GERMAN PAPERS SHOULD GO.

It does not require much egotism to paraphrase the words of the Pari-see into "Lord, we thank Thee that thou hast not made us quite as big fools as some others are." Especially when one hears some of the reasons given for not approving of the sup-pression of the newspapers and mag-azines printed in the German lan-guage.

Quige frequently it has been stated that the German newspapers should be retained for what they can do in teaching patriotic principles to our American (?) citizens who only speak German; and this reason has been ndvanced by intelligent American men and women. That the principles of American patriotism can be taught by means of the German language is an reasonable to expect as that the principles of Christianity can be imparted through the agency of Satan. There is another reason popular among a certain lot of people when they want an excuse for their advocacy of the retention of the German newspapers. This has almost become a joke on account of its frequent use. It is that of the old German had whom the party knows—strange to says it is never an old man—who cannot read English and who should not be deprived of the great comfort her paper is to her.

These old Germon ladies have probably lived in this country formany years, and white probably worthy in other ways have yet ignored our existence in their national conceit and selfishness. They have, however, accepted all the benefits they could got from us, yet they never had the common decency to guage.

conceit and selfishness. They have, however, accepted all the benefits they could get from us, yet they never had the common decency to learn our language. Perhaps some were unable to do so, but inasmuch as they were able to read their papers in German it is hard to believe but that the majority could have learned English if they had been so inclined, for the tongue of the foreigned is very flexible, and language comes to him with an ease that we cannot realize. We believe that had there been an element of dollars and cents as an incentive that these old indies would have become expert in English, for the German nationality smells money from afar, as the camel scents water in the desert for miles away.

Surely in return for the little that the average foreigner brings of any value to this country we have at least the right to expect that he will learn to speak our language. Until he can do so there is not much to expect from him in the ability to assimilate any of our ideas or aspirations.

THE EVENING NEWS give, are, whether they realize it or sive, are, whether they realize it or not, virtually stabbing our boys in the back who are fighting our battles for us and risking their lives.

To permit without a protest the existence of a propagunda of which it is generally known that the German newspaper is one of the biggest and most pernicious agencies we have to contend against is to lengthen the war, and as a result increase the number of our boys who will not come back to us.

RULE WORKS WELL.

"Work or fight" regulations have been highly effective in directing la-bor from nonessentian to essential occupations, according to reports that have reached the department of

Draft board members also believe that the regulations have had the full result expected of them. The "work or fight" rule went into effect work or light rule went into effect July 1, and large numbers of store clerks, theatre ushers, bartenders, and waiters were confronted with the alternative of finding employ-ment in war work or being inducted ment in war work or deing induces into the army.

By October, it is expected, the full effect of the measure can be perceived, for by that time doubtful cases will have been cleared up and the omployment service will have had an opportunity to show what it can accomplish.

Many clerks and others who were Many clerks and others who were thrust out of their former jobs were really much pleased once they had adapted themselves to the situation, for they found larger pay awaiting them in their new work, and a con-sciousness that they were serving the nation directly proved an inspiration to service. to service.

nation directly proved an inspiration to service.

One problem was presented in the case of clerks, men who were skilled in stenography and typewriting. They had worked indoors for many years, and were not adapted to heavy work in the open. "They have been sitting at desks and are not overstrong," a dwaft official explained. "It is hard on get them work where they will carn anywhere near the same amount of money."

Another difficulty developed in some states through laws forbidding the employment of women in restaurants at night. Yet walters were ruled as holding nonproductive jobs, and the restaurant keepers said they were unable to find men above the draft age to do the work.

and the restaurant respectively were unable to find men above the draft age to do the work.

Men were given 30 days to find new Jobs, Those who falled to find them were allowed extensions of time, if it was shown that they had actually made a serious effort to obey the provisions of the regula-
