GERMAN PRISONER OBEYED HIS ORDERS

The other day a typical German soldier, rather more than less intelligent in manner and appearance than the average, jumped into an American trench near Cantigny, says the Stars and Stripes in a recent issue. He had been part of a German patrol, and he had lost his way in the midnight darkness. He fell squarely into the welcoming arms of an American lieutenant who, as battalion scout, was waiting there for his own raiding party to return.

A little later the Yank was on his way to the rear, with his prisoner trotting silently in tow, when a German shell burst close beside them, seriously wounding the American and sending the boche scampering to cover. From this cover the latter emerged cautiously after a few moments, and, as the lieutenant called him, came trotting over.

The lieutenant spoke German. "I am wounded here in both legs," he said, "and there's a nasty wound in my arm. Will you get out your tourniquet and stop this bleeding, and then get out mine, and see what you can do with it?"

The German worked quickly and effectively at his task. Growing bolder, the lieutenant told him where he would find the P. C., explained that he could get litter bearers there, and asked him to take the call for help.

Off the prisoner went in the darkness, and the lieutenant, knowing that it would be only a matter of time for him to escape through the lines to his own territory, wondered what would become of the mission. He knew when, before the wait had become intolerably long, the litter boys appeared, explaining that the German had come back with them far enough to point out the place where the lieutenant lay. Then he had been shipped off to the rear.

The lieutenant was so grateful that he insisted feverishly on word being sent along the line that the prisoner should be treated with special consideration, and a message to this effect kept the wires busy for the next few moments between regimental, brigade and divisional headquarters.

Back at divisional headquarters the next day the prisoner was examined in the room they devote to that work—a shabby corner of a room, furnished with little beside a mattress on the floor and no end of maps on the wall.

After they had drained him dry of all the information he possessed about the disposition of troops behind the German front line, the officer conducting the inquiry brought up the story of the man's capture and the humane work he had done. It did not seem to be one of those cases of a spiritless boche passionately anxious to be captured.

"Why did you do it?" was the question. The German soldier opened his eyes in mild surprise. "Why," he replied, "I was ordered to."

DOUGLAS HAS RAISED 52 PER CENT W. S. S. QUOTA

The following letter, which is self-explanatory has been received at Red Cross headquarters:

We are pleased to advise you that during the past month there has been credited to the account of your county $122,920.99. This makes approximately 52 per cent of your quota. For your information we might add that cash sales for the state during the month of July were over $3,240,838.27 making the state fifty per cent of their quota of $17,244,780.

A continuation for the remainder of the year of the hearty support received from the county chairmen will place your county and Oregon well over the top. We believe that it is not necessary to emphasize the great lesson this campaign is teaching the people, in addition to supplying our government with the necessary funds to carry on the war. We will endeavor from now on to advise you each time there is an amount credited to your county.

ARGENTINA REPUBLIC LOANS FARMERS SEED

The Argentine government, through its two distributing commissions, one situated in Buenos Aires and the other at Rosario, has loaned farmers $13,860,000 worth of seed. The Central Argentine Railway will repeat last year's experiment of diffusing information through the communities bordering its lines, with a view of stimulating the production of wheat. For this purpose it has distributed widely a booklet containing instructions as to the best methods of cultivating the land.
