All members of the Honor Guard are asked to meet at the armory tomorrow evening at 5:30 to go to Alexander's park for a picnic. Everyone must bring their own lunch and prepare to enjoy a swim. A good time is assured all, so all members try and be present. Important business will be taken up at this time also.

Mrs. Mark Hanna and Mrs. P. Sinclair entertained the members of the Improvement club of Garden Valley at Mrs. Sinclair's home on Thursday afternoon. Owing to the absence of a quorum no business meeting was held and the afternoon was spent in doing needlework, Red Cross knitting and reading. Little Miss Georgine Sinclair helped contribute to the afternoon's pleasure with several piano selections and those present had a most enjoyable time. The next meeting place of the club will be announced at a later date.

An important real estate deal was consummated here today in which Jack Wilson, of Canyonville, disposed of his fine 200-acre farm to J. L. Hodges, of Edenbower. The amount involved in the transaction was not announced, but in the transaction Mr. Wilson acquires a highly improved ten-acre place just west of the Edenbower store about a quarter of a mile, and will probably move into the place about the first of October. Mr. Hodges will take possession of the farm, which lies on the north bank of the South Umpqua river, probably two and a half miles northwest of Canyonville on the main highway. The deal was made by Perrine & Walker.

NED WOODMAN, CARTOONIST AT CHAUTAUQUA

Prominent Contributor to Papers and Magazines on Summer Tour.

Ned Woodman first came into public prominence as a cartoonist through his many contributions to "Life," "Judge," "Chicago Inter-Ocean," "Chicago Record Herald" and other papers and magazines of national reputation. However, Ned Woodman was more than a cartoonist. He was a born lecturer, humorist and entertainer as well, and from the moment of his first appearance before Chautauqua audiences he was a decided "hit." Now he is one of the most sought-after men of the platform.

His ability to present the humor of every day events or of public incidents is remarkable, doing it all with freshness, vigor and a splendid touch of art. Not in any sense is Woodman a copyist; his pictures and speech are characterized by originality.

Miss Frances Paralow arrived in this city last evening from Eugene where she has been spending the past two weeks visiting with friends.

A Summer School of Patriotism

This Chautauqua program is built for national service. The government has recognized the great value of the Chautauqua in this war year and is sending lecturers to speak on vital war problems. Inspiring music is a war-time necessity and this musical program sounds a strong patriotic note throughout the week. There is splendid entertainment, also, to lighten and brighten war-worried minds.

Lincoln L. Wirt

Sent to the Western Front by the Government, Spring of 1918, to secure information on actual conditions in the war zone. Will bring Chautauqua audiences the last word from Pershing and the American section of the line.

U. S. Food Demonstration

A food demonstrator direct from Hoover's department. Bringing new methods of conserving food and practical government recipes as worked out by the Food Administration. Morning of the last day at Chautauqua. No admission charge.

26 BIG EVENTS 26

Thaviu's Exposition Band

The great Band which was honored with the opening and closing engagements at the San Francisco Exposition. Two big programs on the fifth day. These concerts will be worth more than the price of your season ticket.

Grand Opera Singers

Three grand opera soloists with voices of unusual power and brilliance will accompany the Band at night. These three artists are members of a prominent Chicago grand opera organization and will render a program long to be remembered.

Old Soldier Fiddlers

Rousing patriotic attraction for the opening night of Chautauqua. Four veterans of the Civil War bring old war-time tunes and camp-fire songs. Leadership of Col. John A. Pattee, 24th Regiment Michigan Volunteers.

Dr. C. J. Bushnell

Special accredited lecturer presenting war problems at home. Dr. Bushnell will be in constant touch with the Bureau of Information in Washington and will bring a message every person should hear.

An Evening in Hawaii

Illustrated travelogue, "Rambling Through Paradise" by Mildred Leo Clemens, cousin of Mark Twain. Showing motion pictures of Mt. Kilauea, Hawaii's active volcano. Accompanied by Royal Hawaiian Quintet in a concert of charming Hawaiian melodies.

Judge Rolland W. Baggott

Will give a graphic lecture of the Juvenile Court in action. Full of rare humor and touching pathos.
