L. J. SIMPSON TO SEEK NOMINATION

North Bend Lumberman and Capitalist Announces Candidacy For Governor.

STATES HIS PLATFORM

Is Republican, But First of All, an American—Wants to Meet Voters Personally—Believes in Economy, Law Enforcement.

NORTH BEND, Ore., Feb. 21.—In announcing his candidacy for republican nomination for governor of Oregon, L. J. Simpson, who has assisted materially in the development of Coos Bay lumbering industries, states his platform, which is part as follows:

"I am a republican, but above everything I am an American and believe in the principles of my country. I am not a member of, nor affiliated with, any particular faction or part of the republican party; nor am I pledged to support any of the candidates for office at the coming primary election. I pledge the people of Oregon, that, in conducting my campaign I will not support any particular candidate for office in preference to the other candidate for the same office; that I will not promise appointment to office or political patronage to anyone; that if nominated and elected I shall enter office with neither promise nor pledge to redeem, except those which I give to the people themselves.

"I shall, as far as possible, make a personal campaign, with the object of meeting as many individuals as time will permit, and shall endeavor to establish and maintain a close personal relationship with the people of the state, so that I may be better known and understand their needs and requirements.

"The entire wealth and all of the resources of the state have been placed at the disposal of the government, and if nominated and elected, I shall accord the nation and the administration that full and complete measure of support and assistance which its patriotic citizenship has already exacted.

"The people of Oregon have placed upon the statute books certain laws which, if nominated and elected, I shall, with all the power and authority of the office of governor, rigidly and uncompromisingly enforce.

"I favor the establishment of a national, universal eight hour day for all classes of labor except for agriculture, the very nature of which, makes it impossible to restrict the working hours to any set number.

"I am firmly convinced that the progress, prosperity and development of Oregon demands that all lines of business, with due consideration for the absolute necessity of practicing most rigid economy, be maintained as nearly normal as war conditions will permit.

"I favor the comprehensive improvement and construction of roads, particularly the main or trunk highways, which are of themselves military necessities.

"If nominated and elected, I shall encourage and support such legislation as may be necessary for the establishment of nation-wide prohibition and the permanent adoption of equal suffrage in the state and nation."

L. J. Simpson was born September 1, 1877, at Oakland, Calif., and is the son of the late Capt. A. M. Simpson, the pioneer lumberman. The fact that his father was a big operator on the coast gave him the advantage of learning the lumber business, but he did not learn it without real work and hard knocks. Mr. Simpson attended the public schools of Oakland, graduated from Mt. Tamalpais military academy and entered the University of California, but did not finish the course there, leaving school to take up work for the Simpson Lumber Company when he was 19 years of age.

SURPRISE PARTY HONORING MRS. MATHEWS

A pleasant surprise party was tendered Mrs. Mary Mathews on Tuesday afternoon by a number of friends who gathered at her residence and made merry the hours with knitting and interesting social converse. At an appropriate moment light refreshments were served and all, including the delighted and surprised guest of honor declared the event to have been most charming. Those present included Mrs. Emma Faulkner, Mrs. Mary Patterson, Mrs. William Burke, Mrs. L. Bates, Mrs. Ella Craigie, Mrs. E. McClung, Mrs. Ella Patterson, Mrs. John Freeman, Mrs. H. Schonfeld and Mrs. L. H. French.

Sand Bad in Oklahoma. Jack Luckey yesterday received a letter from "Bud" Stephenson, formerly employed by the Obak Amusement Company, stating that he is now at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. There is no town within 20 miles, he writes, and the sand is so bad that the regulation shoes have been taken away from the men and trench shoes given them. Stephenson is a private in the quartermaster corps.—Eugene Guard.

HOAGLIN HEARD FROM.

Look close and you will see that Hoaglin is still on some of the maps. We had four inches of snow here last week. If the good giver doesn't give us an over dose like we had last winter we may pull through.

John Wright passed through Hoaglin from Illabe. We were glad to see his smiling face, as the telephone communication had been cut off for a week, and a little uneasiness was felt for the inhabitants of the Illabe country.

Hugh McDonald was seen passing through Hoaglin on his way to his homestead near Cougar Peak.

Steve Shellabargar returned to Burnt mountain today after spending Sunday visiting near Glide.

Hugh Fretwell has gone to Roseburg to spend a few days attending to business matters.

Mrs. E. Bradford is in Roseburg this week under the doctor's care.

Wild Bill, the Hoaglin postmaster, is looking as well as usual, and says he is still able to take his morning hay stack.

Three feet of snow is reported near the head of Susan creek, where Lorine Harvey is located.

Prospects for a good hay crop look much brighter in this part than they did this time last year.

We see Mr. Lilly, the road patrolman of Glide, in this part once in a while. We can see much change in the roads for the better on each visit. Come again. X

I Had an Aunt

Who often went "Sight seeing," but Who never "saw the sights." This statement may seem a paradox, And yet when I described To her the detailed magnificence Of an exquisite landscape She exclaimed in surprise that she Was unable to see this beauty. Her vision was impaired By a myopic condition which Is sometimes called "nearsightedness." And was easily corrected When we fitted her Eyes With the right kind of Glasses.

SECOND DRAFT CALL 100,000 MEN A MONTH

The provost marshal general's office, it is understood, is disinclined to go ahead with the second draft until congress has perfected the law by pending amendments to change the basis of apportionment and to authorize the president to call into the military service men skilled in industry and agriculture, regardless of previous classification.

The remaining increments of the first draft will begin to move forward to the camps beginning this week.

It is probable that next month the local boards may be asked to forward small increments necessary to replace men going overseas, but the expected summons of half a million will be later.

Plans for the second draft include calling 100,000 men a month until the second quota is complete. In that way officials expect to avoid much of the confusion which accompanied the first call.

It has been settled that the first contingents will be used to fill vacancies in national guard divisions caused by the withdrawal of men for the organization for special and technical units.
