GOVERNMENT DEMANDS POTATOES AND BEANS

A telegram was received today by E. C. Benson from F. R. Deem, of the Bonquet Products Co., the cannery company coming to Roseburg, that they must have more acreage of potatoes as the government's demands are heavy. They also want beans and blackberries and all the loganberries there are. They are making arrangements in Portland for up-to-date machinery, the remodeling of the Churchill warehouse will begin in a day or two. Every case that has even a lot that is not working should by all means plant it for the cannery. The prices are good and it is a duty you owe the community to help establish this cannery in Roseburg. The surrounding country will be gone over again in the effort to increase the acreage. It must be done—see to it that you do your share.

58 MUSTERED IN AT RIDGEL.

Major F. W. Haynes, Judge R. W. Marsters, Nathan Fullerton and J. W. Perkins spent last evening at Ridgel, where they mustered in 58 citizens of that live community into the Oregon guard, which will be designated as company C, third separate battalion. Chas. F. Sowersby was elected captain, Ben Bullwinkle, first lieutenant, and Burdette Burnett, second lieutenant. The guard starts out with a most excellent membership, composed of live members.

HAS CLEVER WINDOW.

The Golden Rule store has on display one of the cleverest show windows ever seen in this city, in the interest of the Red Cross drive, and it has received much commendation from all who viewed it. The scene is pictured as "No Man's Land" and a placard urges all to subscribe to the Red Cross and help our boys "over there" get out of "No Man's Land" when wounded, and find the splendid Red Cross nurses and hospitals awaiting behind the lines. Other features are also used and the entire setting is a splendid inspiration to give and then give some more.

FREE WHEATLESS COOK BOOK.

The food administration is causing to be distributed a new wheatless cook book, in view of the food crisis and the great necessity for saving wheat. Roseburg families will receive the book this week. It should be carefully preserved and used as a means of helping in the great cause of winning the war.

The campaign for voluntary pledges restricting the use of wheat products to one-half pound per person per week is proving a great success. Upwards of 90 per cent of the housekeepers in Roseburg have already signed. The same pledge is being signed elsewhere in the county and throughout the state as well as in the other states of the union. The pledge is binding until the coming harvest. The committees which have made the canvass in Roseburg have found so little in the way of unpatrician attentances in this connection that their return is very gratifying. It is true that now and then there has been a jarring note. The few who have refused to sign may yet decide to do so.

B. L. EDDY, County Food Administrator.

TEN COYOTE PUPS.

A litter of 10 coyote puppies was brought to town this afternoon by Alva Bellows, and attracted an admiring and curious crowd of spectators. The little fellows are probably a couple of months old, and were captured in a burrow at the foot of an old tree on Dodson mountain by Mr. Bellows and Messrs. Harold Hurst and Cooper. The pups represent a bounty of $200, and will be killed in a few days. The old coyote was chased by the hounds for several hours, but succeeded in eluding the pack.
