RUSSELL DUNHAM IS NOW IN PARIS

According to information received from a member of the October Replacement Draft, which left Fort Stevens, early in that month, a number of the Roseburg boys are still in France and have no knowledge of when they will return home. The writer, who is a Wisconsin man sent to Fort Stevens and who intends to return to the west as soon as he is discharged, mentions having seen Raymond, (Zeke) Delaney, of the 4th Company and also states that Sgt. Ray (Wick) Lahey, is attending an auto school near Angers. Capt. Russell Dunham, formerly a partner in the People's Supply Company, and Lieutenant 'Big Jim' Cosman of Eugene, who is well known in this city, both of whom went across with the October Draft, are in Paris and will probably be sent home soon.

REGULAR HELL MAKERS.

Eight months ago there landed in the United States a Russian by the name of Leon Greenvitch, direct from the hotbed of anarchy, deluged by the Bolsheviks to start something in the United States, says Otto A. Sawyer in the Seattle Produce News.

An electrician by trade, a hell-maker by profession, he chose the fair city of Seattle for destruction because there were others of his ilk already here preying upon a tolerant and long-suffering public for support and life.

Seeking employment in the shipyards, working under the cover of necessity in the building of ships for the carrying of men and supplies destined to free the downtrodden of the very countries from which he sprang, he spread his poisonous doctrine to the minds of sufficient of his ilk to draw into the maelstrom of strife men who were earning their living by heretofore honest vocations.

Today this creature, through the influence he has over his satellites, tells us what wheels shall turn, tells us our streets shall be dark, tells us that only our babes and invalids shall have milk, tells us our homes shall be cold for the want of fuel, and our stomachs empty for the want of food.

In this labor trouble we have no part, but in order to produce the Daily Produce News, the services of union men must be obtained. Some of these men have used the judgment and foresight to stay at their stations, but are unable to turn their hand because the machinery of production stands lifeless for the want of power, and their work cannot be done for the want of light.

This struggle, for it is a struggle, has a deeper significance than a fight within the ranks of organized labor, or a quarrel between organized labor and the public. The question for the public to settle is, will it submit to the bloodied hand of anarchy without a measuring of its strength, and for organized labor, will it stand complacent to have implanted upon its brow the traitorous kiss of Judas Iscariot, delivered by the arch-traitor, anarchy and sedition?

SCHOOLS VS. ANARCHY.

Bolshevism in Montana is to be dealt a death blow by the opening of day and night Americanization schools. The movement has begun in Butte, where I. W. W. propaganda has flourished for years among the foreign-born minors. It is estimated that more than half of Butte's present population is foreign-born. After taking out the English, Scotch, Irish, Canadians and other English-speaking groups, 29 per cent of the rest know practically nothing of the language, laws, customs of this country. I. W. W. agitators addressing them in their native tongues, have been able to work upon them simply because they were so ignorant of all things American and had no access to sources of honest information. The educational program is to be undertaken with the advice and assistance of prominent citizens of each nationality in question. Classes will be so conducted that the men may have continuous instruction whether they be on day or night shifts. There will be no compulsion about these schools. Those men who come to the first classes will be asked to bring a friend with them next time. If the work is done well, there will be no difficulty about filling the classes. It has been shown again and again that the foreigner responds eagerly to the right kind of instruction and is as a rule more eager to become Americanized than our own thoughtless citizens are to help him. If the war has taught us that we need to employ more enlightened methods to get results in this business of teaching the language to immigrants, it has done us one good turn at least.

With the greatest yield per acre of any county in the Northwest, in prune production, Douglas County ranks second in the total acreage and total yield for the State and third in the Northwest, according to a summary of the season as it has been compiled by county fruit inspector Penroy. The average per acre in Douglas County was 3000 pounds while Marion county, which holds the record in the station for production, has an average of only 2400 pounds per acre. Clarke County, Washington, holds the record for the largest yield with Marion County second and Douglas third. This county shipped 127 cars of dried prunes this year and for the first time in the history of the industry the product has been cleaned up by February. This is the first time for many years that the dealers have not had some small quantity left, but now the floors are cleaned and every car load is gone. Douglas county has 3000 acres of prunes in full bearing, 1000 non-bearing and the total yield for the season was 8,630,000 pounds. Marion County has 6000 acres in bearing,

Judging from the expressions of many people who are viewing the Seattle strike at long-distance range the Bolshevik element will have a hard time convincing the public that the "sympathetic" tendencies of the radicals has the right ring to it. You can't Russinize America through the channels of anarchy—or any other way. In the vernacular of the small boy, it can't be done.

America helped to win a big struggle where right against might was the two predominant features. True Americanism will prevail in the present crisis at our sister city to the north.

Public sentiment is more than half the battle. Those strikers at Seattle are lacking in this requisite, and cannot, therefore, be successful in their undertaking.

An increase in the number of tramps is reported. Probably escaping from places where they were insulted by others of work.

The Bolshevik sympathizers who favor anarchy, want the business of handling food to them to be very efficiently organized.

With the knitting for the soldiers about over, some of the popular men are in deadly peril of getting embroiled neckties.

A lot of people who were bitterly opposed to war profiteering think it is all wrong that they couldn't get any of the dough.

Labor can't come down because prices are so high, and prices can't come down because labor costs so much.

Some men feel that they worked very hard for the war, as their wives helped regularly at the Red Cross.

Well, here's hoping for an early spring so we can get some of that road money into circulation.

Down with the Bolshevik!
