

ALLEGING NO FUNDS MAN SOLICITS AID

James Swarthouse, a familiar figure about the streets of the city, widely known for his stentorian voice and peculiarity of speech, appeared before the county court this morning seeking assistance in the form of a loan with which to purchase the necessities of life until such a time as his pension would arrive. The aged veteran explained to the officials that he was unable to get credit at local establishments, for various reasons, best known to the dealers, and therefore was forced to solicit financial aid.

The man is decidedly deaf and when asked by Commissioner Nichols, who raised his voice considerably to make himself understood, whether or not the pension allowance of $20 was sufficient for his needs Mr. Swarthouse acquiesced in the affirmative and added much to the amusement of others present, "It has to keep me, but it won't keep you." Mr. Nichols laughingly admitted that $20 would fall a little short of meeting his monthly obligations and it was decided to allow the elderly gentleman the sum of $5 to tide him over until the pension arrived. However, it was some time before the court could convey this information and several notes were written by Judge Marsters. These were eagerly scanned in turn and when the significant sum of $5.00 loomed up before his vision the shock was too great and the petitioner decided that if he could not talk the court out of more filthy lucre than that he would not accept any and Mr. Swarthouse expressed himself along these lines and left the portals of the law chamber registering disgust.

JUDGE HAMILTON OPENS COURT TODAY

The case of L. E. Edwards, et al., co-partners as L. E. Edwards & Co., vs. Sam Jones, defendants, a suit in equity, came up before Judge Hamilton this morning for disposition. Attorney Charles F. Hopkins, appears for the plaintiff while Attorney Rice, of the law firm of Rice & Orcutt, is conducting the defense. The suit arose over a specific performance of contract wherein the payment of taxes on certain described property is involved. Late this afternoon the case had not reached a decision.

The next case on the court docket is the action of S. C. Bruce and Kate Doss vs. C. F. Watson, Douglas county, R. W. Marsters, county judge, B. F. Nichols and W. E. St. John, county commissioners, constituting the county court of said county. The plaintiffs seek an injunction from opening a road which was viewed out and located about three and one half years ago on account of irregularities thereof. The plaintiffs further allege that the county surveyor did not use the correct beginning point. District Attorney Neuner, who is looking after the county's interest filed a demurrer setting forth that the complaint submitted by the plaintiffs does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action against the county and this is the issue that will be argued before the court late this afternoon or tomorrow morning. Attorney B. L. Eddy appears as counsel for the plaintiffs.

INITIAL MEETING HELD BY EXEMPTION BOARD

The Douglas county exemption board, consisting of Sheriff George Quine, chairman; Ed Lenox, county clerk; Dr. B. B. Stewart, and District Attorney George Neuner, legal advisor, held its initial meeting at the sheriff's office today for the purpose of outlining the work of classification. Very few questionnaires have been returned so far. However, many are coming in today and it seems that the local board will be kept busy once the classification work starts in earnest.

No information is available as to what quota Douglas county will be expected to furnish. Should the military officials see fit to call for an army of 650,000 men, we will have to furnish approximately 200 recruits. However it has been rumored that a much larger army than that included in the first draft will be raised within the next few months, and if such is the case Douglas county's quota will be increased proportionately. It is estimated that 500 registrants in this county will fall under class one and in view of this fact a call for three million be made, class one would be exhausted in filling our quota and men from class two would necessarily be forced to serve, providing, of course, they were not barred by physical defects.

SPRAY PLANT PLANS BEING DISCUSSED

The residents of Garden Valley held a second meeting this afternoon at the home of James Pearson at Garden Valley for the purpose of further discussing plans for the building of a spray plant. Dr. Hector McPherson, of Corvallis, who spent Thursday in this city has suggested a number of plans which will probably be carried out by the Fancy Fruit Association. A large number of residents are becoming interested in this work and it is expected that a great deal will be accomplished during the coming months.

ALL PHONOGRAPHS IN ONE

A Music Lover's Discovery
New Delights

A well-known musician entered a well-known phonograph shop yesterday. He had heard of The Brunswick.

"Is it possible," he asked, "that you have the phonograph I've always wished for? One that plays all records?"

Then his favorite records were played—some of the well-known makes. He asked for different artists—all were available.

"This is marvelous!" he said. "No longer will I be limited to one line of records, but I can hear all my favorites. And the tone—it is far better. The Brunswick is a triumph!"

This is not an unusual incident. Nearly every visitor expresses the same delight.

Can you afford to overlook this great sensation in your selection of a phonograph?
