POEM READ AT SERVICE FLAG DEDICATION GLIDE

At the dedication exercises at Glide recently, when a service flag containing more stars than the service flag of any other community of a similar population, a poem which is so fitting at this time that The News reproduces it, was read by Mrs. Leslie Lilly:

Go, My Boy, Where Duty Calls.
Go, my boy, and heaven bless you!
I have read each precious line
Of your heart's responsive throbbing
To a higher call than mine.
God has spoken—you have heard Him.
And though tears these eyes bedim,
Your affection for your mother
Shall not mar your love for Him.

Could I bid you stay from fondness
When the ever ruling hand
Marks your path to duty clearly
For the safety of your land?
No! 'tis yours to be a patriot.
And 'tis mine to be as true:
Go, my boy, where duty calls you
And my heart shall follow you!

Go in faith and feel protection
In a power supreme, divine;
Should a bullet pierce your body
It will also enter mine,
Do I think of this in sorrow
Does my love and fears renew?
Do I tremble at the prospect?
No, my son, no more than you.

Dear to me is every pathway
Where your precious feet have trod;
But I give you fondly, freely,
To my country and my God.
You and I shall never falter
In the work we have to do;
Go, my boy, where duty calls you
Any my heart shall follow you.

I shall pray for you—how often—
With the waking hour of morn,
Through the labors of my household
And when night is coming on.
If a mother's prayer can keep you!
Mid the dangers you incur,
God will surely bring you back
Again to happiness and her.

I will never doubt the goodness
That has kept you until now,
That has kept the evil from your
Heart, the shadow from your brow,
And I know that it shall keep
You in the path you must pursue,
Go, my boy, where duty calls you
And my heart shall follow you.

If my boy were less a hero,
Less the man in thought and deed,
I had less to give my country
In her trying hour of need;
And I feel a pride in knowing
That to serve this cause divine
From the hearthstone goes no braver
Heart than that which goes from mine.

I have loved you from the hour
That my lips first pressed your brow
Ever tenderly but never
Quite as tenderly as now;
All I have in His who gave it,
Whatever He bids me do;
Go, my boy, where duty calls you
And my heart shall follow you.

I shall miss you in the springtime,
When the orchard is in bloom,
When the smiling face of nature
Bathes its beauty in perfume;
When the birds are sweetly singing
By the door and on the wings,
I shall think of you who always
Used to pause and hear them sing.

Long will seem the waning hours
Through the drowsy summer day
With my boy exposed to danger:
On a soil far, far away,
But my spirit shall not murmur,
Though a tear bedim my view;
Go, my boy, where duty calls you,
And my heart shall follow you.

You will come and see your mother—
Come and kiss her as you say;
From her lips receive the blessing
That shall cheer you on your way!
From her fond embrace go forward
To resist your country's foe
With the comforting assurance
That your mother bade you go.

Now may heaven protect and bless
you,
Holy angels guard your way,
Keep your spirit from temptation
And your feet from going astray
To your mother ever faithful,
To your country ever true,
Go, my boy, where duty calls you
And my heart shall follow you.

What The Packers Do For You

Not very many years ago in the history of the world, the man that lived in America had to hunt for his food, or go without.

Now he sits down at a table and decides what he wants to eat; or his wife calls up the market and has it sent home for him. And what he gets is incomparably better.

Everyone of us has some part in the vast human machine, called society, that makes all this convenience possible.

The packer's part is to prepare meat and get it to every part of the country sweet and fresh—to obtain it from the stock raiser, to dress it, cool it, ship it many miles in special refrigerator cars, keep it cool at distributing points, and get it into the consumer's hands—your hands—through retailers, all within about two weeks.

For this service—so perfect and effective that you are scarcely aware that anything is being done for you—you pay the packers an average profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound above actual cost on every pound of meat you eat.
