Numerous complaints have come to The News today regarding the failure of soldiers at different forts and other sections where they are stationed from parents who are unable to get mail to their sons properly delivered. Mrs. J. B. King gave a very delightful surprise dinner party at her home on South Main street Sunday, January 20, in honor of her husband's birthday. The surprise was carried to success by Mr. Robert Kidd calling for Mr. King and asking him out for a little ride, and when the gentlemen returned at four o'clock the dinner was all ready and the guests there. To say that Mr. King was surprised is putting it mildly. He was dumfounded, and his astonishment proved how well Mrs. King's plans had worked. After the dinner, which was fit for a king, the entire party visited the Antlers, where the play was greatly enjoyed, and then all returned to the King home and spent the remainder of the evening in playing "rook" and in jolly social

Oakland high school and the local high school girls' and boys' basketball teams met on the R. H. The girls' game was especially keen, the Oakland aggregation winning by a small majority, the score being 17 to 15. In the boys game the local team won with ease the score being 54 to 24. However, a great deal of enthusiasm prevailed and the large crowd present were kept in the jolly humor throughout the match.
