KODAK PICTURES From Home

Officers in the trenches tell us that the biggest job the junior officer has, is looking out for the welfare of his men. When the regimental mail is distributed, the officers go around to the boys who don't receive letters and try to cheer them up.

No matter whether it's in the trenches, in camp, or on ship board, they need the courage that a letter will give them and nothing will be appreciated more than Kodak Pictures from home.

If you wish to send a present that will be appreciated send a Vest Pocket Autographic Kodak. So small that he can wear it; so photographically fit that good pictures follow as a matter of course.

We carry a complete line of Eastman Kodaks and Kodak Supplies.

MEETING OF FAIR BOARD THIS AFTERNOON

A meeting of the county fair board was held this afternoon for the purpose of arranging dates, etc., for the fair. While no date was set, it will probably be the first week in December, and will be held in the armory, with stock and machinery in adjacent barns. Dr. C. H. Bailey and D. N. Busenbark were appointed a committee to fix dates, and the meeting will be held in connection with the session of the State Horticultural Society, which has already voted Roseburg as the place for its convention.

Committee on finance is J. E. McClintock, A. J. Lilburn and Nathan Pullerton. It is expected to secure $1000 from the county court and $1800 from the state, so there will be plenty of funds for premiums. Admission to the fair may possibly be free. This detail will be arranged later.

Committee on premiums, is C. J. Hurd, D. J. Stewart, R. L. Whipple, Ed. Hinkle and Wm Kietzer.

SEEKING MEN WHO CLAIMED LOYALTY TO ANOTHER FLAG

State after state has taken up the search for "alien slackers" by public declarations of their defense councils. Illinois, Indiana and Michigan were the first, but as opportunity offers, other states including Wyoming, have taken up the matter, and labor unions and employers are prodding or encouraging men to volunteer for fighting under the flag they claimed as reason for exemption from Uncle Sam's draft.

The opening for recruiting for the Royal Flying Corps has brought to the various depots of the British Canadian Recruiting Mission men of Canadian or British citizenship who were disinclined to serve with British battle tanks or infantry.

Forestry railway construction, artillery, medical corps or inland water transport services. For all of these branches of service men are promised comfortable barracks with plenty to eat—no meatless or wheatless days. In every branch there are real opportunities to advance quickly. Canadian soldiers are paid $1.10 per day with $25 per month for dependent, and additional sums from Western Relief and American Red Cross.

There are the 30,000 men of British military age who were relieved by the exemption claims when the United States put into effect its draft," said Colonel John S. Dennis, second in command in the Mission in the United States. "There have been not more than 17,000 recruits from among the 300,000."

"The others, if they ever expect to claim the right to call themselves sons of Britain, must volunteer now to fight under the flag they claim or register a reason why they cannot."

CLEVER CROOK IN CUSTODY.

Cooper place, signed by Mrs. Cooper, and another contract he had professed to have made, both of which were simple forgeries carried out by his own hand.

The apprehension of this crook by the officers is most timely and the fact that it is proven he is no novice at his "profession," but a regular top-notch, is all the more reason that the officers feel gratified in bringing the individual to justice.

Among Shove's personal effects was his bank book which showed that he had done business with the Northwest National Bank at Portland, the account being carried both in his name and that of his wife. The book showed he had made several deposits for small sums, and quite recently had placed in the hands of the bank some $200, but this latter entry is believed to have been a forgery on the part of the depositor as the handwriting resembles that of Shove, and was evidently made in order to carry out the bluff that he had considerable money on deposit in the bank.

Sheriff Quine states that Shove has a wife at Portland, but he is of the opinion that the couple have separated. It is alleged that during the crook's short sojourn in this vicinity he made numerous overtures to several young ladies to take a voyage on the matrimonial sea.

Shove admitted before the officers and others that all the money found upon his person belonged to Mr. Weaver, accounting for the $17.50 missing as having been spent for jitney fare, the overalls and shirt, and his fare paid to Ashland.
