"WHEN YOUR KIDNEYS FEEL LIKE LUMPS OF LEAD"

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

GERMAN SCHEMES FOR ALSACE AND LORRAINE

(By Associated Press.)

FRENCH FRONT, June 21.—In nearly every newspaper printed in Germany at the present moment there is presented some kind of a scheme for the solution of the question of Alsace-Lorraine. What the Germans cannot understand is the fact virtually every real Alsatian and Lorrain rejects in totality any scheme for joining his native land either to the German Empire or any of its component federal states.

The latest method of disposing of the two provinces discussed in the German imperial parliament proposes their division between Prussia and Bavaria, Lorraine to be taken by the former and Alsace by the latter. This proposition not only is rejected by the inhabitants of the provinces themselves, but has aroused protests from several of the German states, and especially from Wuerttemberg. Consequently for the time being it has been allowed to drop in favor of two other schemes, both unsatisfactory to some of the German parties.

The first of them looks to the formation of an independent state of Alsace-Lorraine under the rule of a duke, while the second formulates the foundation of a republic of Alsace-Lorraine attached to the German Empire. Both of them have been widely discussed but without bringing about any conclusion, and, should either of them be accepted by the Germans, it is believed the people of the two provinces would have nothing to do with it.

As the correspondent of the Associated Press has found in discussing the matter with Alsatians and Lorrains of all classes, the only desire of these people is to be remitted to France, with which they have remained, in spite of the German annexation, closely allied in all their ideas and in all their souls. They recall frequently in the course of their conversations the words uttered by President Wilson:

"The wrong caused by Prussia to France in 1871 must be redressed in order that peace may be established in the interest of all."

NOW ON A CASH BASIS.

In order to decrease the overhead expense, incident to our present system, so as to partially offset constantly increasing prices of labor and material, we have, after maturest consideration, deemed it advisable, and to the mutual interest of our customers and ourselves, to operate our parts and repair shop departments on a strictly cash basis.

This is in no way a reflection upon the credit of our various customers, but a method to keep prices down to even the present high level, and we sincerely bespeak your co-operation. We wish at this time to express our appreciation of the business with which you have favored us in the past, and to assure you of our earnest endeavor, under very trying labor conditions, to improve the service and efficiency of our organization.

GERMAN BIRTH RATE FALLING.

The first three years of war reduced by over two million the number of babies who would have been born in Germany had peace prevailed, says a report of the British local government board. Some 40 per cent fewer German babies were born in 1916 than in 1913. The infant death rate, which rose to an abnormal height for a time after the outbreak of the war, appears to have gradually returned to the pre-war rate. The food difficulties have not led to an excessive number of babies dying, at least up till the end of 1916. In the towns where the food shortage was most acute the death rate tended to fall.

SINGS OF THE RED CROSS NURSE.

(By E. K. Stedman in the Spokesman-Review.)

"Dear sis," he wrote, "I've got a hole, they've laid me up a spell, the Germans took a plug at me—this war spells death and hell. But, sis, don't worry over me, my wound is just a scratch. And sister, dear, the Red Cross nurse, there's none with her can match.

"She does a lot of gruesome work, but smiles and pulls it through. There's nothing for our comfort, sis, but what she's stanch to do. She's patient, brave and full of cheer, God guard those girls in white, she's stern and firm, but when she is, you know she's fighting right.

"Our fight was just a little dash, but big enough at that to send me here to get patched up. A bullet hit me 'spat,' it caught me in the shoulder, and I guess I swooned away. When I came to, sure she was there, 'twas just at dawn of day.

"She talked to me, how good she was, her words were cheer and joy. She said they'll never lay you out for you're my Yankee boy, and I have lots of other boys, they all are getting well, your wound is just a little scratch, then said her name was Nell.

"And then I dozed away again and had a bully snooze; when I awoke another nurse was bathing me with booze. At least it seemed to smell like that, she smiled and winked at me, say, sis, I'm getting well too fast, the Red Cross nurse—say, Gee!

"She's one grand glow of sunshine, of hope and joy and cheer, my wound at first seemed almost death, there's nothing now looks drear. That cross of red, the gown of white, the face with eyes true blue—please, sister, join the Red Cross band, help pull the sick ones through."

ITALY'S WOMAN LABOR HAS DOUBLED IN PRICE

(By Associated Press.)

ROME, June 21.—Woman's labor has doubled in price during the past six months, partly due to the employment given by the government to women in factories directed by the war department or manufacturing materials for it. In order to be sure of employment a woman or girl must have a husband, father, son or brother at the front. Their lowest pay is 7 lire per day, or 2 to 4 lire above man's wages paid before the war. Many earn double this sum by overtime. The wage is not now considered unusual because in the same factories skilled men workers earn as much as 100 lire per day, a sum once equivalent to $20 and before the war the average pay per month of a bookkeeper.

Women not working in such government supply factories have lately struck for fifty per cent increases in the dressmaking and clothing establishments, and obtained their demand, now receiving an average of 4 lire per day. Unskilled women and girls are also so highly paid on the farms that servants are difficult to find.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
