AMERICANS ARE WARNED.

Fresh warnings to Americans of the poison of German propaganda, and of dangers from the "Lepus of Fostand," together with complete five catalog of American pacifists "Blind Guide" organizations, are contained in a new patriotic appeal written by Dr. William T. Hornaday, of New York, entitled "Awake America," and published under the auspices of the American Defense Society.

Dr. Hornaday, who since the beginning of the European war, has been one of the leaders in the preparedness movement, in his present volume, pays particular attention to the dangers which may arise from what he calls misconceptions of the German character. Other topics dealt with in this volume are "The Dangers of an Inconclusive Peace," "After War Pacifism and Alien Socialism," "The German that we knew and admired so much and that many loved up to 1915, is dead and gone," according to Dr. Hornaday. "Already the civilized world has lost six millions of men and many billions of treasure, partly through its awful ignorance and misconceptions of Hun character and ambitions.

"Inasmuch as Germany now is the bitterest and most dangerous enemy that ever hated the United States, it becomes highly important that every American, regardless of sex, color, condition or servitude, should have an exact and luminous measure of that land and its people. The man who is ignorant of the mind and manners of his enemy thereby is at a great disadvantage and in the end his enemy will make him pay heavily for his ignorance.

"For forty years and more the Huns of Germany went masquerading under cloaks and dominos of "kultur" that deceived the whole world. They diligently exploited camouflages of German art, science, music and literature, successfully distracted attention from the gross and the material side of German character, and everywhere set up idols made in Germany with feet of clay.

"And the new Hun of Germany—what of him?"

"With his mask and his cloak now contemptuously thrown aside, his misshapen and ugly form now stands forth, a horrible surprise to the civilized world. His former friends and admirers, and many of his relatives, also, now regards this new gorilla with horror and aversion. His mental and his moral principles are even more warped and twisted than his physique—a combination of big body, small head and reptilian heart. Of moral principles, of bed-rock honor and gentlemanly ethics he has none. He even enjoys jabbing and pin-pricking the weak and the helpless, morning, noon and night; just as a cruel brute of a boy loves to torture kittens. If you doubt this read about the German occupation of Belgium and northern France.

The author of "Awake America" has given much time to the cause of national preparedness. He is a member of the executive committee of the American Defense Society, and has already published a little volume entitled "A Searchlight on Germany" which has reached an edition of several hundred thousand. His new volume is dedicated to the late Major Augustus Peabody Gardner, of Massachusetts, "the man who was awake in 1915 and 1916."

Uruguay's feelings are hurt because Germany considers her too little to fight. Never mind, should the time come when Germany is able to, she won't be too little to swallow up.

The Kaiser wants the Netherlands, but he doesn't like his Holland gin with so much water in it.

With T. R. anything big we do would be all right if we had only done it years ago.

Which of his six junker sons would the Kaiser select for king of Ireland?

Airplanes being the eyes of the army, it seems up to us to "mind our eye."

If you "give till it hurts" then you may be sure it helps.

Three cheers for Italy, our heroic ally.

COW CREEK GRANGERS ENJOY FINE MEETING

The Glendale Grange met in an all day session at its hall eight miles south of that place Saturday. There was a closed meeting in the morning, whereat grange matters were discussed. At noon there was a picnic dinner served in the grove at the Johns ranch, and then shortly after an open meeting occurred in the hall. The program was interesting and consisted of singing of America, by the audience. Dr. C. H. Bailey, state deputy, then gave a detailed account of the work accomplished by the State Grange convention recently held at Salem. Recitation by Miss Beth Eakin. This was followed by an interesting talk on the subject of cement silos by County Agent C. J. Hurd. Recitation by Miss Julia Eakin. Song, "The Star Spangled Banner," in which the audience participated. Reading, "Value of Dairy Cows," Oscar Bitner; recitation, Miss Elsie Eakin.

There were about 75 present at the meeting, and during the day the proposition of organized effort of the Grange to have all the cows in the valley tested for tuberculosis was discussed. It appeared to be the general opinion that the work should be done. C. J. Hurd was authorized to take up the matter with veterinary surgeons of the county. A total of 62 cows were guaranteed for testing by those attending the session.

BURTON HUTTON WINS TRIP TO CORVALLIS

Burton Hutton, a Garden Valley boy who has been very active in farm enterprises for the past two years, has just gone to Corvallis for the second time, where he is a guest of the state, and will be given further instructions in conservation methods. Last year young Hutton won a trip to Corvallis by securing first prize in a pig contest, and this year he won out along home and farm handicraft work. In addition to this enterprise Jersey Durocs, and expects to show Garden Valley club one year, and give a great deal of his time to assisting others in their industrial club work. This year he is devoting a great deal of attention to hops, and has for foundation stock, pure bred Jersey Durocs, and expects to show some fine pigs this fall. The Hutton farm is about nine miles from Roseburg, and is located near the river in the Garden Valley section.

FIGHTING THE HUNS.

By planting tomatoes for the Roseburg Cannery you are performing a patriotic duty. The government commandeers 25 per cent of all tomatoes and beans canned and most all blackberries.

Plenty of time to plant beans. Plant Kentucky Wonders among your corn, using corn for poles, and get a double crop.

We must have more tomato acreage at once. We can furnish plants, also bean seed. You can pay for seed and plants by bringing produce to cannery. Write, telephone or see me at once.

W. C. T. U. MEETING AT LOOKING GLASS

A Silver Medal Contest and Other Features Make Splendid Program.

A. C. MARSTERS SPEAKER

Master Elmer Swan Winner in Medal Contest—Music is Especially Enjoyed—Ice Cream Social Financial Success.

One of the best patriotic temperance meetings to be held in Douglas county was the one at Looking Glass Saturday night, under the auspices of the Looking Glass W. C. T. U., of which Mrs. W. G. Rochester, of that place is president. The exercises were held in the church and the platform was beautifully decorated with American flags and flowers.

A very large crowd was present, and splendid attention was given to each number during the evening. A feature of the program was a boys' silver medal contest, in which three Looking Glass boys competed for a W. C. T. U. silver medal, the successful boy being Master Elmer Swan. Both of the other contestants, Master Irvin Green, and Master Arnold Rodley are worthy of special mention, as both did well.

The program opened with the singing of America, by the audience, which was followed by the invocation of Mrs. A. C. Marsters, county president of the W. C. T. U.

Ruluff Patterson, of this city, then sang, "The Land of the Long Ago," and responded to an encore. Miss Ethel Watson, of this city, accompanied Mrs. Patterson at the organ. Mr. Patterson was followed by the first two contestants of the evening, Miss Gladys Kester, of Roseburg, sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and responded to an encore. Miss Kester was accompanied by Miss Watson. Following this number the last contestant of the evening gave his reading.

Hon. A. C. Marsters was the speaker of the evening and gave a masterful address on the subject of nationwide prohibition. Mr. Marsters, in his logical manner, showed the benefits to be derived from prohibition at any time, and especially at this time, when our nation is plunged in the greatest war ever known. He spoke of food conservation also, the willingness of the people to conform to the rules of the food administration, but that it is unfair that hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain should be used for the manufacture of alcohol, at a time when it is so much needed by our boys and the allies "over there."

The speaker stated that the United States, the most enlightened nation of the world, was the only nation now at war that had not discontinued the use of alcohol at this time, stating that all had decreased the use of liquor very materially while the heads of some of the nations had forbidden its use entirely. Mr. Marsters closed his splendid address by an eloquent appeal to the people to stand back of the bill now pending in congress for national prohibition until after the war. This the speaker urged as a patriotic duty we owe to our country, and from the rousing cheer at the close of his address, it was evident that the audience agreed with the speaker.

Following the address, Lyman Spencer, of this city, sang, "We're Here, Lafayette, We're Here," and responded to an encore. Mrs. Elizabeth Eldridge Heinline, of Roseburg, accompanied Mr. Spencer, at the organ. All of the singers delighted their hearers, and the applause given them was enthusiastic.

The judges of the medal contest were Miss Ella Welch, principal of the Agate, Jackson county, school for the ensuing year, Mrs. A. C. Marsters, and Mrs. C. S. Heinline.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Heinline, in a short but very impressive presentation speech, presented the medal to the winner, Mrs. Marsters then asked for a vote of those present in favor of writing or telegraphing our representatives in congress, asking their support of the prohibition bill, and the vote was almost unanimous in favor of doing so.

At the request of Mrs. Rochester, all those who had assisted in the program were thanked for their assistance.

Ice cream and cake were then sold by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. The proceeds to be used for the purpose of purchasing bibles for the soldier boys, and as usual the people of Looking Glass responded to a worthy cause, the proceeds of the sale being more than $20.

Those who attended the exercises from Roseburg were Hon. and Mrs. A. C. Marsters, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Spencer, Mrs. C. S. Heinline, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Watson, J. F. Kester, James Marsters, Miss Ethel Watson, Miss Gladys Kester, Miss Myth Henderson, Ruluff Patterson and Ray Henderson.
