HUN GRAND FLEET TO SUPPORT LAND DRIVE

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Further evidence that Germany, in its efforts to end the war this summer, is planning to support its land offensive by sending its high seas forces against the combined British and American grand fleet is given in an official dispatch from Switzerland.

"A telegram of an official nature," says the dispatch, "is being spread broadcast in Germany, which says that the German admiralty is considering a big naval offensive. Orders are supposed to have been given to keep the whole fleet in readiness and a certain number of naval officers of high rank have been hurriedly recalled from Switzerland and other neutral countries where they have been spending their leave.

"The Kieler Zeitung speaks of extraordinary activity in the ports and the Hamburger Post publishes an interview with von Tirpitz, who was asked if Germany was in a position to measure her strength with the English fleet. The admiral naturally replied in the affirmative, saying that after their land forces have pushed the French and English back on the other side of Paris it would be the turn of the kaiser's boats to drive the English off the high seas." Both in Washington and in the allied capitals a German sea offensive on a grand scale long has been regarded as a possibility and the appearance of the Teutonic fleet in the North Sea at any time would not be unexpected. Rear Admiral Gleaves said in a public address not long ago that word had come to the British fleet that the Germans at last were ready for the supreme test.

If the battle does come American naval forces will play their part. American dreadnaughts under Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman joined the British fleet some time ago and Admiral Gleaves in his recent address said that when Admiral Beatty, commanding the British grand sea forces, heard that the Germans were coming he assigned the American ships a prominent place in the line.

In all allied quarters there is supreme confidence of the outcome. Officials are certain that the Germans will be decisively defeated.

SUGAR PURCHASES ARE LIMITED TO 2 POUNDS

Until further notice city residents may not purchase more than two pounds of sugar at a time, says the Oregonian.

No more drastic food regulation has been issued by the state food administration. The order was sent forth yesterday at command of the national food administrator.

Reference to the present big demand for sugar for canning purposes and an intimation that activities of the German submarines may have curtailed sugar receipts in this country are contained in the order of W. B. Ayer, federal food administrator for Oregon.

While no definite assurance is given that reduction of the sugar purchase limit from $1 worth—11 or 12 pounds—to two pounds will be only temporary, this is known to be the hope of the conservation officials.

Country residents have the limit of their sugar purchases at any one time set at five pounds. Per capita consumption regulations remain unchanged at three pounds a person a month.

HOME DEFENSE GUARDS HAVE LEGAL RATING

A circular from John M. Williams, acting adjutant-general of Oregon has been received in Roseburg setting forth the methods of organizing the state for home defense. Only two classes of bodies are recognized, companies of deputy sheriffs and state militia. The circular follows:

"Headquarters, Military Department, State of Oregon, Portland, Ore.

"The following is published for the information of all concerned:

"In the formation of organizations for the defense of the State of Oregon, during the present war, two plans have been adopted and organizations have been formed thereunder.

"At the commencement of hostilities it became necessary on account of the enemy's activity in this country to organize for the defense of home institutions and industries.

"1. As the sheriffs are the recognized civil guardians if the peace of the state and the most readily available, the plan was adopted of organizing companies in each county under the sheriff. The men were sworn in as deputy sheriffs and organized into companies with regular military formation for drill and training. These companies have in all cases been recognized by the counties and in many cases uniforms purchased for them by the county. Arms, so far as available have been issued to the sheriffs by the state under bond given by the county court for their use.

"2. In some instances sheriffs refused or neglected to organize for home defense, and it was then determined by the commander-in-chief to exercise the extraordinary power given him under the constitution and statutes to call into the service of the state a sufficient number of companies from the unorganized militia to insure protection to every part of the stae. The method of organizing these companies is fully set forth in circular No. 3.

"3. No other organizations are recognized by the state or will receive any support from the state.

"As the two classes of organizations above outlined have been organized under direction from the office of the adjutant general they are equally recognized as part of the home defenses and will equally receive all the support that the state can give them. It is therefore urgent thta wherever these separate organizations are thrown together there should be the closest co-operation and most complete harmony between them consistent with the military character of the militia companies.

"During these days of tremendous war all should co-operate for the purpose of the most complete efficiency to win the war. It is the 'Advocates of Frightfulness' that we should fight and not each other. Let us all get together and do our best to win the war insofar as the citizens of this state can assist in doing so.

"By direction of the commander-in-chief.

"JOHN M. WILLIAMS,
"Acting Adjutant General.

"Official: CECIL A. JAMES,
"Captain Q. M. Corps, Assistant to the Adjutant General."

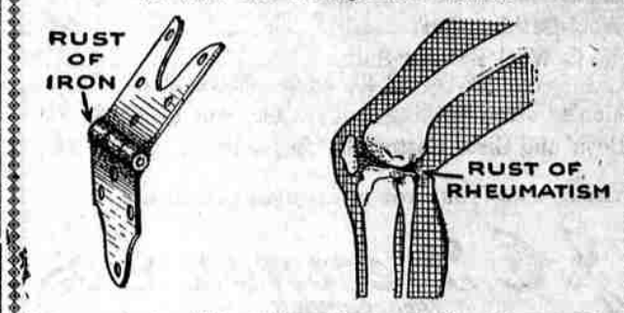
DRINK HOT WATER AND RID JOINTS OF RHEUMATIC RUST

Why rheumatism and lumbago sufferers should drink phosphated hot water each morning before breakfast



Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste material, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons, called uric acid, is formed and then sucked into the blood where it continues to circulate, collecting grain by grain in the joints of the body much like rust collects on the hinge as shown above.

Men and women who suffer from lumbago, rheumatism or sore, stiff, aching joints should begin drinking phosphated hot water, not as a means to magic relief from pain, but to prevent more uric acid forming in the system. Before eating breakfast each morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will first neutralize and then wash out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's accumulation of toxins and poisons; thus cleaning, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal, each morning, before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make any rheumatic or lumbago sufferer an enthusiast on the morning inside bath.

Millions of people keep their joints free from these rheumatic acids by practicing this daily internal sanitation. A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate, drank before breakfast, is wonderfully invigorating; besides, it is an excellent health measure because it cleanses the alimentary organs of all the waste, gases and sour fermentations, making one look and feel clean, sweet and fresh all day.

Those who try this for one week may find themselves free from sick headaches, constipation, bilious attacks, sallowness, nasty breath and stomach acidity.
