THE BOYS WANT WITHYCOMBE.

Appeal comes from the Oregon boys in the trenches to retain Governor Withycombe. They want him because he has vigorously supported the government in every war measure. The boys "over there" are very anxious that the boys who follow them shall have the benefit of the support of Oregon's patriotic war governor.

The boys "somewhere in France" are right. They recognize Governor Withycombe as their staunch, tried and true friend who has proven his worth throughout his term of office.

In common with the people here at home the boys who are fighting in the front battle line believe it is unwise to swap horses in the middle of a stream. In this they are also right and the republican men and women of Oregon, at the primary next Friday, will, we believe, take that view.

Apart from his prompt and effective war service, Governor Withycombe's affirmation of civil affairs has been marked by good judgment and manifest desire to serve all sections of the state impartially. His administration has been conspicuously clean and honorable.—Portland Telegram.

RATHER UNEXPECTED.

The following is so unexpected it is reproduced. It comes from News Editor Carmody of the Liberty loan committee of California:

The third liberty loan is at an end. Newspapers would say in their shop language, "We've put it to bed." And this editorial is in appreciation of those modest unsung workers, who from day to day have played a mighty part in "putting the loan to bed"—those unthought, unthanked workers—the newspaper men.

We, of the liberty loan publicity department, have flooded the newspaper editors daily with "copy," editorials, feature stories, appeals to the newspaper reading Americans to help our country. We had no mercy on your editor although we kept, well caged, deep within our hearts, a deep sympathy for him. We knew he was carrying daily the troubles of the world on his shoulders. We knew that the space we asked in your newspaper for nothing was worth dollars—worth as much space in Heaven or a San Francisco apartment house.

Let it be said that the newspaper man has given—given of himself and his dearest possession, space. We have never thanked him from day to day. We were afraid to. But we do now—thank him with a full heart for we—all of us—have worked on a daily sheet somewhere, sometime and we know the sacrifice he has made in this third loan.

Remember he has received nothing for it—nothing save the knowledge that he was doing his best for his country and his unsung best is as good as General Pershing's best.

"Let us forget, lest we forget," the newspaper man.

STANFIELD'S NOMINATION PRACTICALLY CONCEDED

PORTLAND, May 10.—Conceding that he will carry Multnomah county by a substantial plurality, the politicians are now figuring on just how large the vote of R. N. Stanfield will be over the entire state. His nomination is practically conceded by all disinterested persons who have kept in touch with the political situation. In the first place he has remained aloof from the political intrigues, conducted his own campaign, stood strictly on his merits and made no combinations with any man or organization. He has gone out as an Oregon man, a self made man who has added wealth and prosperity to the State of Oregon and all the attempts to fastening the wool-profiteering business on him have failed. He stands today the biggest man in Oregon and there is no doubt of his nomination. After that it will be up to the democratic and republican parties to say whether or not he shall be elected. It is very probable that had not West endorsed McNary, Stanfield would have had a harder fight. As it is he is the only acknowledged one hundred per cent republican on the ticket and will get the vote accordingly.

THE BEAST OF BERLIN IS DEEPLY IMPRESSIVE

The photoplay, "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin," made a very strong impression on me when recently I saw it in Portland.

It has a far greater appeal than any other war picture I have ever seen. It portrays so vividly the ruthless ambition, the crafty and deceitful cunning, the insufferable arrogance, the utterly inhuman cruelty of the German government, that it leaves one praying that doom may speedily overtake its head and its supporters.

Their monstrous cruelty, even to their own people, is well shown when the return of the commander of the submarine after sinking the Lusitania is pictured. When he comes to his own pleasant home, the faces of drowning women and children rise up between him and his own loved ones. The vision finally drives him mad.

amous personages are shown true to life and the essential incidents are all historically correct. Many of them have occurred in reality thousands of times during this great war.

The scenes in the kaiser's palace graphically depict the actual nature of the man and the forces that seem determined to bring ruin to all the world.

Everyone, both young and old, should see this dramatic picture. It will send them to their homes resolved to do everything in their power to render the beast powerless.

Sale Continued Up to May 18

ON ACCOUNT OF OUR NEW LOCATION NOT BEING READY

We are compelled to delay our removal another week, and will continue our UNLOADING Sale until SATURDAY, MAY 18th, making another week of MIGHTY BARGAINS

So Think WHAT THIS Mighty Sale Means to Every Person and Family

EVERY intelligent man, woman and child knows of the tremendous advances in all lines of merchandise in the past few months, but few of them realize that the next few months will see still greater advances. The merchants are today facing the greatest crisis in their history. They are receiving notices of advances on almost every article in every mail. Merchandise is not only going sky high in price, it is scarcer and harder to get than ever before. Merchants are forced to raise the prices on everything in their stock not from choice, but from necessity. Therefore, when we tell you that we are actually selling merchandise in almost every instance for less than any merchant can buy the same goods for in the big eastern wholesale markets today, you should appreciate the importance of this sale. It is only a matter of a very short time until you will pay more than double what we are asking right now for new and up to date coats, suits and dresses, and never again during the war will you be able to get such beautiful all-wool materials. Remember, we are closing out all men's goods, and it is not only the duty of every man and woman to come to this sale, but that one would actually be committing a crime against himself and family by neglecting this wonderful opportunity to save.

FISHER'S DEPT. STORE ROSEBURG, OREGON

FORMER OREGON MAN'S DESCRIPTION OF BATTLE

A letter has been received from Rowley Critt, a young Englishman, says the Medford Sun, who made his home with Senator Von der Hellien at Wellen and later attended the agricultural college at Corvallis, and last year went across as lieutenant of artillery with the Canadian expeditionary force. The letter is dated from "France, January 15."

"So you want to know if I have been in a battle. I am in the Canadian corps and have been in several shows during the last year, and in the line constantly with the exception of about a month. I do my own censoring, but I cannot very well put in my own letters things which I would not allow to go through in another man's, can I? Still I suppose it won't hurt to talk in a general way about things well in the past. So here goes for a fairly typical show, which happened—somewhere—some time.

I got orders as F. O. O. at midnight—zero being about 6 a. m.—that meant a five-mile hike through the awful mud in the world through country one didn't know, to a place one never heard of, or which very few other people had ever heard of. Anyhow we got there about five next morning in time to stroll through a few hundred yards of Hoxa shrapnel barrage.

Zero; here, in a covey, outside a pill box, glasses to your eyes—crash, which does not stop, and she's off. The roll of the heavies, somewhat as the tempo of a large number of big drums—the drummers having gone back, then the sharper sound of the field guns—just solid sound. If you look back—it's just barely light. The horizon is simply one flickering flash—continues.

Finally you see a line of men—your own people on the crest in front. A line that sort of melts away occasionally and wavers backwards, and forwards—somewhat in front of it the inferno of your own rolling barrage—and all the time a crazed chatter of all the machine guns in the world. In this case the line was on the crest a damnably long time, but at last it disappears and after a long time the signals go up—objectives gained all along the line! Then you take a long drink. We started for home in the evening and for a solid hour and a half tramped unhappily through the damnest 11-E barrage I have ever bumped into. We hardly expected to get home—but we did. Then, a long, a very long Scotch, and a little, a very little, soda."

BOYS ARE ORDERED WRITE LETTERS HOME

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 9.—General John J. Pershing has issued the following order to all units of the American expeditionary forces in France:

"May 8. To All Commanding Officers:

"I wish every officer and soldier in the American expeditionary forces would write a letter home on 'Mother's Day.' This is a little thing for each one to do, but these letters will carry back our courage and our affection to the patriotic women whose love and prayers inspire us and cheer us on to victory.

A GREAT PATRIOTIC LECTURE

When the British navy made its famous raid recently on the German submarine bases at Zebruggo and Ostend the press of England and America said it was like Hobson's heroic sinking of the Merrimac at the mouth of Santiago harbor in 1898. See and hear Hobson himself.
